HISTORY OF ILLINOIS.

The name of this beautiful Prairie State is derived from Illini, a Delaware word signifying Superior Men. It has a French termination, and is a symbol of how the two races—the French and the Indians—were intermixed during the early history of the country.

The appellation was no doubt well applied to the primitive inhabitants of the soil whose prowess in savage warfare long withstood the combined attacks of the fierce Iroquois on the one side, and the no less savage and relentless Sacs and Foxes on the other. The Illinois were once a powerful confederacy, occupying the most beautiful and fertile region in the great Valley of the Mississippi, which their enemies coveted and struggled long and hard to wrest from them. By the fortunes of war they were diminished in numbers, and finally destroyed. "Starved Rock," on the Illinois River, according to tradition, commemorates their last tragedy, where, it is said, the entire tribe starved rather than surrender.

EARLY DISCOVERIES.

The first European discoveries in Illinois date back over two hundred years. They are a part of that movement which, from the beginning to the middle of the seventeenth century, brought the French Canadian missionaries and fur traders into the Valley of the Mississippi, and which, at a later period, established the civil and ecclesiastical authority of France from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico, and from the foot-hills of the Alleghanies to the Rocky Mountains.

The great river of the West had been discovered by DeSoto, the Spanish conqueror of Florida, three quarters of a century before the French founded Quebec in 1608, but the Spanish left the country a wilderness, without further exploration or settlement within its borders, in which condition it remained until the Mississippi was discovered by the agents of the French Canadian government, Joliet and Marquette, in 1673. These renowned explorers were not the first white visitors to Illinois. In 1671—two years in advance of them—came Nicholas Perrot to Chicago. He had been sent by Talon as an agent of the Canadian government to call a great peace convention of Western Indians at Green Bay, preparatory to the movement for the discovery of the Mississippi. It was deemed a good stroke of policy to secure, as far as possible, the friendship and co-operation of the Indians, far and near, before venturing upon an enterprise which their hostility might render disastrous, and which their friendship and assistance would do so much to make successful; and to this end Perrot was sent to call together in council the tribes throughout the Northwest, and to promise them the commerce and protection of the French government. He accordingly arrived at Green Bay in 1671, and procuring an escort of Pottawattamies, proceeded in a bark canoe upon a visit to the Miamis, at Chicago. Perrot was therefore the first European to set foot upon the soil of Illinois.

Still there were others before Marquette. In 1672, the Jesuit missionaries, Fathers Claude Allouez and Claude Dablon, bore the standard of the Cross from their mission at Green Bay through western Wisconsin and northern Illinois, visiting the Foxes on Fox River, and the Masquettines and Kickapoos at the mouth of the Milwaukee. These missionaries penetrated on the route afterwards followed by Marquette as far as the Kickapoo village at the head of Lake Winnebago, where Marquette, in his journey, secured guides across the portage to the Wisconsin.

The oft-repeated story of Marquette and Joliet is well known. They were the agents employed by the Canadian government to discover the Mississippi. Marquette was a native of France, born in 1637, a Jesuit priest by education, and a man of simple faith and of great zeal and devotion in extending the Roman Catholic religion among the Indians. Arriving in Canada in 1666, he was sent as a missionary to the far Northwest, and, in 1668, founded a mission at Sault Ste. Marie. The following year he moved to La Pointe, in Lake Superior, where he instructed a branch of the Hurons till 1670, when he removed south, and founded the mission at St. Ignace, on the Straits of Mackinaw. Here he remained, devoting a portion of his time to the study of the Illinois language under a native teacher who had accompanied him to the mission from La Pointe, till he was joined by Joliet in the Spring of 1673. By the way of Green Bay and the Fox and Wisconsin Rivers, they entered the Mississippi, which they explored to the mouth of the Arkansas, and returned by the way of the Illinois and Chicago Rivers to Lake Michigan.

On his way up the Illinois, Marquette visited the great village of the Kaskaskias, near what is now Utica, in the county of LaSalle. The following year he returned and established among them the mission of the Immaculate Virgin Mary, which was the first Jesuit mission founded in Illinois and in the Mississippi Valley. The intervening winter he had spent in a hut which his companions erected on the Chicago River, a few leagues from its mouth. The founding of this mission was the last act of Marquette's life. He died in Michigan, on his way back to Green Bay, May 18, 1675.

FIRST FRENCH OCCUPATION.

The first French occupation of the territory now embraced in Illinois was effected by LaSalle in 1680, seven years after the time of Marquette and Joliet. LaSalle, having constructed a vessel, the "Griffin," above the falls of Niagara, which he sailed to Green Bay, and having passed thence in canoes to the mouth of the St. Joseph River, by which and the Kankakee he reached the Illinois, in January, 1680, erected Fort Crevecoeur, at the lower end of Peoria Lake, where the city of Peoria is now situated. The place where this ancient fort stood may still be seen just below the outlet of Peoria Lake. It was destined, however, to a temporary existence. From this point, LaSalle determined to descend the Mississippi to its mouth, but did not accomplish this purpose till two years later—in 1682. Returning to Fort Frontenac for the purpose of getting materials with which to rig his vessel, he left the fort in charge of Touti, his lieutenant, who during his absence was driven off by the Iroquois Indians. These savages had made a raid upon the settlement of the Illinois, and had left nothing in their track but ruin and desolation. Mr. Davidson, in his History of Illinois, gives the following graphic account of the picture that met the eyes of LaSalle and his companions on their return :

"At the great town of the Illinois they were appalled at the scene which opened to their view. No hunter appeared to break its death-like silence with a salutatory whoop of welcome. The plain on which the town had stood was now strewn with charred fragments of lodges, which had so recently swarmed with savage life and hilarity. To render more hideous the picture of desolation, large numbers of skulls had been placed on the upper extremities of lodge-poles which had escaped the devouring flames. In the midst of these horrors was the rude fort of the spoilers, rendered frightful by the same ghastly relics. A near approach showed that the graves had been robbed of their bodies, and swarms of buzzards were discovered glutting their loathsome stomachs on the reeking corruption. To complete the work of destruction, the growing corn of the village had been cut down and burned, while the pits containing the products of previous years, had been rifled and their contents scattered with wanton waste. It was evident the suspected blow of the Iroquois had fallen with relentless fury."

Touti had escaped LaSalle knew not whither. Passing down the lake in search of him and his men, LaSalle discovered that the fort had been destroyed, but the vessel which he had partly constructed was still on the stocks and but slightly injured. After further fruitless search, failing to find Touti, he fastened to a tree a painting representing himself and party sitting in a canoe and bearing a pipe of peace, and to the painting attached a letter addressed to Touti.

Touti had escaped, and, after untold privations, taken shelter among the Pottawattamies near Green Bay. These were friendly to the French. One of their old chiefs used to say, "There were but three great captains in the world, himself, Touti and LaSalle."

GENIUS OF LASALLE.

We must now return to LaSalle, whose exploits stand out in such bold relief. He was born in Rouen, France, in 1643. His father was wealthy, but he renounced his patrimony on entering a college of the Jesuits, from which he separated and came to Canada a poor man in 1666. The priests of St. Sulpice, among whom he had a brother, were then the proprietors of Montreal, the nucleus of which was a seminary or convent founded by that order. The Superior granted to LaSalle a large tract of land at LaChine, where he established himself in the fur trade. He was a man of daring genius, and outstripped all his competitors in exploits of travel and commerce with the Indians. In 1669, he visited the headquarters of the great Iroquois Confederacy, at Onondaga, in the heart of New York, and, obtaining guides, explored the Ohio River to the falls at Louisville.

In order to understand the genius of LaSalle, it must be remembered that for many years prior to his time the missionaries and traders were obliged to make their way to the Northwest by the Ottawa River (of Canada) on account of the fierce hostility of the Iroquois along the lower lakes and Niagara River, which entirely closed this latter route to the Upper Lakes. They carried on their commerce chiefly by canoes, paddling them through the Ottawa to Lake Nipissing, carrying them across the portage to French River, and descending that to Lake Huron. This being the route by which they reached the Northwest, accounts for the fact that all the earliest Jesuit missions were established in the neighborhood of the Upper Lakes. LaSalle conceived the grand idea of opening the route by Niagara River and the Lower Lakes to Canadian commerce by sail vessels, connecting it with the navigation of the Mississippi, and thus opening a magnificent water communication from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico. This truly grand and comprehensive purpose seems to have animated him in all his wonderful achievements and the matchless difficulties and hardships he surmounted. As the first step in the accomplishment of this object he established himself on Lake Ontario, and built and garrisoned Fort Frontenac, the site of the present city of Kingston, Canada. Here he obtained a grant of land from the French crown and a body of troops by which he beat back the invading Iroquois and cleared the passage to Niagara Falls. Having by this masterly stroke made it safe to attempt a hitherto untried expedition, his next step, as we have seen, was to advance to the Falls with all his outfit for building a ship with which to sail the lakes. He was successful in this undertaking, though his ultimate purpose was defeated by a strange combination of untoward circumstances. The Jesuits evidently hated LaSalle and plotted against him, because he had abandoned them and co-operated with a rival order. The fur traders were also jealous of his superior success in opening new channels of commerce. At LaChine he had taken the trade of Lake Ontario, which but for his presence there would have gone to Quebec. While they were plodding with their bark canoes through the Ottawa he was constructing sailing vessels to command the trade of the lakes and the Mississippi. These great plans excited the jealousy and envy of the small traders, introduced treason and revolt into the ranks of his own companions, and finally led to the foul assassination by which his great achievements were prematurely ended.

In 1682, LaSalle, having completed his vessel at Peoria, descended the Mississippi to its confluence with the Gulf of Mexico. Erecting a standard on which he inscribed the arms of France, he took formal possession of the whole valley of the mighty river, in the name of Louis XIV., then reigning, in honor of whom he named the country LOUISIANA.

LaSalle then went to France, was appointed Governor, and returned with a fleet and immigrants, for the purpose of planting a colony in Illinois. They arrived in due time in the Gulf of Mexico, but failing to find the mouth of the Mississippi, up which LaSalle intended to sail, his supply ship, with the immigrants, was driven ashore and wrecked on Matagorda Bay. With the fragments of the vessel he constructed a stockade and rude huts on the shore for the protection of the immigrants, calling the post Fort St. Louis. He then made a trip into New Mexico, in search of silver mines, but, meeting with disappointment, returned to find his little colony reduced to forty souls. He then resolved to travel on foot to Illinois, and, starting with his companions, had reached the valley of the Colorado, near the mouth of Trinity river, when he was shot by one of his men. This occurred on the 19th of March, 1687.

Dr. J. W. Foster remarks of him: "Thus fell, not far from the banks of the Trinity, Robert Cavalier de la Salle, one of the grandest characters that ever figured in American history—a man capable of originating the vastest schemes, and endowed with a will and a judgment capable of carrying them to successful results. Had ample facilities been placed by the King of France at his disposal, the result of the colonization of this continent might have been far different from what we now behold."

EARLY SETTLEMENTS.

A temporary settlement was made at Fort St. Louis, or the old Kaskaskia village, on the Illinois River, in what is now LaSalle County, in 1682. In 1690, this was removed, with the mission connected with it, to Kaskaskia, on the river of that name, emptying into the lower Mississippi in St. Clair County. Cahokia was settled about the same time, or at least, both of these settlements began in the year 1690, though it is now pretty well settled that Cahokia is the older place, and ranks as the oldest permanent settlement in Illinois, as well as in the Mississippi Valley. The reason for the removal of the old Kaskaskia settlement and mission, was probably because the dangerous and difficult route by Lake Michigan and the Chicago portage had been almost abandoned, and travelers and traders passed down and up the Mississippi by the Fox and Wisconsin River route. They removed to the vicinity of the Mississippi in order to be in the line of travel from Canada to Louisiana, that is, the lower part of it, for it was all Louisiana then south of the lakes.

During the period of French rule in Louisiana, the population probably never exceeded ten thousand, including whites and blacks. Within that portion of it now included in Indiana, trading posts were established at the principal Miami villages which stood on the head waters of the Maumee, the Wea villages situated at Ouiatenon, on the Wabash, and the Piankeshaw villages at Post Vincennes; all of which were probably visited by French traders and missionaries before the close of the seventeenth century.

In the vast territory claimed by the French, many settlements of considerable importance had sprung up. Biloxi, on Mobile Bay, had been founded by D'Iberville, in 1699; Antoine de Lamotte Cadillac had founded Detroit in 1701; and New Orleans had been founded by Bien-ville, under the auspices of the Mississippi Company, in 1718. In Illinois also, considerable settlements had been made, so that in 1730 they embraced one hundred and forty French families, about six hundred "converted Indians," and many traders and voyageurs. In that portion of the country, on the east side of the Mississippi, there were five distinct settlements, with their respective villages, viz.: Cahokia, near the mouth of Cahokia Creek and about five miles below the present city of St. Louis; St. Philip, about forty-five miles below Cahokia, and four miles above Fort Chartres; Fort Chartres, twelve miles above Kaskaskia; Kaskaskia, situated on the Kaskaskia River, five miles above its confluence with the Mississippi; and Prairie du Rocher, near Fort Chartres. To these must be added St. Genevieve and St. Louis, on the west side of the Mississippi. These, with the exception of St. Louis, are among the oldest French towns in the Mississippi Valley. Kaskaskia, in its best days, was a town of some two or three thousand inhabitants. After it passed from the crown of France its population for many years did not exceed fifteen hundred. Under British rule, in 1773, the population had decreased to four hundred and fifty. As early as 1721, the Jesuits had established a college and a monastery in Kaskaskia.

Fort Chartres was first built under the direction of the Mississippi Company, in 1718, by M. de Boisbriant, a military officer, under command of Bienville. It stood on the east bank of the Mississippi, about eighteen miles below Kaskaskia, and was for some time the headquarters of the military commandants of the district of Illinois.

In the Centennial Oration of Dr. Fowler, delivered at Philadelphia, by appointment of Gov. Beveridge, we find some interesting facts with regard to the State of Illinois, which we appropriate in this history:

In 1682 Illinois became a possession of the French crown, a dependency of Canada, and a part of Louisiana. In 1765 the English flag was run up on old Fort Chartres, and Illinois was counted among the treasures of Great Britain.

In 1779 it was taken from the English by Col. George Rogers Clark. This man was resolute in nature, wise in council, prudent in policy, bold in action, and heroic in danger. Few men who have figured in the history of America are more deserving than this colonel. Nothing short of first-class ability could have rescued Vincennes and all Illinois from the English. And it is not possible to over-estimate the influence of this achievement upon the republic. In 1779 Illinois became a part of Virginia. It was soon known as Illinois County. In 1784 Virginia ceded all this territory to the general government, to be cut into States, to be republican in form, with "the same right of sovereignty, freedom, and independence as the other States."

In 1787 it was the object of the wisest and ablest legislation found in any merely human records. No man can study the secret history of

and not feel that Providence was guiding with sleepless eye these unborn States. The ordinance that on July 13, 1787, finally became the incorporating act, has a most marvelous history. Jefferson had vainly tried to secure a system of government for the northwestern territory. He was an emancipationist of that day, and favored the exclusion of slavery from the territory Virginia had ceded to the general government; but the South voted him down as often as it came up. In 1787, as late as July 10, an organizing act without the anti-slavery clause was pending. This concession to the South was expected to carry it. Congress was in session in New York City. On July 5, Rev. Dr. Manasseh Cutler, of Massachusetts, came into New York to lobby on the northwestern territory. Everything seemed to fall into his hands. Events were ripe.

