

Living History of Illinois and Chicago®

Living History of Illinois and Chicago® – Facebook Group.

Digital Research Library of Illinois History®

Living History of Illinois Gazette - The Free Daily Illinois Newspaper.

Illinois History Store® – Vintage Illinois and Chicago logo products.

Commercial Travelers' Day, July 26, 1893 at the World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago

The organization of the “Associated Commercial Travelers of the United States” was represented by members from every State and Territory in the Union and from several foreign countries. The men came in a body from the city in the morning, and, escorted by the Iowa State band and the Exhibitors' Association, by whom they were especially entertained, marched to Festival Hall, where a general assemblage was held at eleven o'clock.

Festival Hall, World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago.

Major Joseph G. Pangborn, President of the Exhibitors' Association, presided, and Mayor Harrison made an address of welcome. President A. J. Dowd, of the Travelers' Association, responded. In the afternoon a parade line was formed and a tour of the buildings made. A special display of fireworks was given in the evening, the particular feature of which was a reproduction in fire of the Falls of Niagara, 350 feet long and 80 feet high. More than five thousand travelers were present.