The state of the public credit, the growing of Southern prejudice, the basis of his mission, his personal character, all combined to complete one of those sudden and marvelous revolutions of public sentiment that once in five or ten centuries are seen to sweep over a country like the breath of the Almighty. Cutler was a graduate of Yale—received his A.M. from Harvard, and his D.D. from Yale. He had studied and taken degrees in the three learned professions, medicine, law, and divinity. He had thus America's best indorsement. He had published a scientific examination of the plants of New England. His name stood second only to that of Franklin as a scientist in America. He was a courtly gentleman of the old style, a man of commanding presence, and of inviting face. The Southern members said they had never seen such a gentleman in the North. He came representing a company that desired to purchase a tract of land now included in Ohio, for the purpose of planting a colony. It was a speculation. Government money was worth eighteen cents on the dollar. This Massachusetts company had collected enough to purchase 1,500,000 acres of land. Other speculators in New York made Dr. Cutler their agent (lobbyist). On the 12th he represented a demand for 5,500,000 acres. This would reduce the national debt. Jefferson and Virginia were regarded as authority concerning the land Virginia had just ceded. Jefferson's policy wanted to provide for the public credit, and this was a good opportunity to do something.

Massachusetts then owned the territory of Maine, which she was crowding on the market. She was opposed to opening the northwestern region. This fired the zeal of Virginia. The South caught the inspiration, and all exalted Dr. Cutler. The English minister invited him to dine with some of the Southern gentlemen. He was the center of interest.

The entire South rallied round him. Massachusetts could not vote against him, because many of the constituents of her members were interested personally in the western speculation. Thus Cutler, making friends with the South, and, doubtless, using all the arts of the lobby, was enabled to command the situation. True to deeper convictions, he dictated one of the most compact and finished documents of wise statesmanship that has ever adorned any human law book. He borrowed from Jefferson the term "Articles of Compact," which, preceding the federal constitution, rose into the most sacred character. He then followed very closely the constitution of Massachusetts, adopted three years before. Its most marked points were:

1. The exclusion of slavery from the territory forever.
2. Provision for public schools, giving one township for a seminary, and every section numbered 16 in each township; that is, one-thirty-sixth of all the land, for public schools.

3. A provision prohibiting the adoption of any constitution or the enactment of any law that should nullify pre-existing contracts.

Be it forever remembered that this compact declared that "Religion, morality, and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall always be encouraged."

Dr. Cutler planted himself on this platform and would not yield. Giving his unqualified declaration that it was that or nothing—that unless they could make the land desirable they did not want it—he took his horse and buggy, and started for the constitutional convention in Philadelphia. On July 13, 1787, the bill was put upon its passage, and was unanimously adopted, every Southern member voting for it, and only one man, Mr. Yates, of New York, voting against it. But as the States voted as States, Yates lost his vote, and the compact was put beyond repeal.

Thus the great States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin—a vast empire, the heart of the great valley—were consecrated to freedom, intelligence, and honesty. Thus the great heart of the nation was prepared for a year and a day and an hour. In the light of these eighty-nine years I affirm that this act was the salvation of the republic and the destruction of slavery. Soon the South saw their great blunder, and tried to repeal the compact. In 1803 Congress referred it to a committee of which John Randolph was chairman. He reported that this ordinance was a compact, and opposed repeal. Thus it stood a rock, in the way of the on-rushing sea of slavery.

With all this timely aid it was, after all, a most desperate and protracted struggle to keep the soil of Illinois sacred to freedom. It was the natural battle-field for the irrepressible conflict. In the southern end of the State slavery preceded the compact. It existed among the old French settlers, and was hard to eradicate. The southern part of the State was settled from the slave States, and this population brought their laws, customs, and institutions with them. A stream of population from the North poured into the northern part of the State. These sections misunderstood and hated each other perfectly. The Southerners regarded the Yankees as a skinning, tricky, penurious race of peddlers, filling the country with tinware, brass clocks, and wooden nutmegs. The Northerner thought of the Southerner as a lean, lank, lazy creature, burrowing in a hut, and rioting in whisky, dirt and ignorance. These causes aided in making the struggle long and bitter. So strong was the sympathy with slavery that, in spite of the ordinance of 1787, and in spite of the deed of cession, it was determined to allow the old French settlers to retain their slaves. Planters from the slave States might bring their slaves, if they would give them a chance to choose freedom or years of service and bondage for their children till they should become thirty years of age. If they chose freedom they must leave the State in sixty days or be sold as fugitives. Servants were whipped for offenses for which white men are fined. Each lash paid forty cents of the fine. A negro ten miles from home without a pass was whipped. These famous laws were imported from the slave States just as they imported laws for the inspection of flax and wool when there was neither in the State.

These Black Laws are now wiped out. A vigorous effort was made to protect slavery in the State Constitution of 1817. It barely failed. It was renewed in 1825, when a convention was asked to make a new constitution. After a hard fight the convention was defeated. But slaves did not disappear from the census of the State until 1850. There were mobs and murders in the interest of slavery. Lovejoy was added to the list of martyrs—a sort of first-fruits of that long life of immortal heroes who saw freedom as the one supreme desire of their souls, and were so enamored of her that they preferred to die rather than survive her.

The population of 12,282 that occupied the territory in A.D. 1800, increased to 45,000 in A.D. 1818, when the State Constitution was adopted, and Illinois took her place in the Union, with a star on the flag and two votes in the Senate.

Shadrach Bond was the first Governor, and in his first message he recommended the construction of the Illinois and Michigan Canal.

The simple economy in those days is seen in the fact that the entire bill for stationery for the first Legislature was only $13.50. Yet this simple body actually enacted a very superior code.

There was no money in the territory before the war of 1812. Deer skins and coon skins were the circulating medium. In 1821, the Legislature ordained a State Bank on the credit of the State. It issued notes in the likeness of bank bills. These notes were made a legal tender for every thing, and the bank was ordered to loan to the people $100 on personal security, and more on mortgages. They actually passed a resolution requesting the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to receive these notes for land. The old French Lieutenant Governor, Col. Menard, put the resolution as follows: “Gentlemen of the Senate: It is moved and seconded dat de notes of dis bank be made land-office money. All in favor of dat motion say aye; all against it say no. It is decided in de affirmative. Now, gentlemen, I bet you one hundred dollar he never be land-office money!” Hard sense, like hard money, is always above par.

This old Frenchman presents a fine figure up against the dark background of most of his nation. They made no progress. They clung to their earliest and simplest implements. They never wore hats or caps.

They pulled their blankets over their heads in the winter like the Indians, with whom they freely intermingled.

Demagogism had an early development. One John Grammar (only in name), elected to the Territorial and State Legislatures of 1816 and 1836, invented the policy of opposing every new thing, saying, "If it succeeds, no one will ask who voted against it. If it proves a failure, he could quote its record." In sharp contrast with Grammar was the character of D. P. Cook, after whom the county containing Chicago was named. Such was his transparent integrity and remarkable ability that his will was almost the law of the State. In Congress, a young man, and from a poor State, he was made Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. He was pre-eminent for standing by his committee, regardless of consequences. It was his integrity that elected John Quincy Adams to the Presidency. There were four candidates in 1824, Jackson, Clay, Crawford, and John Quincy Adams. There being no choice by the people, the election was thrown into the House. It was so balanced that it turned on his vote, and that he cast for Adams, electing him; then went home to face the wrath of the Jackson party in Illinois. It cost him all but character and greatness. It is a suggestive comment on the times, that there was no legal interest till 1830. It often reached 150 per cent., usually 50 per cent. Then it was reduced to 12, and now to 10 per cent.

PHYSICAL FEATURES OF THE PRAIRIE STATE.

In area the State has 55,410 square miles of territory. It is about 150 miles wide and 400 miles long, stretching in latitude from Maine to North Carolina. It embraces wide variety of climate. It is tempered on the north by the great inland, saltless, tideless sea, which keeps the thermometer from either extreme. Being a table land, from 600 to 1,600 feet above the level of the sea, one is prepared to find on the health maps, prepared by the general government, an almost clean and perfect record. In freedom from fever and malarial diseases and consumptions, the three deadly enemies of the American Saxon, Illinois, as a State, stands without a superior. She furnishes one of the essential conditions of a great people—sound bodies. I suspect that this fact lies back of that old Delaware word, Illini, superior men.

The great battles of history that have been determinative of dynasties and destinies have been strategical battles, chiefly the question of position. Thermopylæ has been the war-cry of freemen for twenty-four centuries. It only tells how much there may be in position. All this advantage belongs to Illinois. It is in the heart of the greatest valley in the world, the vast region between the mountains—a valley that could feed mankind for one thousand years. It is well on toward the center of the continent. It is in the great temperate belt, in which have been found nearly all the aggressive civilizations of history. It has sixty-five miles of frontage on the head of the lake. With the Mississippi forming the western and southern boundary, with the Ohio running along the southeastern line, with the Illinois River and Canal dividing the State diagonally from the lake to the Lower Mississippi, and with the Rock and Wabash Rivers furnishing altogether 2,000 miles of water-front, connecting with, and running through, in all about 12,000 miles of navigable water.

But this is not all. These waters are made most available by the fact that the lake and the State lie on the ridge running into the great valley from the east. Within cannon-shot of the lake the water runs away from the lake to the Gulf. The lake now empties at both ends, one into the Atlantic and one into the Gulf of Mexico. The lake thus seems to hang over the land. This makes the dockage most serviceable; there are no steep banks to damage it. Both lake and river are made for use.

The climate varies from Portland to Richmond; it favors every product of the continent, including the tropics, with less than half a dozen exceptions. It produces every great nutriment of the world except bananas and rice. It is hardly too much to say that it is the most productive spot known to civilization. With the soil full of bread and the earth full of minerals; with an upper surface of food and an under layer of fuel; with perfect natural drainage, and abundant springs and streams and navigable rivers; half way between the forests of the North and the fruits of the South; within a day's ride of the great deposits of iron, coal, copper, lead, and zinc; containing and controlling the great grain, cattle, pork, and lumber markets of the world, it is not strange that Illinois has the advantage of position.

This advantage has been supplemented by the character of the population. In the early days when Illinois was first admitted to the Union, her population were chiefly from Kentucky and Virginia. But, in the conflict of ideas concerning slavery, a strong tide of emigration came in from the East, and soon changed this composition. In 1870 her non-native population were from colder soils. New York furnished 133,290; Ohio gave 162,623; Pennsylvania sent on 98,352; the entire South gave us only 206,734. In all her cities, and in all her German and Scandinavian and other foreign colonies, Illinois has only about one-fifth of her people of foreign birth.

PROGRESS OF DEVELOPMENT.

One of the greatest elements in the early development of Illinois is the Illinois and Michigan Canal, connecting the Illinois and Mississippi Rivers with the lakes. It was of the utmost importance to the State. It was recommended by Gov. Bond, the first governor, in his first message. In 1821, the Legislature appropriated $10,000 for surveying the route. Two bright young engineers surveyed it, and estimated the cost at $600,000 or $700,000. It finally cost $8,000,000. In 1825, a law was passed to incorporate the Canal Company, but no stock was sold. In 1826, upon the solicitation of Cook, Congress gave 800,000 acres of land on the line of the work. In 1828, another law—commissioners appointed, and work commenced with new survey and new estimates. In 1834–35, George Farquhar made an able report on the whole matter. This was, doubtless, the ablest report ever made to a western legislature, and it became the model for subsequent reports and action. From this the work went on till it was finished in 1848. It cost the State a large amount of money; but it gave to the industries of the State an impetus that pushed it up into the first rank of greatness. It was not built as a speculation any more than a doctor is employed on a speculation. But it has paid into the Treasury of the State an average annual net sum of over $111,000.

Pending the construction of the canal, the land and town-lot fever broke out in the State, in 1834–35. It took on the malignant type in Chicago, lifting the town up into a city. The disease spread over the entire State and adjoining States. It was epidemic. It cut up men's farms without regard to locality, and cut up the purses of the purchasers without regard to consequences. It is estimated that building lots enough were sold in Indiana alone to accommodate every citizen then in the United States.

Towns and cities were exported to the Eastern market by the ship-load. There was no lack of buyers. Every up-ship came freighted with speculators and their money.

This distemper seized upon the Legislature in 1836–37, and left not one to tell the tale. They enacted a system of internal improvement without a parallel in the grandeur of its conception. They ordered the construction of 1,300 miles of railroad, crossing the State in all directions. This was surpassed by the river and canal improvements. There were a few counties not touched by either railroad or river or canal, and those were to be comforted and compensated by the free distribution of $200,000 among them. To inflate this balloon beyond credence it was ordered that work should be commenced on both ends of each of these railroads and rivers, and at each river-crossing, all at the same time. The appropriations for these vast improvements were over $12,000,000, and commissioners were appointed to borrow the money on the credit of the State. Remember that all this was in the early days of railroading, when railroads were luxuries; that the State had whole counties with scarcely a cabin; and that the population of the State was less than 400,000, and you can form some idea of the vigor with which these brave men undertook the work of making a great State. In the light of history I am compelled to say that this was only a premature throb of the power that actually slumbered in the soil of the State. It was Hercules in the cradle.

At this juncture the State Bank loaned its funds largely to Godfrey Gilman & Co., and to other leading houses, for the purpose of drawing trade from St. Louis to Alton. Soon they failed, and took down the bank with them.

In 1840, all hope seemed gone. A population of 480,000 were loaded with a debt of $14,000,000. It had only six small cities, really only towns, namely: Chicago, Alton, Springfield, Quincy, Galena, Nauvoo. This debt was to be cared for when there was not a dollar in the treasury, and when the State had borrowed itself out of all credit, and when there was not good money enough in the hands of all the people to pay the interest of the debt for a single year. Yet, in the presence of all these difficulties, the young State steadily refused to repudiate. Gov. Ford took hold of the problem and solved it, bringing the State through in triumph.

Having touched lightly upon some of the more distinctive points in the history of the development of Illinois, let us next briefly consider the MATERIAL RESOURCES OF THE STATE.

It is a garden four hundred miles long and one hundred and fifty miles wide. Its soil is chiefly a black sandy loam, from six inches to sixty feet thick. On the American bottoms it has been cultivated for one hundred and fifty years without renewal. About the old French towns it has yielded corn for a century and a half without rest or help. It produces nearly everything green in the temperate and tropical zones. She leads all other States in the number of acres actually under plow. Her products from 25,000,000 of acres are incalculable. Her mineral wealth is scarcely second to her agricultural power. She has coal, iron, lead, copper, zinc, many varieties of building stone, fire clay, cuma clay, common brick clay, sand of all kinds, gravel, mineral paint—every thing needed for a high civilization. Left to herself, she has the elements of all greatness. The single item of coal is too vast for an appreciative handling in figures. We can handle it in general terms like algebraical signs, but long before we get up into the millions and billions the human mind drops down from comprehension to mere symbolic apprehension.

When I tell you that nearly four-fifths of the entire State is underlaid with a deposit of coal more than forty feet thick on the average (now estimated, by recent surveys, at seventy feet thick), you can get some idea of its amount, as you do of the amount of the national debt. There it is! 41,000 square miles—one vast mine into which you could put any of the States; in which you could bury scores of European and ancient empires, and have room enough all round to work without knowing that they had been sepulchered there.

Put this vast coal-bed down by the other great coal deposits of the world, and its importance becomes manifest. Great Britain has 12,000 square miles of coal; Spain, 3,000; France, 1,719; Belgium, 578; Illinois about twice as many square miles as all combined. Virginia has 20,000 square miles; Pennsylvania, 16,000; Ohio, 12,000. Illinois has 41,000 square miles. One-seventh of all the known coal on this continent is in Illinois.

Could we sell the coal in this single State for one-seventh of one cent a ton it would pay the national debt. Converted into power, even with the wastage in our common engines, it would do more work than could be done by the entire race, beginning at Adam's wedding and working ten hours a day through all the centuries till the present time, and right on into the future at the same rate for the next 600,000 years.

Great Britain uses enough mechanical power to-day to give to each man, woman, and child in the kingdom the help and service of nineteen untiring servants. No wonder she has leisure and luxuries. No wonder the home of the common artisan has in it more luxuries than could be found in the palace of good old King Arthur. Think, if you can conceive of it, of the vast army of servants that slumber in the soil of Illinois, impatiently awaiting the call of Genius to come forth to minister to our comfort.

At the present rate of consumption England's coal supply will be exhausted in 250 years. When this is gone she must transfer her dominion either to the Indies, or to British America, which I would not resist; or to some other people, which I would regret as a loss to civilization.

COAL IS KING.

At the same rate of consumption (which far exceeds our own) the deposit of coal in Illinois will last 120,000 years. And her kingdom shall be an everlasting kingdom.

Let us turn now from this reserve power to the annual products of the State. We shall not be humiliated in this field. Here we strike the secret of our national credit. Nature provides a market in the constant appetite of the race. Men must eat, and if we can furnish the provisions we can command the treasure. All that a man hath will he give for his life.

According to the last census Illinois produced 30,000,000 of bushels of wheat. That is more wheat than was raised by any other State in the Union. She raised last year 130,000,000 of bushels of corn—twice as much as any other State, and one-sixth of all the corn raised in the United States. She harvested 2,747,000 tons of hay, nearly one-tenth of all the hay in the Republic. It is not generally appreciated, but it is true, that the hay crop of the country is worth more than the cotton crop. The hay of Illinois equals the cotton of Louisiana. Go to Charleston, S. C., and see them peddling handfuls of hay or grass, almost as a curiosity, as we regard Chinese gods or the cryolite of Greenland; drink your coffee and condensed milk; and walk back from the coast for many a league through the sand and burs till you get up into the better atmosphere of the mountains, without seeing a waving meadow or a grazing herd; then you will begin to appreciate the meadows of the Prairie State, where the grass often grows sixteen feet high.

The value of her farm implements is $211,000,000, and the value of her live stock is only second to the great State of New York. Last year she had 25,000,000 hogs, and packed 2,113,845, about one-half of all that were packed in the United States. This is no insignificant item. Pork is a growing demand of the old world. Since the laborers of Europe have gotten a taste of our bacon, and we have learned how to pack it dry in boxes, like dry goods, the world has become the market.

The hog is on the march into the future. His nose is ordained to uncover the secrets of dominion, and his feet shall be guided by the star of empire.

Illinois marketed $57,000,000 worth of slaughtered animals—more than any other State, and a seventh of all the States.

Be patient with me, and pardon my pride, and I will give you a list of some of the things in which Illinois excels all other States.

Depth and richness of soil; per cent. of good ground; acres of improved land; large farms—some farms contain from 40,000 to 60,000 acres of cultivated land, 40,000 acres of corn on a single farm; number of farmers; amount of wheat, corn, oats and honey produced; value of animals for slaughter; number of hogs; amount of pork; number of horses—three times as many as Kentucky, the horse State.

Illinois excels all other States in miles of railroads and in miles of postal service, and in money orders sold per annum, and in the amount of lumber sold in her markets.

Illinois is only second in many important matters. This sample list comprises a few of the more important: Permanent school fund (good for a young state); total income for educational purposes; number of publishers of books, maps, papers, etc.; value of farm products and implements, and of live stock; in tons of coal mined.

The shipping of Illinois is only second to New York. Out of one port during the business hours of the season of navigation she sends forth a vessel every ten minutes. This does not include canal boats, which go one every five minutes. No wonder she is only second in number of bankers and brokers or in physicians and surgeons.

She is third in colleges, teachers and schools; cattle, lead, hay, flax, sorghum and beeswax.

She is fourth in population, in children enrolled in public schools, in law schools, in butter, potatoes and carriages.

She is fifth in value of real and personal property, in theological seminaries and colleges exclusively for women, in milk sold, and in boots and shoes manufactured, and in book-binding.

She is only seventh in the production of wood, while she is the twelfth in area. Surely that is well done for the Prairie State. She now has much more wood and growing timber than she had thirty years ago.

A few leading industries will justify emphasis. She manufactures \$205,000,000 worth of goods, which places her well up toward New York and Pennsylvania. The number of her manufacturing establishments increased from 1860 to 1870, 300 per cent.; capital employed increased 350 per cent., and the amount of product increased 400 per cent. She issued 5,500,000 copies of commercial and financial newspapers—only second to New York. She has 6,759 miles of railroad, thus leading all other States, worth \$636,458,000, using 3,245 engines, and 67,712 cars, making a train long enough to cover one-tenth of the entire roads of the State. Her stations are only five miles apart. She carried last year 15,795,000 passengers, an average of $36\frac{1}{2}$ miles, or equal to taking her entire population twice across the State. More than two-thirds of her land is within five miles of a railroad, and less than two per cent. is more than fifteen miles away.

The State has a large financial interest in the Illinois Central railroad. The road was incorporated in 1850, and the State gave each alternate section for six miles on each side, and doubled the price of the remaining land, so keeping herself good. The road received 2,595,000 acres of land, and pays to the State one-seventh of the gross receipts. The State receives this year $350,000, and has received in all about $7,000,000. It is practically the people's road, and it has a most able and gentlemanly management. Add to this the annual receipts from the canal, $111,000, and a large per cent. of the State tax is provided for.

THE RELIGION AND MORALS

of the State keep step with her productions and growth. She was born of the missionary spirit. It was a minister who secured for her the ordinance of 1787, by which she has been saved from slavery, ignorance, and dishonesty. Rev. Mr. Wiley, pastor of a Scotch congregation in Randolph County, petitioned the Constitutional Convention of 1818 to recognize Jesus Christ as king, and the Scriptures as the only necessary guide and book of law. The convention did not act in the case, and the old Covenanters refused to accept citizenship. They never voted until 1824, when the slavery question was submitted to the people; then they all voted against it and cast the determining votes. Conscience has predominated whenever a great moral question has been submitted to the people.

But little mob violence has ever been felt in the State. In 1817 regulators disposed of a band of horse-thieves that infested the territory. The Mormon indignities finally awoke the same spirit. Alton was also the scene of a pro-slavery mob, in which Lovejoy was added to the list of martyrs. The moral sense of the people makes the law supreme, and gives to the State unruffled peace.

With $22,300,000 in church property, and 4,298 church organizations, the State has that divine police, the sleepless patrol of moral ideas, that alone is able to secure perfect safety. Conscience takes the knife from the assassin's hand and the bludgeon from the grasp of the highwayman. We sleep in safety, not because we are behind bolts and bars—these only fence against the innocent; not because a lone officer drowns on a distant corner of a street; not because a sheriff may call his posse from a remote part of the county; but because conscience guards the very portals of the air and stirs in the deepest recesses of the public mind. This spirit issues within the State 9,500,000 copies of religious papers annually, and receives still more from without. Thus the crime of the State is only one-fourth that of New York and one-half that of Pennsylvania.

Illinois never had but one duel between her own citizens. In Belleville, in 1820, Alphonso Stewart and William Bennett arranged to vindicate injured honor. The seconds agreed to make it a sham, and make them shoot blanks. Stewart was in the secret. Bennett mistrusted something, and, unobserved, slipped a bullet into his gun and killed Stewart. He then fled the State. After two years he was caught, tried, convicted, and, in spite of friends and political aid, was hung. This fixed the code of honor on a Christian basis, and terminated its use in Illinois.

The early preachers were ignorant men, who were accounted eloquent according to the strength of their voices. But they set the style for all public speakers. Lawyers and political speakers followed this rule. Gov.

Ford says: "Nevertheless, these first preachers were of incalculable benefit to the country. They inculcated justice and morality. To them are we indebted for the first Christian character of the Protestant portion of the people."

In education Illinois surpasses her material resources. The ordinance of 1787 consecrated one thirty-sixth of her soil to common schools, and the law of 1818, the first law that went upon her statutes, gave three per cent. of all the rest to

EDUCATION INSTEAD OF HIGHWAYS.

The old compact secures this interest forever, and by its yoking morality and intelligence it precludes the legal interference with the Bible in the public schools. With such a start it is natural that we should have 11,050 schools, and that our illiteracy should be less than New York or Pennsylvania, and only about one-half of Massachusetts. We are not to blame for not having more than one-half as many idiots as the great States. These public schools soon made colleges inevitable. The first college, still flourishing, was started in Lebanon in 1828, by the M. E. church, and named after Bishop McKendree. Illinois College, at Jacksonville, supported by the Presbyterians, followed in 1830. In 1832 the Baptists built Shurtleff College, at Alton. Then the Presbyterians built Knox College, at Galesburg, in 1838, and the Episcopalians built Jubilee College, at Peoria, in 1847. After these early years colleges have rained down. A settler could hardly encamp on the prairie but a college would spring up by his wagon. The State now has one very well endowed and equipped university, namely, the Northwestern University, at Evanston, with six colleges, ninety instructors, over 1,000 students, and $1,500,000 endowment.

Rev. J. M. Peck was the first educated Protestant minister in the State. He settled at Rock Spring, in St. Clair County, 1820, and left his impress on the State. Before 1837 only party papers were published, but Mr. Peck published a Gazetteer of Illinois. Soon after John Russell, of Bluffdale, published essays and tales showing genius. Judge James Hall published The Illinois Monthly Magazine with great ability, and an annual called The Western Souvenir, which gave him an enviable fame all over the United States. From these beginnings Illinois has gone on till she has more volumes in public libraries even than Massachusetts, and of the 44,500,000 volumes in all the public libraries of the United States, she has one-thirteenth. In newspapers she stands fourth. Her increase is marvelous. In 1850 she issued 5,000,000 copies; in 1860, 27,590,000; in 1870, 113,140,000. In 1860 she had eighteen colleges and seminaries; in 1870 she had eighty. That is a grand advance for the war decade.

This brings us to a record unsurpassed in the history of any age,

THE WAR RECORD OF ILLINOIS.

I hardly know where to begin, or how to advance, or what to say. I can at best give you only a broken synopsis of her deeds, and you must put them in the order of glory for yourself. Her sons have always been foremost on fields of danger. In 1832-33, at the call of Gov. Reynolds, her sons drove Blackhawk over the Mississippi.

When the Mexican war came, in May, 1846, 8,370 men offered themselves when only 3,720 could be accepted. The fields of Buena Vista and Vera Cruz, and the storming of Cerro Gordo, will carry the glory of Illinois soldiers along after the infamy of the cause they served has been forgotten. But it was reserved till our day for her sons to find a field and cause and foemen that could fitly illustrate their spirit and heroism. Illinois put into her own regiments for the United States government 256,000 men, and into the army through other States enough to swell the number to 290,000. This far exceeds all the soldiers of the federal government in all the war of the revolution. Her total years of service were over 600,000. She enrolled men from eighteen to forty-five years of age when the law of Congress in 1864—the test time—only asked for those from twenty to forty-five. Her enrollment was otherwise excessive. Her people wanted to go, and did not take the pains to correct the enrollment. Thus the basis of fixing the quota was too great, and then the quota itself, at least in the trying time, was far above any other State.

Thus the demand on some counties, as Monroe, for example, took every able-bodied man in the county, and then did not have enough to fill the quota. Moreover, Illinois sent 20,844 men for ninety or one hundred days, for whom no credit was asked. When Mr. Lincoln's attention was called to the inequality of the quota compared with other States, he replied, "The country needs the sacrifice. We must put the whip on the free horse." In spite of all these disadvantages Illinois gave to the country 73,000 years of service above all calls. With one-thirteenth of the population of the loyal States, she sent regularly one-tenth of all the soldiers, and in the peril of the closing calls, when patriots were few and weary, she then sent one-eighth of all that were called for by her loved and honored son in the white house. Her mothers and daughters went into the fields to raise the grain and keep the children together, while the fathers and older sons went to the harvest fields of the world. I knew a father and four sons who agreed that one of them must stay at home; and they pulled straws from a stack to see who might go. The father was left. The next day he came into the camp, saying: "Mother says she can get the crops in, and I am going, too." I know large Methodist churches from which every male member went to the army. Do you want to know what these heroes from Illinois did in the field? Ask any soldier with a good record of his own, who is thus able to judge, and he will tell you that the Illinois men went in to win. It is common history that the greater victories were won in the West. When everything else looked dark Illinois was gaining victories all down the river, and dividing the confederacy. Sherman took with him on his great march forty-five regiments of Illinois infantry, three companies of artillery, and one company of cavalry. He could not avoid

GOING TO THE SEA.

If he had been killed, I doubt not the men would have gone right on. Lincoln answered all rumors of Sherman's defeat with, "It is impossible; there is a mighty sight of fight in 100,000 Western men." Illinois soldiers brought home 300 battle-flags. The first United States flag that floated over Richmond was an Illinois flag. She sent messengers and nurses to every field and hospital, to care for her sick and wounded sons. She said, "These suffering ones are my sons, and I will care for them."

When individuals had given all, then cities and towns came forward with their credit to the extent of many millions, to aid these men and their families.

Illinois gave the country the great general of the war—Ulysses S. Grant—since honored with two terms of the Presidency of the United States.

One other name from Illinois comes up in all minds, embalmed in all hearts, that must have the supreme place in this story of our glory and of our nation's honor; that name is Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois.

The analysis of Mr. Lincoln's character is difficult on account of its symmetry.

In this age we look with admiration at his uncompromising honesty. And well we may, for this saved us. Thousands throughout the length and breadth of our country who knew him only as "Honest Old Abe," voted for him on that account; and wisely did they choose, for no other man could have carried us through the fearful night of the war. When his plans were too vast for our comprehension, and his faith in the cause too sublime for our participation; when it was all night about us, and all dread before us, and all sad and desolate behind us; when not one ray shone upon our cause; when traitors were haughty and exultant at the South, and fierce and blasphemous at the North; when the loyal men here seemed almost in the minority; when the stoutest heart quailed, the bravest cheek paled; when generals were defeating each other for place, and contractors were leeching out the very heart's blood of the prostrate republic: when every thing else had failed us, we looked at this calm, patient man standing like a rock in the storm, and said: "Mr. Lincoln is honest, and we can trust him still." Holding to this single point with the energy of faith and despair we held together, and, under God, he brought us through to victory.

His practical wisdom made him the wonder of all lands. With such certainty did Mr. Lincoln follow causes to their ultimate effects, that his foresight of contingencies seemed almost prophetic.

He is radiant with all the great virtues, and his memory shall shed a glory upon this age that shall fill the eyes of men as they look into history. Other men have excelled him in some point, but, taken at all points, all in all, he stands head and shoulders above every other man of 6,000 years. An administrator, he saved the nation in the perils of unparalleled civil war. A statesman, he justified his measures by their success. A philanthropist, he gave liberty to one race and salvation to another. A moralist, he bowed from the summit of human power to the foot of the Cross, and became a Christian. A mediator, he exercised mercy under the most absolute abeyance to law. A leader, he was no partisan. A commander, he was untainted with blood. A ruler in desperate times, he was unsullied with crime. A man, he has left no word of passion, no thought of malice, no trick of craft, no act of jealousy, no purpose of selfish ambition. Thus perfected, without a model, and without a peer, he was dropped into these troubled years to adorn and embellish all that is good and all that is great in our humanity, and to present to all coming time the representative of the divine idea of free government.

It is not too much to say that away down in the future, when the republic has fallen from its niche in the wall of time; when the great war itself shall have faded out in the distance like a mist on the horizon; when the Anglo-Saxon language shall be spoken only by the tongue of the stranger; then the generations looking this way shall see the great president as the supreme figure in this vortex of history

CHICAGO.

It is impossible in our brief space to give more than a meager sketch of such a city as Chicago, which is in itself the greatest marvel of the Prairie State. This mysterious, majestic, mighty city, born first of water, and next of fire; sown in weakness, and raised in power; planted among the willows of the marsh, and crowned with the glory of the mountains; sleeping on the bosom of the prairie, and rocked on the bosom of the sea; the youngest city of the world, and still the eye of the prairie, as Damascus, the oldest city of the world, is the eye of the desert. With a commerce far exceeding that of Corinth on her isthmus, in the highway to the East; with the defenses of a continent piled around her by the thousand miles, making her far safer than Rome on the banks of the Tiber; with schools eclipsing Alexandria and Athens; with liberties more conspicuous than those of the old republics; with a heroism equal to the first Carthage, and with a sanctity scarcely second to that of Jerusalem—set your thoughts on all this, lifted into the eyes of all men by the miracle of its growth, illuminated by the flame of its fall, and transfigured by the divinity of its resurrection, and you will feel, as I do, the utter impossibility of compassing this subject as it deserves. Some impression of her importance is received from the shock her burning gave to the civilized world.

When the doubt of her calamity was removed, and the horrid fact was accepted, there went a shudder over all cities, and a quiver over all lands. There was scarcely a town in the civilized world that did not shake on the brink of this opening chasm. The flames of our homes reddened all skies. The city was set upon a hill, and could not be hid. All eyes were turned upon it. To have struggled and suffered amid the scenes of its fall is as distinguishing as to have fought at Thermopylæ, or Salamis, or Hastings, or Waterloo, or Bunker Hill.

Its calamity amazed the world, because it was felt to be the common property of mankind.

The early history of the city is full of interest, just as the early history of such a man as Washington or Lincoln becomes public property, and is cherished by every patriot.

Starting with 560 acres in 1833, it embraced and occupied 23,000 acres in 1869, and, having now a population of more than 500,000, it commands general attention.

The first settler—Jean Baptiste Pointe au Sable, a mulatto from the West Indies—came and began trade with the Indians in 1796. John Kinzie became his successor in 1804, in which year Fort Dearborn was erected.

A mere trading-post was kept here from that time till about the time of the Blackhawk war, in 1832. It was not the city. It was merely a cock crowing at midnight. The morning was not yet. In 1833 the settlement about the fort was incorporated as a town. The voters were divided on the propriety of such corporation, twelve voting for it and one against it. Four years later it was incorporated as a city, and embraced 560 acres.

The produce handled in this city is an indication of its power. Grain and flour were imported from the East till as late as 1837. The first exportation by way of experiment was in 1839. Exports exceeded imports first in 1842. The Board of Trade was organized in 1848, but it was so weak that it needed nursing till 1855. Grain was purchased by the wagon-load in the street.

I remember sitting with my father on a load of wheat, in the long line of wagons along Lake street, while the buyers came and untied the bags, and examined the grain, and made their bids. That manner of business had to cease with the day of small things. Now our elevators will hold 15,000,000 bushels of grain. The cash value of the produce handled in a year is $215,000,000, and the produce weighs 7,000,000 tons or 700,000 car loads. This handles thirteen and a half ton each minute, all the year round. One tenth of all the wheat in the United States is handled in Chicago. Even as long ago as 1853 the receipts of grain in Chicago exceeded those of the goodly city of St. Louis, and in 1854 the exports of grain from Chicago exceeded those of New York and doubled those of St. Petersburg, Archangel, or Odessa, the largest grain markets in Europe.

The manufacturing interests of the city are not contemptible. In 1873 manufactories employed 45,000 operatives; in 1876, 60,000. The manufactured product in 1875 was worth $177,000,000.

No estimate of the size and power of Chicago would be adequate that did not put large emphasis on the railroads. Before they came thundering along our streets canals were the hope of our country. But who ever thinks now of traveling by canal packets? In June, 1852, there were only forty miles of railroad connected with the city. The old Galena division of the Northwestern ran out to Elgin. But now, who can count the trains and measure the roads that seek a terminus or connection in this city? The lake stretches away to the north, gathering in to this center all the harvests that might otherwise pass to the north of us. If you will take a map and look at the adjustment of railroads, you will see, first, that Chicago is the great railroad center of the world, as New York is the commercial city of this continent; and, second, that the railroad lines form the iron spokes of a great wheel whose hub is this city. The lake furnishes the only break in the spokes, and this seems simply to have pushed a few spokes together on each shore. See the eighteen trunk lines, exclusive of eastern connections.

Pass round the circle, and view their numbers and extent. There is the great Northwestern, with all its branches, one branch creeping along the lake shore, and so reaching to the north, into the Lake Superior regions, away to the right, and on to the Northern Pacific on the left, swinging around Green Bay for iron and copper and silver, twelve months in the year, and reaching out for the wealth of the great agricultural belt and isothermal line traversed by the Northern Pacific. Another branch, not so far north, feeling for the heart of the Badger State. Another pushing lower down the Mississippi—all these make many connections, and tapping all the vast wheat regions of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and all the regions this side of sunset. There is that elegant road, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, running out a goodly number of branches, and reaping the great fields this side of the Missouri River. I can only mention the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis, our Illinois Central, described elsewhere, and the Chicago & Rock Island. Further around we come to the lines connecting us with all the eastern cities. The Chicago, Indianapolis & St. Louis, the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and the Michigan Central and Great Western, give us many highways to the seaboard. Thus we reach the Mississippi at five points, from St. Paul to Cairo and the Gulf itself by two routes. We also reach Cincinnati and Baltimore, and Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and New York. North and south run the water courses of the lakes and the rivers, broken just enough at this point to make a pass. Through this, from east to west, run the long lines that stretch from ocean to ocean.

This is the neck of the glass, and the golden sands of commerce must pass into our hands. Altogether we have more than 10,000 miles of railroad, directly tributary to this city, seeking to unload their wealth in our coffers. All these roads have come themselves by the infallible instinct of capital. Not a dollar was ever given by the city to secure one of them, and only a small per cent. of stock taken originally by her citizens, and that taken simply as an investment. Coming in the natural order of events, they will not be easily diverted.

There is still another showing to all this. The connection between New York and San Francisco is by the middle route. This passes inevitably through Chicago. St. Louis wants the Southern Pacific or Kansas Pacific, and pushes it out through Denver, and so on up to Cheyenne. But before the road is fairly under way, the Chicago roads shove out to Kansas City, making even the Kansas Pacific a feeder, and actually leaving St. Louis out in the cold. It is not too much to expect that Dakota, Montana, and Washington Territory will find their great market in Chicago.

But these are not all. Perhaps I had better notice here the ten or fifteen new roads that have just entered, or are just entering, our city. Their names are all that is necessary to give. Chicago & St. Paul, looking up the Red River country to the British possessions; the Chicago, Atlantic & Pacific; the Chicago, Decatur & State Line; the Baltimore & Ohio; the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes; the Chicago & LaSalle Railroad; the Chicago, Pittsburgh & Cincinnati; the Chicago and Canada Southern; the Chicago and Illinois River Railroad. These, with their connections, and with the new connections of the old roads, already in process of erection, give to Chicago not less than 10,000 miles of new tributaries from the richest land on the continent. Thus there will be added to the reserve power, to the capital within reach of this city, not less than $1,000,000,000.

Add to all this transporting power the ships that sail one every nine minutes of the business hours of the season of navigation; add, also, the canal boats that leave one every five minutes during the same time—and you will see something of the business of the city.

THE COMMERCE OF THIS CITY has been leaping along to keep pace with the growth of the country around us. In 1852, our commerce reached the hopeful sum of $20,000,000. In 1870 it reached $400,000,000. In 1871 it was pushed up above $450,000,000. And in 1875 it touched nearly double that.

One-half of our imported goods come directly to Chicago. Grain enough is exported directly from our docks to the old world to employ a semi-weekly line of steamers of 3,000 tons capacity. This branch is not likely to be greatly developed. Even after the great Welland Canal is completed we shall have only fourteen feet of water. The great ocean vessels will continue to control the trade.

The banking capital of Chicago is $24,431,000. Total exchange in 1875, $659,000,000. Her wholesale business in 1875 was $294,000,000. The rate of taxes is less than in any other great city.

The schools of Chicago are unsurpassed in America. Out of a population of 300,000 there were only 186 persons between the ages of six and twenty-one unable to read. This is the best known record.

In 1831 the mail system was condensed into a half-breed, who went on foot to Niles, Mich., once in two weeks, and brought back what papers and news he could find. As late as 1846 there was often only one mail a week. A post-office was established in Chicago in 1833, and the post-master nailed up old boot-legs on one side of his shop to serve as boxes for the nabobs and literary men.

It is an interesting fact in the growth of the young city that in the active life of the business men of that day the mail matter has grown to a daily average of over 6,500 pounds. It speaks equally well for the intelligence of the people and the commercial importance of the place, that the mail matter distributed to the territory immediately tributary to Chicago is seven times greater than that distributed to the territory immediately tributary to St. Louis.

The improvements that have characterized the city are as startling as the city itself. In 1831, Mark Beaubien established a ferry over the river, and put himself under bonds to carry all the citizens free for the privilege of charging strangers. Now there are twenty-four large bridges and two tunnels.

In 1833 the government expended $30,000 on the harbor. Then commenced that series of manœuvres with the river that has made it one of the world's curiosities. It used to wind around in the lower end of the town, and make its way rippling over the sand into the lake at the foot of Madison street. They took it up and put it down where it now is. It was a narrow stream, so narrow that even moderately small crafts had to go up through the willows and cat's tails to the point near Lake street bridge, and back up one of the branches to get room enough in which to turn around.

In 1844 the quagmires in the streets were first pontooned by plank roads, which acted in wet weather as public squirt-guns. Keeping you out of the mud, they compromised by squirting the mud over you. The wooden-block pavements came to Chicago in 1857. In 1840 water was delivered by peddlers in carts or by hand. Then a twenty-five horse-power engine pushed it through hollow or bored logs along the streets till 1854, when it was introduced into the houses by new works. The first fire-engine was used in 1835, and the first steam fire-engine in 1859. Gas was utilized for lighting the city in 1850. The Young Men's Christian Association was organized in 1858, and horse railroads carried them to their work in 1859. The museum was opened in 1863. The alarm telegraph adopted in 1864. The opera-house built in 1865. The city grew from 560 acres in 1833 to 23,000 in 1869. In 1834, the taxes amounted to $48.90, and the trustees of the town borrowed $60 more for opening and improving streets. In 1835, the legislature authorized a loan of $2,000, and the treasurer and street commissioners resigned rather than plunge the town into such a gulf.

Now the city embraces 36 square miles of territory, and has 30 miles of water front, besides the outside harbor of refuge, of 400 acres, inclosed by a crib sea-wall. One-third of the city has been raised up an average of eight feet, giving good pitch to the 263 miles of sewerage. The water of the city is above all competition. It is received through two tunnels extending to a crib in the lake two miles from shore. The closest analysis fails to detect any impurities, and, received 35 feet below the surface, it is always clear and cold. The first tunnel is five feet two inches in diameter and two miles long, and can deliver 50,000,000 of gallons per day. The second tunnel is seven feet in diameter and six miles long, running four miles under the city, and can deliver 100,000,000 of gallons per day. This water is distributed through 410 miles of water-mains.

The three grand engineering exploits of the city are: First, lifting the city up on jack-screws, whole squares at a time, without interrupting the business, thus giving us good drainage; second, running the tunnels under the lake, giving us the best water in the world; and third, the turning the current of the river in its own channel, delivering us from the old abominations, and making decency possible. They redound about equally to the credit of the engineering, to the energy of the people, and to the health of the city.

That which really constitutes the city, its indescribable spirit, its soul, the way it lights up in every feature in the hour of action, has not been touched. In meeting strangers, one is often surprised how some homely women marry so well. Their forms are bad, their gait uneven and awkward, their complexion is dull, their features are misshapen and mismatched, and when we see them there is no beauty that we should desire them. But when once they are aroused on some subject, they put on new proportions. They light up into great power. The real person comes out from its unseemly ambush, and captures us at will. They have power. They have ability to cause things to come to pass. We no longer wonder why they are in such high demand. So it is with our city.

There is no grand scenery except the two seas, one of water, the other of prairie. Nevertheless, there is a spirit about it, a push, a breadth, a power, that soon makes it a place never to be forsaken. One soon ceases to believe in impossibilities. Balaams are the only prophets that are disappointed. The bottom that has been on the point of falling out has been there so long that it has grown fast. It can not fall out. It has all the capital of the world itching to get inside the corporation.

The two great laws that govern the growth and size of cities are, first, the amount of territory for which they are the distributing and receiving points; second, the number of medium or moderate dealers that do this distributing. Monopolists build up themselves, not the cities. They neither eat, wear, nor live in proportion to their business. Both these laws help Chicago.

The tide of trade is eastward—not up or down the map, but across the map. The lake runs up a wingdam for 500 miles to gather in the business. Commerce can not ferry up there for seven months in the year, and the facilities for seven months can do the work for twelve. Then the great region west of us is nearly all good, productive land. Dropping south into the trail of St. Louis, you fall into vast deserts and rocky districts, useful in holding the world together. St. Louis and Cincinnati, instead of rivaling and hurting Chicago, are her greatest sureties of dominion. They are far enough away to give sea-room,—farther off than Paris is from London,—and yet they are near enough to prevent the springing up of any other great city between them.

St. Louis will be helped by the opening of the Mississippi, but also hurt. That will put New Orleans on her feet, and with a railroad running over into Texas and so West, she will tap the streams that now crawl up the Texas and Missouri road. The current is East, not North, and a seaport at New Orleans can not permanently help St. Louis.

Chicago is in the field almost alone, to handle the wealth of one-fourth of the territory of this great republic. This strip of seacoast divides its margins between Portland, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Savannah, or some other great port to be created for the South in the next decade. But Chicago has a dozen empires casting their treasures into her lap. On a bed of coal that can run all the machinery of the world for 500 centuries; in a garden that can feed the race by the thousand years; at the head of the lakes that give her a temperature as a summer resort equaled by no great city in the land; with a climate that insures the health of her citizens; surrounded by all the great deposits of natural wealth in mines and forests and herds, Chicago is the wonder of to-day, and will be the city of the future.

MASSACRE AT FORT DEARBORN.

During the war of 1812, Fort Dearborn became the theater of stirring events. The garrison consisted of fifty-four men under command of Captain Nathan Heald, assisted by Lieutenant Helm (son-in-law of Mrs. Kinzie) and Ensign Ronan. Dr. Voorhees was surgeon. The only residents at the post at that time were the wives of Captain Heald and Lieutenant Helm, and a few of the soldiers, Mr. Kinzie and his family, and a few Canadian voyageurs, with their wives and children. The soldiers and Mr. Kinzie were on most friendly terms with the Pottawattamies and Winnebagos, the principal tribes around them, but they could not win them from their attachment to the British.

One evening in April, 1812, Mr. Kinzie sat playing on his violin and his children were dancing to the music, when Mrs. Kinzie came rushing into the house, pale with terror, and exclaiming: "The Indians! the Indians!" "What? Where?" eagerly inquired Mr. Kinzie. "Up at Lee's, killing and scalping," answered the frightened mother, who, when the alarm was given, was attending Mrs. Barnes (just confined) living not far off. Mr. Kinzie and his family crossed the river and took refuge in the fort, to which place Mrs. Barnes and her infant not a day old were safely conveyed. The rest of the inhabitants took shelter in the fort. This alarm was caused by a scalping party of Winnebagos, who hovered about the fort several days, when they disappeared, and for several weeks the inhabitants were undisturbed.

On the 7th of August, 1812, General Hull, at Detroit, sent orders to Captain Heald to evacuate Fort Dearborn, and to distribute all the United States property to the Indians in the neighborhood—a most insane order. The Pottawattamie chief, who brought the dispatch, had more wisdom than the commanding general. He advised Captain Heald not to make the distribution. Said he: "Leave the fort and stores as they are, and let the Indians make distribution for themselves; and while they are engaged in the business, the white people may escape to Fort Wayne."

Captain Heald held a council with the Indians on the afternoon of the 12th, in which his officers refused to join, for they had been informed that treachery was designed—that the Indians intended to murder the white people in the council, and then destroy those in the fort. Captain Heald, however, took the precaution to open a port-hole displaying a cannon pointing directly upon the council, and by that means saved his life.

Mr. Kinzie, who knew the Indians well, begged Captain Heald not to confide in their promises, nor distribute the arms and munitions among them, for it would only put power into their hands to destroy the whites. Acting upon this advice, Heald resolved to withhold the munitions of war; and on the night of the 13th, after the distribution of the other property had been made, the powder, ball and liquors were thrown into the river, the muskets broken up and destroyed.

Black Partridge, a friendly chief, came to Captain Heald, and said: "Linden birds have been singing in my ears to-day: be careful on the march you are going to take." On that dark night vigilant Indians had crept near the fort and discovered the destruction of their promised booty going on within. The next morning the powder was seen floating on the surface of the river. The savages were exasperated and made loud complaints and threats.

On the following day when preparations were making to leave the fort, and all the inmates were deeply impressed with a sense of impending danger, Capt. Wells, an uncle of Mrs. Heald, was discovered upon the Indian trail among the sand-hills on the borders of the lake, not far distant, with a band of mounted Miamis, of whose tribe he was chief, having been adopted by the famous Miami warrior, Little Turtle. When news of Hull's surrender reached Fort Wayne, he had started with this force to assist Heald in defending Fort Dearborn. He was too late. Every means for its defense had been destroyed the night before, and arrangements were made for leaving the fort on the morning of the 15th.

It was a warm bright morning in the middle of August. Indications were positive that the savages intended to murder the white people; and when they moved out of the southern gate of the fort, the march was like a funeral procession. The band, feeling the solemnity of the occasion, struck up the Dead March in Saul.

Capt. Wells, who had blackened his face with gun-powder in token of his fate, took the lead with his band of Miamis, followed by Capt. Heald, with his wife by his side on horseback. Mr. Kinzie hoped by his personal influence to avert the impending blow, and therefore accompanied them, leaving his family in a boat in charge of a friendly Indian, to be taken to his trading station at the site of Niles, Michigan, in the event of his death.

The procession moved slowly along the lake shore till they reached the sand-hills between the prairie and the beach, when the Pottawattamie escort, under the leadership of Blackbird, filed to the right, placing those hills between them and the white people. Wells, with his Miamis, had kept in the advance. They suddenly came rushing back, Wells exclaiming, "They are about to attack us; form instantly." These words were quickly followed by a storm of bullets, which came whistling over the little hills which the treacherous savages had made the covert for their murderous attack. The white troops charged upon the Indians, drove them back to the prairie, and then the battle was waged between fifty-four soldiers, twelve civilians and three or four women (the cowardly Miamis having fled at the outset) against five hundred Indian warriors. The white people, hopeless, resolved to sell their lives as dearly as possible. Ensign Ronan wielded his weapon vigorously, even after falling upon his knees weak from the loss of blood. Capt. Wells, who was by the side of his niece, Mrs. Heald, when the conflict began, behaved with the greatest coolness and courage. He said to her, "We have not the slightest chance for life. We must part to meet no more in this world. God bless you." And then he dashed forward. Seeing a young warrior, painted like a demon, climb into a wagon in which were twelve children, and tomahawk them all, he cried out, unmindful of his personal danger, "If that is your game, butchering women and children, I will kill too." He spurred his horse towards the Indian camp, where they had left their squaws and papooses, hotly pursued by swift-footed young warriors, who sent bullets whistling after him. One of these killed his horse and wounded him severely in the leg. With a yell the young braves rushed to make him their prisoner and reserve him for torture. He resolved not to be made a captive, and by the use of the most provoking epithets tried to induce them to kill him instantly. He called a fiery young chief a squaw, when the enraged warrior killed Wells instantly with his tomahawk, jumped upon his body, cut out his heart, and ate a portion of the warm morsel with savage delight!

In this fearful combat women bore a conspicuous part. Mrs. Heald was an excellent equestrian and an expert in the use of the rifle. She fought the savages bravely, receiving several severe wounds. Though faint from the loss of blood, she managed to keep her saddle. A savage raised his tomahawk to kill her, when she looked him full in the face, and with a sweet smile and in a gentle voice said, in his own language, "Surely you will not kill a squaw!" The arm of the savage fell, and the life of the heroic woman was saved.

Mrs. Helm, the step-daughter of Mr. Kinzie, had an encounter with a stout Indian, who attempted to tomahawk her. Springing to one side, she received the glancing blow on her shoulder, and at the same instant seized the savage round the neck with her arms and endeavored to get hold of his scalping knife, which hung in a sheath at his breast. While she was thus struggling she was dragged from her antagonist by another powerful Indian, who bore her, in spite of her struggles, to the margin of the lake and plunged her in. To her astonishment she was held by him so that she would not drown, and she soon perceived that she was in the hands of the friendly Black Partridge, who had saved her life.

The wife of Sergeant Holt, a large and powerful woman, behaved as bravely as an Amazon. She rode a fine, high-spirited horse, which the Indians coveted, and several of them attacked her with the butts of their guns, for the purpose of dismounting her; but she used the sword which she had snatched from her disabled husband so skillfully that she foiled them; and, suddenly wheeling her horse, she dashed over the prairie, followed by the savages shouting, "The brave woman! the brave woman! Don't hurt her!" They finally overtook her, and while she was fighting them in front, a powerful savage came up behind her, seized her by the neck and dragged her to the ground. Horse and woman were made captives. Mrs. Holt was a long time a captive among the Indians, but was afterwards ransomed.

In this sharp conflict two-thirds of the white people were slain and wounded, and all their horses, baggage and provision were lost. Only twenty-eight straggling men now remained to fight five hundred Indians rendered furious by the sight of blood. They succeeded in breaking through the ranks of the murderers and gaining a slight eminence on the prairie near the Oak Woods. The Indians did not pursue, but gathered on their flanks, while the chiefs held a consultation on the sand-hills, and showed signs of willingness to parley. It would have been madness on the part of the whites to renew the fight; and so Capt. Heald went forward and met Blackbird on the open prairie, where terms of surrender were soon agreed upon. It was arranged that the white people should give up their arms to Blackbird, and that the survivors should become prisoners of war, to be exchanged for ransoms as soon as practicable. With this understanding captives and captors started for the Indian camp near the fort, to which Mrs. Helm had been taken bleeding and suffering by Black Partridge, and had met her step-father and learned that her husband was safe.

A new scene of horror was now opened at the Indian camp. The wounded, not being included in the terms of surrender, as it was interpreted by the Indians, and the British general, Proctor, having offered a liberal bounty for American scalps, delivered at Malden, nearly all the wounded men were killed and scalped, and the price of the trophies was afterwards paid by the British government.

ABSTRACT OF ILLINOIS STATE LAWS.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE AND PROMISSORY NOTES.

No promissory note, check, draft, bill of exchange, order, or note, negotiable instrument payable at sight, or on demand, or on presentment, shall be entitled to days of grace. All other bills of exchange, drafts or notes are entitled to three days of grace. All the above mentioned paper falling due on Sunday, New Years' Day, the Fourth of July, Christmas, or any day appointed or recommended by the President of the United States or the Governor of the State as a day of fast or thanksgiving, shall be deemed as due on the day previous, and should two or more of these days come together, then such instrument shall be treated as due on the day previous to the first of said days. No defense can be made against a negotiable instrument (assigned before due) in the hands of the assignee without notice, except fraud was used in obtaining the same. To hold an indorser, due diligence must be used by suit, in collecting of the maker, unless suit would have been unavailing. Notes payable to person named or to order, in order to absolutely transfer title, must be indorsed by the payee. Notes payable to bearer may be transferred by delivery, and when so payable every indorser thereon is held as a guarantor of payment unless otherwise expressed.

In computing interest or discount on negotiable instruments, a month shall be considered a calendar month or twelfth of a year, and for less than a month, a day shall be figured a thirtieth part of a month. Notes only bear interest when so expressed, but after due they draw the legal interest, even if not stated.

INTEREST.

The legal rate of interest is six per cent. Parties may agree in writing on a rate not exceeding ten per cent. If a rate of interest greater than ten per cent. is contracted for, it works a forfeiture of the whole of said interest, and only the principal can be recovered.

DESCENT.

When no will is made, the property of a deceased person is distributed as follows:

First. To his or her children and their descendants in equal parts; the descendants of the deceased child or grandchild, taking the share of their deceased parents in equal parts among them.

Second. When there is no child of the intestate, nor descendant of such child, and no widow or surviving husband, then to the parents, brothers or sisters of the deceased, and their descendants, in equal parts among them, allowing to each of the parents, if living, a child's part, or to the survivor of them if one be dead, a double portion; and if there is no parent living, then to the brothers and sisters of the intestate, and their descendants.

Third. When there is a widow or surviving husband, and no child or children, or descendants of a child or children of the intestate, then (after the payment of all just debts) one-half of the real estate and the whole of the personal estate shall descend to such widow or surviving husband as an absolute estate forever.

Fourth. When there is a widow or surviving husband, and also a child or children, or descendants of such child or children of the intestate, the widow or surviving husband shall receive as his or her absolute personal estate, one-third of all the personal estate of the intestate.

Fifth. If there is no child of the intestate, or descendant of such child, and no parent, brother or sister, or descendant of such parent, brother or sister, and no widow or surviving husband, then such estate shall descend in equal parts to the next of kin to the intestate, in equal degree (computing by the rules of the civil law), and there shall be no representation among collaterals, except with the descendants of brothers and sisters of the intestate; and in no case shall there be any distinction between the kindred of the whole and the half blood.

Sixth. If any intestate leaves a widow or surviving husband and no kindred, his or her estate shall descend to such widow or surviving husband.

WILLS AND ESTATES OF DECEASED PERSONS.

No exact form of words are necessary in order to make a will good at law. Every male person of the age of twenty-one years, and every female of the age of eighteen years, of sound mind and memory, can make a valid will; it must be in writing, signed by the testator or by some one in his or her presence and by his or her direction, and attested by two or more credible witnesses. Care should be taken that the witnesses are not interested in the will. Persons knowing themselves to have been named in the will or appointed executor, must within thirty days of the death of deceased cause the will to be proved and recorded in the proper county, or present it, and refuse to accept; on failure to do so are liable to forfeit the sum of twenty dollars per month. Inventory to be made by executor or administrator within three months from date of letters testamentary or of administration. Executors' and administrators' compensation not to exceed six per cent. on amount of personal estate, and three per cent. on money realized from real estate, with such additional allowance as shall be reasonable for extra services. Appraisers' compensation $2 per day.

Notice requiring all claims to be presented against the estate shall be given by the executor or administrator within six months of being qualified. Any person having a claim and not presenting it at the time fixed by said notice is required to have summons issued notifying the executor or administrator of his having filed his claim in court; in such cases the costs have to be paid by the claimant. Claims should be filed within two years from the time administration is granted on an estate, as after that time they are forever barred, unless other estate is found that was not inventoried. Married women, infants, persons insane, imprisoned or without the United States, in the employment of the United States, or of this State, have two years after their disabilities are removed to file claims.

Claims are classified and paid out of the estate in the following manner:

First. Funeral expenses.

Second. The widow's award, if there is a widow; or children if there are children, and no widow.

Third. Expenses attending the last illness, not including physician's bill.

Fourth. Debts due the common school or township fund.

Fifth. All expenses of proving the will and taking out letters testamentary or administration, and settlement of the estate, and the physician's bill in the last illness of deceased.

Sixth. Where the deceased has received money in trust for any purpose, his executor or administrator shall pay out of his estate the amount received and not accounted for.

Seventh. All other debts and demands of whatsoever kind, without regard to quality or dignity, which shall be exhibited to the court within two years from the granting of letters.

Award to Widow and Children, exclusive of debts and legacies or bequests, except funeral expenses:

First. The family pictures and wearing apparel, jewels and ornaments of herself and minor children.

Second. School books and the family library of the value of $100.

Third. One sewing machine.

Fourth. Necessary beds, bedsteads and bedding for herself and family.

Fifth. The stoves and pipe used in the family, with the necessary cooking utensils, or in case they have none, $50 in money.

Sixth. Household and kitchen furniture to the value of $100.

Seventh. One milch cow and calf for every four members of her family.

Eighth. Two sheep for each member of her family, and the fleeces taken from the same, and one horse, saddle and bridle.

Ninth. Provisions for herself and family for one year.

Tenth. Food for the stock above specified for six months.

Eleventh. Fuel for herself and family for three months.

Twelfth. One hundred dollars worth of other property suited to her condition in life, to be selected by the widow.

The widow if she elects may have in lieu of the said award, the same personal property or money in place thereof as is or may be exempt from execution or attachment against the head of a family.

TAXES.

The owners of real and personal property, on the first day of May in each year, are liable for the taxes thereon.

Assessments should be completed before the fourth Monday in June, at which time the town board of review meets to examine assessments, hear objections, and make such changes as ought to be made. The county board have also power to correct or change assessments.

The tax books are placed in the hands of the town collector on or before the tenth day of December, who retains them until the tenth day of March following, when he is required to return them to the county treasurer, who then collects all delinquent taxes.

No costs accrue on real estate taxes till advertised, which takes place the first day of April, when three weeks' notice is required before judgment. Cost of advertising, twenty cents each tract of land, and ten cents each lot.

Judgment is usually obtained at May term of County Court. Costs six cents each tract of land, and five cents each lot. Sale takes place in June. Costs in addition to those before mentioned, twenty-eight cents each tract of land, and twenty-seven cents each town lot.

Real estate sold for taxes may be redeemed any time before the expiration of two years from the date of sale, by payment to the County Clerk of the amount for which it was sold and twenty-five per cent. thereon if redeemed within six months, fifty per cent. if between six and twelve months, if between twelve and eighteen months seventy-five per cent., and if between eighteen months and two years one hundred per cent., and in addition, all subsequent taxes paid by the purchaser, with ten per cent. interest thereon, also one dollar each tract if notice is given by the purchaser of the sale, and a fee of twenty-five cents to the clerk for his certificate.

JURISDICTION OF COURTS.

Justices have jurisdiction in all civil cases on contracts for the recovery of moneys for damages for injury to real property, or taking, detaining, or injuring personal property; for rent; for all cases to recover damages done real or personal property by railroad companies, in actions of replevin, and in actions for damages for fraud in the sale, purchase, or exchange of personal property, when the amount claimed as due is not over $200. They have also jurisdiction in all cases for violation of the ordinances of cities, towns or villages. A justice of the peace may orally order an officer or a private person to arrest any one committing or attempting to commit a criminal offense. He also upon complaint can issue his warrant for the arrest of any person accused of having committed a crime, and have him brought before him for examination.

COUNTY COURTS

Have jurisdiction in all matters of probate, settlement of estates of deceased persons, appointment of guardians and conservators, and settlement of their accounts; all matters relating to apprentices; proceedings for the collection of taxes and assessments, and in proceedings of executions, administrators, guardians and conservators for the sale of real estate. In law cases they have concurrent jurisdiction with Circuit Courts in all cases where Justices of Peace now have when the amount claimed shall not exceed $500, and in all criminal offenses where the punishment is not imprisonment in the penitentiary or death, but no appeal is allowed from Justice of the Peace to County Courts.

Circuit Courts—Have unlimited jurisdiction.

LIMITATION OF ACTION.

Accounts five years. Notes and written contracts ten years. Judgments twenty years. Partial payments or new promise in writing, within or after said period, will revive the debt. Absence from the State deducted, and when the cause of action is barred by the law of another State, it has the same effect here. Slander and libel, one year. Personal injuries, two years. To recover land or make entry thereon, twenty years. Action to foreclose mortgage or trust deed, or make a sale, within ten years.

All persons in possession of land, and paying taxes for seven consecutive years, with color of title, and all persons paying taxes for seven consecutive years, with color of title, on vacant land, shall be held to be the legal owners to the extent of their paper title.

MARRIED WOMEN

May sue and be sued. Husband and wife not liable for each other's debts, either before or after marriage, but both are liable for expenses and education of the family.

She may contract the same as if unmarried, except that in a partnership business she can not, without consent of her husband, unless he has abandoned or deserted her, or is idiotic or insane, or confined in penitentiary; she is entitled and can recover her own earnings, but neither husband nor wife is entitled to compensation for any services rendered for the other. At the death of the husband, in addition to widow's award, a married woman has a dower interest (one-third) in all real estate owned by her husband after their marriage, and which has not been released by her, and the husband has the same interest in the real estate of the wife at her death.

EXEMPTIONS FROM FORCED SALE.

Home worth $1,000, and the following Personal Property: Lot of ground and buildings thereon, occupied as a residence by the debtor, being a householder and having a family, to the value of $1,000. Exemption continues after the death of the householder for the benefit of widow and family, some one of them occupying the homestead until youngest child shall become twenty-one years of age, and until death of widow. There is no exemption from sale for taxes, assessments, debt or liability incurred for the purchase or improvement of said homestead. No release or waiver of exemption is valid, unless in writing, and subscribed by such householder and wife (if he have one), and acknowledged as conveyances of real estate are required to be acknowledged. The following articles of personal property owned by the debtor, are exempt from execution, writ of attachment, and distress for rent: The necessary wearing apparel of every person; one sewing machine; the furniture, tools and implements necessary to carry on his trade or business, not exceeding $100 in value; the implements or library of any professional man, not exceeding $100 in value; materials and stock designed and procured for carrying on his trade or business, and intended to be used or wrought therein, not exceeding $100 in value; and also, when the debtor is the head of a family and resides with the same, necessary beds, bedsteads, and bedding, two stoves and pipe, necessary household furniture not exceeding in value $100, one cow, calf, two swine, one yoke of oxen, or two horses in lieu thereof, worth not exceeding $200, with the harness therefor, necessary provisions and fuel for the use of the family three months, and necessary food for the stock hereinbefore exempted for the same time; the bibles, school books and family pictures; the family library, cemetery lots, and rights of burial, and tombs for the repositories of the dead; one hundred dollars' worth of other property, suited to his condition in life, selected by the debtor. No personal property is exempt from sale for the wages of laborers or servants. Wages of a laborer who is the head of a family can not be garnisheed, except the sum due him be in excess of $25.

DEEDS AND MORTGAGES.

To be valid there must be a valid consideration. Special care should be taken to have them signed, sealed, delivered, and properly acknowledged, with the proper seal attached. Witnesses are not required. The acknowledgement must be made in this state, before Master in Chancery, Notary Public, United States Commissioner, Circuit or County Clerk, Justice of Peace, or any Court of Record having a seal, or any Judge, Justice, or Clerk of any such Court. When taken before a Notary Public, or United States Commissioner, the same shall be attested by his official seal, when taken before a Court or the Clerk thereof, the same shall be attested by the seal of such Court, and when taken before a Justice of the Peace residing out of the county where the real estate to be conveyed lies, there shall be added a certificate of the County Clerk under his seal of office, that he was a Justice of the Peace in the county at the time of taking the same. A deed is good without such certificate attached, but can not be used in evidence unless such a certificate is produced or other competent evidence introduced. Acknowledgements made out of the state must either be executed according to the laws of this state, or there should be attached a certificate that it is in conformity with the laws of the state or country where executed. Where this is not done the same may be proved by any other legal way. Acknowledgments where the Homestead rights are to be waived must state as follows: "Including the release and waiver of the right of homestead."

Notaries Public can take acknowledgements any where in the state.

Sheriffs, if authorized by the mortgagor of real or personal property in his mortgage, may sell the property mortgaged.

In the case of the death of grantor or holder of the equity of redemption of real estate mortgaged, or conveyed by deed of trust where equity of redemption is waived, and it contains power of sale, must be foreclosed in the same manner as a common mortgage in court.

ESTRAYS.

Horses, mules, asses, neat cattle, swine, sheep, or goats found straying at any time during the year, in counties where such animals are not allowed to run at large, or between the last day of October and the 15th day of April in other counties, the owner thereof being unknown, may be taken up as estrays.

No person not a householder in the county where estray is found can lawfully take up an estray, and then only upon or about his farm or place of residence. Estrays should not be used before advertised, except animals giving milk, which may be milked for their benefit.

Notices must be posted up within five (5) days in three (3) of the most public places in the town or precinct in which estray was found, giving the residence of the taker up, and a particular description of the estray, its age, color, and marks natural and artificial, and stating before what justice of the peace in such town or precinct, and at what time, not less than ten (10) nor more than fifteen (15) days from the time of posting such notices, he will apply to have the estray appraised.

A copy of such notice should be filed by the taker up with the town clerk, whose duty it is to enter the same at large, in a book kept by him for that purpose.

If the owner of estray shall not have appeared and proved ownership, and taken the same away, first paying the taker up his reasonable charges for taking up, keeping, and advertising the same, the taker up shall appear before the justice of the peace mentioned in above mentioned notice, and make an affidavit as required by law.

As the affidavit has to be made before the justice, and all other steps as to appraisement, etc., are before him, who is familiar therewith, they are therefore omitted here.

Any person taking up an estray at any other place than about or upon his farm or residence, or without complying with the law, shall forfeit and pay a fine of ten dollars with costs.

Ordinary diligence is required in taking care of estrays, but in case they die or get away the taker is not liable for the same.

GAME.

It is unlawful to hunt, kill or in any manner interfere with deer, wild turkey, prairie chicken, partridge or pheasants between the first day of January and the fifteenth day of August; or any quail, between the first day of January and the first day of October; or any woodcock, between the first day of January and the first day of July; or any wild goose, duck, Wilson snipe brandt, or other water fowl, between the fifteenth day of April and the fifteenth day of August, in each and every year. Penalty: Fine not less than $10 nor more than $25, and costs of suit, and shall stand committed to county jail until fine is paid, but not exceeding ten days.

It is unlawful to hunt with gun, dog or net, within the inclosed grounds or lands of another, without permission. Penalty: Fine not less than $3 and not exceeding $100, to be paid into school fund.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Whenever any of the following articles shall be contracted for, or sold or delivered, and no special contract or agreement shall be made to the contrary, the weight per bushel shall be as follows, to-wit:

	Pounds.		Pounds.

Penalty for giving less than the above standard is double the amount of property wrongfully not given, and ten dollars addition thereto.

MILLERS.

The owner or occupant of every public grist mill in this state shall grind all grain brought to his mill in its turn. The toll for both steam and water mills, is, for grinding and bolting wheat, rye, or other grain, one eighth part; for grinding Indian corn, oats, barley and buckwheat not required to be bolted, one seventh part; for grinding malt, and chopping all kinds of grain, one eighth part. It is the duty of every miller when his mill is in repair, to aid and assist in loading and unloading all grain brought to him to be ground, and he is also required to keep an accurate half bushel measure, and an accurate set of toll dishes or scales for weighing the grain. The penalty for neglect or refusal to comply with the law is $5, to the use of any person to sue for the same, to be recovered before any justice of the peace of the county where penalty is incurred. Millers are accountable for the safe keeping of all grain left in his mill for the purpose of being ground, with bags or casks containing same (except it results from unavoidable accidents), provided that such bags or casks are distinctly marked with the initial letters of the owner's name.

MARKS AND BRANDS.

Owners of cattle, horses, hogs, sheep or goats may have one ear mark and one brand, but which shall be different from his neighbor's, and may be recorded by the county clerk of the county in which such property is kept. The fee for such record is fifteen cents. The record of such shall be open to examination free of charge. In cases of disputes as to marks or brands, such record is prima facie evidence. Owners of cattle, horses, hogs, sheep or goats that may have been branded by the former owner, may be re-branded in presence of one or more of his neighbors, who shall certify to the facts of the marking or branding being done, when done, and in what brand or mark they were re-branded or re-marked, which certificate may also be recorded as before stated.

ADOPTION OF CHILDREN.

Children may be adopted by any resident of this state, by filing a petition in the Circuit or County Court of the county in which he resides, asking leave to do so, and if desired may ask that the name of the child be changed. Such petition, if made by a person having a husband or wife, will not be granted, unless the husband or wife joins therein, as the adoption must be by them jointly.

The petition shall state name, sex, and age of the child, and the new name, if it is desired to change the name. Also the name and residence of the parents of the child, if known, and of the guardian, if any, and whether the parents or guardians consent to the adoption.

The court must find, before granting decree, that the parents of the child, or the survivors of them, have deserted his or her family or such child for one year next preceding the application, or if neither are living, the guardian; if no guardian, the next of kin in this state capable of giving consent, has had notice of the presentation of the petition and consents to such adoption. If the child is of the age of fourteen years or upwards, the adoption can not be made without its consent.

SURVEYORS AND SURVEYS.

There is in every county elected a surveyor known as county surveyor, who has power to appoint deputies, for whose official acts he is responsible. It is the duty of the county surveyor, either by himself or his deputy, to make all surveys that he may be called upon to make within his county as soon as may be after application is made. The necessary chainmen and other assistance must be employed by the person requiring the same to be done, and to be by him paid, unless otherwise agreed; but the chainmen must be disinterested persons and approved by the surveyor and sworn by him to measure justly and impartially.

The County Board in each county is required by law to provide a copy of the United States field notes and plats of their surveys of the lands in the county to be kept in the recorder's office subject to examination by the public, and the county surveyor is required to make his surveys in conformity to said notes, plats and the laws of the United States governing such matters. The surveyor is also required to keep a record of all surveys made by him, which shall be subject to inspection by any one interested, and shall be delivered up to his successor in office. A certified copy of the said surveyor's record shall be prima facie evidence of its contents.

The fees of county surveyors are six dollars per day. The county surveyor is also ex officio inspector of mines, and as such, assisted by some practical miner selected by him, shall once each year inspect all the mines in the county, for which they shall each receive such compensation as may be fixed by the County Board, not exceeding $5 a day, to be paid out of the county treasury.

ROADS.

Where practicable from the nature of the ground, persons traveling in any kind of vehicle, must turn to the right of the center of the road, so as to permit each carriage to pass without interfering with each other. The penalty for a violation of this provision is $5 for every offense, to be recovered by the party injured; but to recover, there must have occurred some injury to person or property resulting from the violation. The owners of any carriage traveling upon any road in this State for the conveyance of passengers who shall employ or continue in his employment as driver any person who is addicted to drunkenness, or the excessive use of spiritous liquors, after he has had notice of the same, shall forfeit, at the rate of $5 per day, and if any driver while actually engaged in driving any such carriage, shall be guilty of intoxication to such a degree as to endanger the safety of passengers, it shall be the duty of the owner, on receiving written notice of the fact, signed by one of the passengers, and certified by him on oath, forthwith to discharge such driver. If such owner shall have such driver in his employ within three months after such notice, he is liable for $5 per day for the time he shall keep said driver in his employment after receiving such notice.

Persons driving any carriage on any public highway are prohibited from running their horses upon any occasion under a penalty of a fine not exceeding $10, or imprisonment not exceeding sixty days, at the discretion of the court. Horses attached to any carriage used to convey passengers for hire must be properly hitched or the lines placed in the hands of some other person before the driver leaves them for any purpose. For violation of this provision each driver shall forfeit twenty dollars, to be recovered by action, to be commenced within six months. It is understood by the term carriage herein to mean any carriage or vehicle used for the transportation of passengers or goods or either of them.

The commissioners of highways in the different towns have the care and superintendence of highways and bridges therein. They have all the powers necessary to lay out, vacate, regulate and repair all roads, build and repair bridges, divide their respective towns into as many road districts as they shall think convenient. This is to be done annually, and ten days before the annual town meeting. In addition to the above, it is their duty to erect and keep in repair at the forks or crossing-place of the most important roads post and guide boards with plain inscriptions, giving directions and distances to the most noted places to which such road may lead; also to make provisions to prevent thistles, burdock, and cockle burrs, mustard, yellow dock, Indian mallow, and jessamine weed from seeding, and to extirpate the same as far as practicable, and to prevent all rank growth of vegetation on the public highways, so far as the same may obstruct public travel, and it is in their discretion to erect watering places for public use for watering teams at such points as may be deemed advisable. Every able-bodied male inhabitant, being above the age of twenty-one years, and under the age of fifty, excepting paupers, idiots, lunatics, trustees of schools and school directors, and such others as are exempt by law, is required to labor on highways in their respective road districts, not less than one or more than three days in each and every year. Three days' notice must be given by the overseer of the time and place he requires such road labor to be done. The labor must be performed in the road district in which the person resides. Any person may commute for such labor by paying at the rate of $1.50 per day, if done within the three days' notice, but after that time the rate is $2 per day.

Any person liable for work on highways who has been assessed two days or more and has not commuted, may be required to furnish team, or a cart, wagon or plow, with a pair of horses or oxen and a man to manage them, for which he will be entitled to two days for each day's work. Eight hours is a day's work on the roads, and there is a penalty of twenty-five cents an hour against any person or substitute who shall neglect or refuse to perform. Any person remaining idle, or does not work faithfully or hinders others from doing so, forfeits to the town $2.

Every person assessed and duly notified, who has not commuted and refuses or neglects to appear, shall forfeit to the town for every day's refusal or neglect, the sum of $2; if he was required to furnish a team, carriage, man or implement, and neglects or refuses to comply, he is liable to the following fines:

First. For wholly failing to comply, $4 each day.

Second. For omitting to furnish a pair of horses or oxen, $1.50 each day.

Third. For omitting to furnish a man to manage team, $2 each day.

Fourth. For omitting to furnish a wagon, cart or plow, 75 cents each day.

The Commissioners estimate and assess the highway labor and road tax. The road tax on real and personal property can not exceed forty cents on each hundred dollars' worth. The labor or road tax in villages, towns or cities, is paid over to the corporate authorities of such, for the improvement of streets, roads and bridges within their limits. Commissioners' compensation $1.50 per day. The Treasurer, who is one of their number, is entitled to 2 per cent. on all moneys he may receive and pay out.

Overseers. Their duties are to repair and keep in order the highways in their districts; to warn persons to work out their road tax at such time and place as they think proper; to collect fines and commutation money, and execute all lawful orders of the Commissioners of Highways; also make list, within sixteen days after their election, of the names of all inhabitants in his road district liable to work on highways. For refusal to perform any of his duties, he is liable to a fine of $10. The compensation of overseers is $1.50 a day, the number of days to be audited by the Highway Commissioners.

As all township and county officers are familiar with their duties, it is only intended to give the points of the law that the public should be familiar with. The manner of laying out, altering or vacating roads, etc., will not be here stated, as it would require more space than is contemplated in a work of this kind. It is sufficient to state that, the first step is by petition, addressed to the Commissioners, setting out what is prayed for, giving the names of the owners of lands if known, if not known so state, over which the road is to pass, giving the general course, its place of beginning, and where it terminates. It requires not less than twelve freeholders residing within three miles of the road who shall sign the petition. Public roads must not be less than fifty feet wide, nor more than sixty feet wide. Roads not exceeding two miles in length, if petitioned for, may be laid out, not less than forty feet. Private roads for private and public use, may be laid out of the width of three rods, on petition of the person directly interested; the damage occasioned thereby shall be paid by the premises benefited thereby, and before the road is opened. If not opened in two years, the order shall be considered rescinded. Commissioners in their discretion may permit persons who live on or have private roads, to work out their road tax thereon. Public roads must be opened in five days from date of filing order of location, or be deemed vacated.

DRAINAGE.

Whenever one or more owners or occupants of land desire to construct a drain or ditch across the land of others for agricultural or sanitary purposes, the proceedings are as follows:

- 1st. File a petition with the clerk of the town board of auditors in counties where there is township organization, or in counties not so organized with the clerk of the County Court, stating the necessity of the same, its starting point, route and terminus; and if it shall be deemed necessary for successful drainage that a levee or other work be constructed, a general description of the same shall be made.

2d. After filing, two weeks' notice must be given by posting notices in three of the most public places in such township through which the drain, ditch or other work is proposed to be constructed; and also, by publishing a copy thereof in some newspaper published in the county in which petition is filed, at least once each week for two successive weeks. The notice must state when and before what board such petition is filed, the starting point, route, terminus and description of the proposed work. On receipt of the petition by the clerk of either board as before mentioned, it is his duty to immediately give notice to the board of which he is clerk, of the fact, and that a meeting of the board will be held on a day to be fixed not later than sixty days after the filing of said petition, to consider the prayer of the same; and it is further the duty of the clerk, to publish a notice of the filing of the petition and the meeting of the board to consider it, by posting the same in the three most public places in the township or county. On the hearing, all parties may contest the matter, and if it shall appear to the board that the work contemplated is necessary, or is useful for the drainage of the land for agricultural and sanitary purposes, they shall so find and shall file their petition in the County Court, reciting the original petition and stating their finding, and pray that the costs of the improvement be assessed, and for that purpose three commissioners be appointed to lay out and construct the work. The costs of the hearing before the town board is to be paid by the petitioners. After commissioners are appointed, they organize and proceed to examine the work; and if they find the benefits greater than the cost and expense of the work, then it is their duty to have the surveyor's plans and specifications made, and when done report the same to the court, before which parties can be heard prior to confirmation. The commissioners are not confined to the route or plan of the petition, but may change the same. After report of commissioners is confirmed, then a jury assess the damages and benefits against the land damaged or benefited.

As it is only contemplated in a work of this kind to give an abstract of the laws, and as the parties who have in charge the execution of the further proceedings are likely to be familiar with the requirements of the statute, the necessary details are not here inserted.

PAUPERS.

Every poor person who shall be unable to earn a livelihood in consequence of any bodily infirmity, idiocy, lunacy or unavoidable cause, shall be supported by the father, grand-father, mother, grand-mother, children, grand-children, brothers or sisters of such poor person, if they or either of them be of sufficient ability; but if any of such dependent class shall have become so from intemperance, or other bad conduct, they shall not be entitled to support from any relation except parent or child.

The children shall first be called on to support their parents, if they are able; but if not, the parents of such poor person shall then be called on, if of sufficient ability; and if there be no parents or children able, then the brothers and sisters of such dependent person shall be called upon; and if there be no brothers or sisters of sufficient ability, the grand-children of such person shall next be called on; and if they are not able, then the grand-parents. Married females, while their husbands live, shall not be liable to contribute for the support of their poor relations except out of their separate property. It is the duty of the state's (county) attorney, to make complaint to the County Court of his county against all the relatives of such paupers in this state liable to his support and prosecute the same. In case the state's attorney neglects, or refuses, to complain in such cases, then it is the duty of the overseer of the poor to do so. The person called upon to contribute shall have at least ten days' notice of such application by summons. The court has the power to determine the kind of support, depending upon the circumstances of the parties, and may also order two or more of the different degrees to maintain such poor person, and prescribe the proportion of each, according to their ability. The court may specify the time for which the relative shall contribute—in fact has control over the entire subject matter, with power to enforce its orders. Every county (except those in which the poor are supported by the towns, and in such cases the towns are liable) is required to relieve and support all poor and indigent persons lawfully resident therein. Residence means the actual residence of the party, or the place where he was employed; or in case he was in no employment, then it shall be the place where he made his home. When any person becomes chargeable as a pauper in any county or town who did not reside at the commencement of six months immediately preceding his becoming so, but did at that time reside in some other county or town in this state, then the county or town, as the case may be, becomes liable for the expense of taking care of such person until removed, and it is the duty of the overseer to notify the proper authorities of the fact. If any person shall bring and leave any pauper in any county in this state where such pauper had no legal residence, knowing him to be such, he is liable to a fine of $100. In counties under township organization, the supervisors in each town are ex-officio overseers of the poor. The overseers of the poor act under the directions of the County Board in taking care of the poor and granting of temporary relief; also, providing for non-resident persons not paupers who may be taken sick and not able to pay their way, and in case of death cause such person to be decently buried.

FENCES.

In counties under township organization, the town assessor and commissioner of highways are the fence-viewers in their respective towns. In other counties the County Board appoints three in each precinct annually. A lawful fence is four and one-half feet high, in good repair, consisting of rails, timber, boards, stone, hedges, or whatever the fence-viewers of the town or precinct where the same shall lie, shall consider equivalent thereto, but in counties under township organization the annual town meeting may establish any other kind of fence as such, or the County Board in other counties may do the same. Division fences shall be made and maintained in just proportion by the adjoining owners, except when the owner shall choose to let his land lie open, but after a division fence is built by agreement or otherwise, neither party can remove his part of such fence so long as he may crop or use such land for farm purposes, or without giving the other party one year's notice in writing of his intention to remove his portion. When any person shall enclose his land upon the enclosure of another, he shall refund the owner of the adjoining lands a just proportion of the value at that time of such fence. The value of fence and the just proportion to be paid or built and maintained by each is to be ascertained by two fence-viewers in the town or precinct. Such fence-viewers have power to settle all disputes between different owners as to fences built or to be built, as well as to repairs to be made. Each party chooses one of the viewers, but if the other party neglects, after eight days' notice in writing, to make his choice, then the other party may select both. It is sufficient to notify the tenant or party in possession, when the owner is not a resident of the town or precinct. The two fence-viewers chosen, after viewing the premises, shall hear the statements of the parties, in case they can't agree, they shall select another fence-viewer to act with them, and the decision of any two of them is final. The decision must be reduced to writing, and should plainly set out description of fence and all matters settled by them, and must be filed in the office of the town clerk in counties under township organization, and in other counties with the county clerk.

Where any person is liable to contribute to the erection or the repairing of a division fence, neglects or refuses so to do, the party injured, after giving sixty days notice in writing when a fence is to be erected, or ten days when it is only repairs, may proceed to have the work done at the expense of the party whose duty it is to do it, to be recovered from him with costs of suit, and the party so neglecting shall also be liable to the party injured for all damages accruing from such neglect or refusal, to be determined by any two fence-viewers selected as before provided, the appraisement to be reduced to writing and signed.

D. Lusk

(DECEASED)

Where a person shall conclude to remove his part of a division fence, and let his land lie open, and having given the year's notice required, the adjoining owner may cause the value of said fence to be ascertained by fence-viewers as before provided, and on payment or tender of the amount of such valuation to the owner, it shall prevent the removal. A party removing a division fence without notice is liable for the damages accruing thereby.

Where a fence has been built on the land of another through mistake, the owner may enter upon such premises and remove his fence and material within six months after the division line has been ascertained. Where the material to build such a fence has been taken from the land on which it was built, then before it can be removed, the person claiming must first pay for such material to the owner of the land from which it was taken, nor shall such a fence be removed at a time when the removal will throw open or expose the crops of the other party; a reasonable time must be given beyond the six months to remove crops.

The compensation of fence-viewers is one dollar and fifty cents a day each, to be paid in the first instance by the party calling them, but in the end all expenses, including amount charged by the fence-viewers, must be paid equally by the parties, except in cases where a party neglects or refuses to make or maintain a just proportion of a division fence, when the party in default shall pay them.

DAMAGES FROM TRESPASS.

Where stock of any kind breaks into any person's enclosure, the fence being good and sufficient, the owner is liable for the damage done; but where the damage is done by stock running at large, contrary to law, the owner is liable where there is not such a fence. Where stock is found trespassing on the enclosure of another as aforesaid, the owner or occupier of the premises may take possession of such stock and keep the same until damages, with reasonable charges for keeping and feeding and all costs of suit, are paid. Any person taking or reseuing such stock so held without his consent, shall be liable to a fine of not less than three nor more than five dollars for each animal rescued, to be recovered by suit before a justice of the peace for the use of the school fund. Within twenty-four hours after taking such animal into his possession, the person taking it up must give notice of the fact to the owner, if known, or if unknown, notices must be posted in some public place near the premises.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

The owner of lands, or his legal representatives, can sue for and recover rent therefor, in any of the following cases:

First. When rent is due and in arrears on a lease for life or lives.

Second. When lands are held and occupied by any person without any special agreement for rent.

Third. When possession is obtained under an agreement, written or verbal, for the purchase of the premises and before deed given, the right to possession is terminated by forfeiture on con-compliance with the agreement, and possession is wrongfully refused or neglected to be given upon demand made in writing by the party entitled thereto. Provided that all payments made by the vendee or his representatives or assigns, may be set off against the rent.

Fourth. When land has been sold upon a judgment or a decree of court, when the party to such judgment or decree, or person holding under him, wrongfully refuses, or neglects, to surrender possession of the same, after demand in writing by the person entitled to the possession.

Fifth. When the lands have been sold upon a mortgage or trust deed, and the mortgagor or grantor or person holding under him, wrongfully refuses or neglects to surrender possession of the same, after demand in writing by the person entitled to the possession.

If any tenant, or any person who shall come into possession from or under or by collusion with such tenant, shall willfully hold over any lands, etc., after the expiration the term of their lease, and after demand made in writing for the possession thereof, is liable to pay double rent. A tenancy from year to year requires sixty days notice in writing, to terminate the same at the end of the year; such notice can be given at any time within four months preceding the last sixty days of the year.

A tenancy by the month, or less than a year, where the tenant holds over without any special agreement, the landlord may terminate the tenancy, by thirty days notice in writing.

When rent is due, the landlord may serve a notice upon the tenant, stating that unless the rent is paid within not less than five days, his lease will be terminated; if the rent is not paid, the landlord may consider the lease ended. When default is made in any of the terms of a lease, it shall not be necessary to give more than ten days notice to quit or of the termination of such tenancy; and the same may be terminated on giving such notice to quit, at any time after such default in any of the terms of such lease; which notice may be substantially in the following form, viz:

To —, You are hereby notified that, in consequence of your default in (here insert the character of the default), of the premises now occupied by you, being etc. (here describe the premises), I have elected to determine your lease, and you are hereby notified to quit and deliver up possession of the same to me within ten days of this date (dated, etc.)

The above to be signed by the lessor or his agent, and no other notice or demand of possession or termination of such tenancy is necessary.

Demand may be made, or notice served, by delivering a written or printed, or partly either, copy thereof to the tenant, or leaving the same with some person above the age of twelve years residing on or in possession of the premises; and in case no one is in the actual possession of the said premises, then by posting the same on the premises. When the tenancy is for a certain time, and the term expires by the terms of the lease, the tenant is then bound to surrender possession, and no notice to quit or demand of possession is necessary.

Distress for rent.—In all cases of distress for rent, the landlord, by himself, his agent or attorney, may seize for rent any personal property of his tenant that may be found in the county where the tenant resides; the property of any other person, even if found on the premises, is not liable.

An inventory of the property levied upon, with a statement of the amount of rent claimed, should be at once filed with some justice of the peace, if not over $200; and if above that sum, with the clerk of a court of record of competent jurisdiction. Property may be released, by the party executing a satisfactory bond for double the amount.

The landlord may distrain for rent, any time within six months after the expiration of the term of the lease, or when terminated.

When rent is payable wholly or in part, in specific articles of property, or products of the premises, or labor, the landlord may distrain for the value of the same.

Landlords have a lien upon the crops grown or growing upon the demised premises for the rent thereof, and also for the faithful performance of the terms of the lease.

In all cases where the premises rented shall be sub-let, or the lease assigned, the landlord shall have the same right to enforce lien against such lessee or assignee, that he has against the tenant to whom the premises were rented.

When a tenant abandons or removes from the premises or any part thereof, the landlord, or his agent or attorney, may seize upon any grain or other crops grown or growing upon the premises, or part thereof so abandoned, whether the rent is due or not. If such grain, or other crops, or any part thereof, is not fully grown or matured, the landlord, or his agent or attorney, shall cause the same to be properly cultivated, harvested or gathered, and may sell the same, and from the proceeds pay all his labor, expenses and rent. The tenant may, before the sale of such property, redeem the same by tendering the rent and reasonable compensation for work done, or he may replevy the same.

Exemption.—The same articles of personal property which are by law exempt from execution, except the crops as above stated, is also exempt from distress for rent.

LIENS.

Any person who shall by contract, express or implied, or partly both, with the owner of any lot or tract of land, furnish labor or material, or services as an architect or superintendent, in building, altering, repairing or ornamenting any house or other building or appurtenance thereto on such lot, or upon any street or alley, and connected with such improvements, shall have a lien upon the whole of such lot or tract of land, and upon such house or building and appurtenances, for the amount due to him for such labor, material or services. If the contract is expressed, and the time for the completion of the work is beyond three years from the commencement thereof; or, if the time of payment is beyond one year from the time stipulated for the completion of the work, then no lien exists. If the contract is implied, then no lien exists, unless the work be done or material is furnished within one year from the commencement of the work or delivery of the materials. As between different creditors having liens, no preference is given to the one whose contract was first made; but each shares pro-rata. Incumbrances existing on the lot or tract of the land at the time the contract is made, do not operate on the improvements, and are only preferred to the extent of the value of the land at the time of making the contract. The above lien can not be enforced unless suit is commenced within six months after the last payment for labor or materials shall have become due and payable. Sub-contractors, mechanics, workmen and other persons furnishing any material, or performing any labor for a contractor as before specified, have a lien to the extent of the amount due the contractor at the time the following notice is served upon the owner of the land who made the contract:

To —, You are hereby notified, that I have been employed by— (here state whether to labor or furnish material, and substantially the nature of the demand) upon your (here state in general terms description and situation of building), and that I shall hold the (building, or as the case may be), and your interest in the ground, liable for the amount that may (is or may become) due me on account thereof. Signature, —

If there is a contract in writing between contractor and sub-contractor, a copy of it should be served with above notice, and said notice must be served within forty days from the completion of such sub-contract, if there is one; if not, then from the time payment should have been made to the person performing the labor or furnishing the material. If the owner is not a resident of the county, or can not be found therein, then the above notice must be filed with the clerk of the Circuit Court, with his fee, fifty cents, and a copy of said notice must be published in a newspaper published in the county, for four successive weeks.

When the owner or agent is notified as above, he can retain any money due the contractor sufficient to pay such claim; if more than one claim, and not enough to pay all, they are to be paid pro rata.

The owner has the right to demand in writing, a statement of the contractor, of what he owes for labor, etc., from time to time as the work progresses, and on his failure to comply, forfeits to the owner $50 for every offense.

The liens referred to cover any and all estates, whether in fee for life, for years, or any other interest which the owner may have.

To enforce the lien of sub-contractors, suit must be commenced within three months from the time of the performance of the sub-contract, or during the work or furnishing materials.

Hotel, inn and boarding-house keepers, have a lien upon the baggage and other valuables of their guests or boarders, brought into such hotel, inn or boarding-house, by their guests or boarders, for the proper charges due from such guests or boarders for their accommodation, board and lodgings, and such extras as are furnished at their request.

Stable-keepers and other persons have a lien upon the horses, carriages and harness kept by them, for the proper charges due for the keeping thereof and expenses bestowed thereon at the request of the owner or the person having the possession of the same.

Agisters (persons who take care of cattle belonging to others), and persons keeping, yarding, feeding or pasturing domestic animals, shall have a lien upon the animals agistered, kept, yarded or fed, for the proper charges due for such service.

All persons who may furnish any railroad corporation in this state with fuel, ties, material, supplies or any other article or thing necessary for the construction, maintenance, operation or repair of its road by contract, or may perform work or labor on the same, is entitled to be paid as part of the current expenses of the road, and have a lien upon all its property. Sub-contractors or laborers have also a lien. The conditions and limitations both as to contractors and sub-contractors, are about the same as herein stated as to general liens.

DEFINITION OF COMMERCIAL TERMS.

$— means dollars, being a contraction of U. S., which was formerly placed before any denomination of money, and meant, as it means now, United States Currency.

£— means pounds, English money.

@ stands for at or to. lb for pound, and bbl. for barrel; ¢ for per or by the. Thus, Butter sells at 20@30c ¢ lb, and Flour at $8@12 ¢ bbl.

% for per cent and # for number.

May 1.—Wheat sells at $1.20@1.25, “seller June.” Seller June means that the person who sells the wheat has the privilege of delivering it at any time during the month of June.

Selling short, is contracting to deliver a certain amount of grain or stock, at a fixed price, within a certain length of time, when the seller has not the stock on hand. It is for the interest of the person selling "short," to depress the market as much as possible, in order that he may buy and fill his contract at a profit. Hence the "shorts" are termed "bears."

Buying long, is to contract to purchase a certain amount of grain or shares of stock at a fixed price, deliverable within a stipulated time, expecting to make a profit by the rise of prices. The "longs" are termed "bulls," as it is for their interest to "operate" so as to "toss" the prices upward as much as possible.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT.

An agreement is where one party promises to another to do a certain thing in a certain time for a stipulated sum. Good business men always reduce an agreement to writing, which nearly always saves misunderstandings and trouble. No particular form is necessary, but the facts must be clearly and explicitly stated, and there must, to make it valid, be a reasonable consideration.

GENERAL FORM OF AGREEMENT.

THIS AGREEMENT, made the Second day of October, 1876, between John Jones, of Aurora, County of Kane, State of Illinois, of the first part, and Thomas Whiteside, of the same place, of the second part —

WITNESSETH, that the said John Jones, in consideration of the agreement of the party of the second part, hereinafter contained, contracts and agrees to and with the said Thomas Whiteside, that he will deliver, in good and marketable condition, at the Village of Batavia, Ill., during the month of November, of this year, One Hundred Tons of Prairie Hay, in the following lots, and at the following specified times; namely, twenty-five tons by the seventh of November, twenty-five tons additional by the fourteenth of the month, twenty-five tons more by the twenty-first, and the entire one hundred tons to be all delivered by the thirtieth of November.

And the said Thomas Whiteside, in consideration of the prompt fulfillment of this contract, on the part of the party of the first part, contracts to and agrees with the said John Jones, to pay for said hay five dollars per ton, for each ton as soon as delivered.

In case of failure of agreement by either of the parties hereto, it is hereby stipulated and agreed that the party so failing shall pay to the other, One Hundred Dollars, as fixed and settled damages.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands the day and year first above written.

JOHN JONES,

THOMAS WHITESIDE.

AGREEMENT WITH CLERK FOR SERVICES.

THIS AGREEMENT, made the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, between Reuben Stone, of Chicago, County of Cook, State of Illinois, party of the first part, and George Barclay, of Englewood, County of Cook, State of Illinois, party of the second part —

WITNESSETH, that said George Barclay agrees faithfully and diligently to work as clerk and salesman for the said Reuben Stone, for and during the space of one year from the date hereof, should both live such length of time, without absenting himself from his occupation;

during which time he, the said Barclay, in the store of said Stone, of Chicago, will carefully and honestly attend, doing and performing all duties as clerk and salesman aforesaid, in accordance and in all respects as directed and desired by the said Stone.

In consideration of which services, so to be rendered by the said Barclay, the said Stone agrees to pay to said Barclay the annual sum of one thousand dollars, payable in twelve equal monthly payments, each upon the last day of each month; provided that all dues for days of absence from business by said Barclay, shall be deducted from the sum otherwise by the agreement due and payable by the said Stone to the said Barclay.

Witness our hands.

BILLS OF SALE.

A bill of sale is a written agreement to another party, for a consideration to convey his right and interest in the personal property. The purchaser must take actual possession of the property. Juries have power to determine upon the fairness or unfairness of a bill of sale.

COMMON FORM OF BILL OF SALE.

KNOW ALL MEN by this instrument, that I, Louis Clay, of Princeton, Illinois, of the first part, for and in consideration of Five Hundred and Ten dollars, to me paid by John Floyd, of the same place, of the second part, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, have sold, and by this instrument do convey unto the said Floyd, party of the second part, his executors, administrators, and assigns, my undivided half of ten acres of corn, now growing on the farm of Thomas Tyrrell, in the town above mentioned; one pair of horses, sixteen sheep, and five cows, belonging to me, and in my possession at the farm aforesaid; to have and to hold the same unto the party of the second part, his executors and assigns, forever. And I do, for myself and legal representatives, agree with the said party of the second part, and his legal representatives, to warrant and defend the sale of the afore-mentioned property and chattels unto the said party of the second part, and his legal representatives, against all and every person whatsoever.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto affixed my hand, this tenth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

LOUIS CLAY.

BONDS.

A bond is a written admission on the part of the maker in which he pledges a certain sum to another, at a certain time.

COMMON FORM OF BOND.

KNOW ALL MEN by this instrument, that I, George Edgerton, of Watseka, Iroquois County, State of Illinois, am firmly bound unto Peter Kirchoff, of the place aforesaid, in the sum of five hundred dollars, to be paid to the said Peter Kirchoff, or his legal representatives; to which payment, to be made, I bind myself, or my legal representatives, by this instrument.

Sealed with my seal, and dated this second day of November, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

The condition of this bond is such that if I, George Edgerton, my heirs, administrators, or executors, shall promptly pay the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars in three equal annual payments from the date hereof, with annual interest, then the above obligation to be of no effect; otherwise to be in full force and valid.

CHATTEL MORTGAGES.

A chattel mortgage is a mortgage on personal property for payment of a certain sum of money, to hold the property against debts of other creditors. The mortgage must describe the property, and must be acknowledged before a justice of the peace in the township or precinct where the mortgagee resides, and entered upon his docket, and must be recorded in the recorder's office of the county.

GENERAL FORM OF CHATTEL MORTGAGE.

THIS INDENTURE, made and entered into this first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, between Theodore Lottinville, of the town of Geneseo in the County of Henry, and State of Illinois, party of the first part, and Paul Henshaw, of the same town, county, and State, party of the second part.

Witnesseth, that the said party of the first part, for and in consideration of the sum of one thousand dollars, in hand paid, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, does hereby grant, sell, convey, and confirm unto the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns forever, all and singular the following described goods and chattels, to wit:

Two three-year old roan-colored horses, one Burdett organ, No. 987, one Brussels carpet, 15x20 feet in size, one marble-top center table, one Home Comfort cooking stove, No. 8, one black walnut bureau with mirror attached, one set of parlor chairs (six in number), upholstered in green rep, with lounge corresponding with same in style and color of upholstery, now in possession of said Lottinville, at No. 4 Prairie Ave., Geneseo, Ill.;

Together with all and singular, the appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in any wise appertaining; to have and to hold the above described goods and chattels, unto the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns, forever.

Provided, always, and these presents are upon this express condition, that if the said Theodore Lottinville, his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, shall, on or before the first day of January, A.D., one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, pay, or cause to be paid, to the said Paul Ranslow, or his lawful attorney or attorneys, heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, the sum of One Thousand dollars, together with the interest that may accrue thereon, at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, from the first day of January, A.D. one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, until paid, according to the tenor of one promissory note bearing even date herewith for the payment of said sum of money, that then and from thenceforth, these presents, and everything herein contained, shall cease, and be null and void, anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

Provided, also, that the said Theodore Lottinville may retain the possession of and have the use of said goods and chattels until the day of payment aforesaid; and also, at his own expense, shall keep said goods and chattels; and also at the expiration of said time of payment, if said sum of money, together with the interest as aforesaid, shall not be paid, shall deliver up said goods and chattels, in good condition, to said Paul Ranslow, or his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns.

And provided, also, that if default in payment as aforesaid, by said party of the first part, shall be made, or if said party of the second part shall at any time before said promissory note becomes due, feel himself unsafe or insecure, that then the said party of the second part, or his attorney, agent, assigns, or heirs, executors, or administrators, shall have the right to take possession of said goods and chattels, wherever they may or can be found, and sell the same at public or private sale, to the highest bidder for cash in hand, after giving ten days' notice of the time and place of said sale, together with a description of the goods and chattels to be sold, by at least four advertisements, posted up in public places in the vicinity where said sale is to take place, and proceed to make the sum of money and interest promised as aforesaid, together with all reasonable costs, charges, and expenses in so doing; and if there shall be any overplus, shall pay the same without delay to the said party of the first part, or his legal representatives.

In testimony whereof, the said party of the first part has hereunto set his hand and affixed his seal, the day and year first above written.

Signed, sealed and delivered in presence of

LEASE OF FARM AND BUILDINGS THEREON.

THIS INDENTURE, made this second day of June, 1875, between David Patton of the Town of Bisbee, State of Illinois, of the first part, and John Doyle of the same place, of the second part,

Witnesseth, that the said David Patton, for and in consideration of the covenants hereinafter mentioned and reserved, on the part of the said John Doyle, his executors, administrators, and assigns, to be paid, kept, and performed, hath let, and by these presents doth grant, demise, and let, unto the said John Doyle, his executors, administrators, and assigns, all that parcel of land situate in Bisbee aforesaid, bounded and described as follows, to wit :

[Here describe the land.]

Together with all the appurtenances appertaining thereto. To have and to hold the said premises, with appurtenances thereto belonging, unto the said Doyle, his executors, administrators, and assigns, for the term of five years, from the first day of October next following, at a yearly rent of Six Hundred dollars, to be paid in equal payments, semi-annually, as long as said buildings are in good tenantable condition.

And the said Doyle, by these presents, covenants and agrees to pay all taxes and assessments, and keep in repair all hedges, ditches, rail, and other fences ; (the said David Patton, his heirs, assigns and administrators, to furnish all timber, brick, tile, and other materials necessary for such repairs.)

Said Doyle further covenants and agrees to apply to said land, in a farmer-like manner, all manure and compost accumulating upon said farm, and cultivate all the arable land in a husbandlike manner, according to the usual custom among farmers in the neighborhood ; he also agrees to trim the hedges at a seasonable time, preventing injury from cattle to such hedges, and to all fruit and other trees on the said premises. That he will seed down with clover and timothy seed twenty acres yearly of arable land, ploughing the same number of acres each Spring of land now in grass, and hitherto unbroken.

It is further agreed, that if the said Doyle shall fail to perform the whole or any one of the above mentioned covenants, then and in that case the said David Patton may declare this lease terminated, by giving three months' notice of the same, prior to the first of October of any year, and may distrain any part of the stock, goods, or chattels, or other property in possession of said Doyle, for sufficient to compensate for the non-performance of the above written covenants, the same to be determined, and amounts so to be paid to be determined, by three arbitrators, chosen as follows: Each of the parties to this instrument to choose one, and the two so chosen to select a third; the decision of said arbitrators to be final.

In witness whereof, we have hereto set our hands and seals.

LANDLORD'S AGREEMENT.

THIS certifies that I have let and rented, this first day of January, 1876, unto Jacob Schmidt, my house and lot, No. 15 Erie Street, in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois, and its appurtenances; he to have the free and uninterrupted occupation thereof for one year from this date, at the yearly rental of Two Hundred dollars, to be paid monthly in advance; rent to cease if destroyed by fire, or otherwise made untenable.

PETER FUNK.

TENANT'S AGREEMENT.

THIS certifies that I have hired and taken from Peter Funk, his house and lot, No. 15 Erie Street, in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois, with appurtenances thereto belonging, for one year, to commence this day, at a yearly rental of Two Hundred dollars, to be paid monthly in advance; unless said house becomes untenable from fire or other causes, in which case rent ceases; and I further agree to give and yield said premises one year from this first day of January 1876, in as good condition as now, ordinary wear and damage by the elements excepted.

Given under my hand this day.

REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE TO SECURE PAYMENT OF MONEY.

THIS INDENTURE, made this sixteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, between William Stocker, of Peoria, County of Peoria, and State of Illinois, and Olla, his wife, party of the first part, and Edward Singer, party of the second part.

Whereas, the said party of the first part is justly indebted to the said party of the second part, in the sum of Two Thousand dollars, secured to be paid by two certain promissory notes (bearing even date herewith) the one due and payable at the Second National Bank in Peoria, Illinois, with interest, on the sixteenth day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three; the other due and payable at the Second National Bank at Peoria, Ill., with interest, on the sixteenth day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Now, therefore, this indenture witnesseth, that the said party of the first part, for the better securing the payment of the money aforesaid, with interest thereon, according to the tenor and effect of the said two promissory notes above mentioned; and, also in consideration of the further sum of one dollar to them in hand paid by the said party of the second part, at the delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, have granted, bargained, sold, and conveyed, and by these presents do grant, bargain, sell, and convey, unto the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns, forever, all that certain parcel of land, situate, etc.

[Describing the premises.]

To have and to hold the same, together with all and singular the Tenements, Hereditaments, Privileges and Appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining. And also, all the estate, interest, and claim whatsoever, in law as well as in equity which the party of the first part have in and to the premises hereby conveyed unto the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns, and to their only proper use, benefit and behoof. And the said William Stocker, and Olla, his wife, party of the first part, hereby expressly waive, relinquish, release, and convey unto the said party of the second part, his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, all right, title, claim, interest, and benefit whatever, in and to the above described premises, and each and every part thereof, which is given by or results from all laws of this state pertaining to the exemption of homesteads.

Provided always, and these presents are upon this express condition, that if the said party of the first part, their heirs, executors, or administrators, shall well and truly pay, or cause to be paid, to the said party of the second part, his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, the aforesaid sums of money, with such interest thereon, at the time and in the manner specified in the above mentioned promissory notes, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, then in that case, these presents and every thing herein expressed, shall be absolutely null and void.

In witness whereof, the said party of the first part hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.

tions, the receipt whereof is hereby confessed, do hereby grant, bargain, remise, convey, release, and quit-claim unto Joseph Carlin of Chicago, of the County of Cook, and State of Illinois, all the right, title, interest, claim, or demand whatsoever, I may have acquired in, through, or by a certain Indenture or Mortgage Deed, bearing date the second day of January, A. D. 1871, and recorded in the Recorder's office of said county, in book A of Deeds, page 46, to the premises therein described, and which said Deed was made to secure one certain promissory note, bearing even date with said deed, for the sum of Three Hundred dollars.

Witness my hand and seal, this second day of November, A. D. 1874.

PETER AHLUND. [L.S.]

State of Illinois, }
Cook County. } ss.

I, George Saxton, a Notary Public in and for said county, in the state aforesaid, do hereby certify that Peter Ahlund, personally known to me as the same person whose name is subscribed to the foregoing Release, appeared before me this day in person, and acknowledged that he signed, sealed, and delivered the said instrument of writing as his free and voluntary act, for the uses and purposes therein set forth.

[NOTARIAL
SEAL.]

Given under my hand and seal, this second day of November, A. D. 1874.

GEORGE SAXTON, N. P.

GENERAL FORM OF WILL FOR REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY.

I, Charles Mansfield, of the Town of Salem, County of Jackson, State of Illinois, being aware of the uncertainty of life, and in failing health, but of sound mind and memory, do make and declare this to be my last will and testament, in manner following, to wit:

First. I give, devise and bequeath unto my oldest son, Sidney H. Mansfield, the sum of Two Thousand Dollars, of bank stock, now in the Third National Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the farm owned by myself in the Town of Buskirk, consisting of one hundred and sixty acres, with all the houses, tenements, and improvements thereunto belonging; to have and to hold unto my said son, his heirs and assigns, forever.

Second. I give, devise and bequeath to each of my daughters, Anna Louise Mansfield and Ida Clara Mansfield, each Two Thousand dollars in bank stock, in the Third National Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio, and also each one quarter section of land, owned by myself, situated in the Town of Lake, Illinois, and recorded in my name in the Recorder's office in the county where such land is located. The north one hundred and sixty acres of said half section is devised to my eldest daughter, Anna Louise.

Third. I give, devise and bequeath to my son, Frank Alfred Mansfield, Five shares of Railroad stock in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and my one hundred and sixty acres of land and saw mill thereon, situated in Manistee, Michigan, with all the improvements and appurtenances thereunto belonging, which said real estate is recorded in my name in the county where situated.

Fourth. I give to my wife, Victoria Elizabeth Mansfield, all my household furniture, goods, chattels, and personal property, about my home, not hitherto disposed of, including Eight Thousand dollars of bank stock in the Third National Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio, Fifteen shares in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and the free and unrestricted use, possession, and benefit of the home farm, so long as she may live, in lieu of dower, to which she is entitled by law; said farm being my present place of residence.

Fifth. I bequeath to my invalid father, Elijah H. Mansfield, the income from rents of my store building at 145 Jackson Street, Chicago, Illinois, during the term of his natural life. Said building and land therewith to revert to my said sons and daughters in equal proportion, upon the demise of my said father.

Sixth. It is also my will and desire that, at the death of my wife, Victoria Elizabeth Mansfield, or at any time when she may arrange to relinquish her life interest in the above mentioned homestead, the same may revert to my above named children, or to the lawful heirs of each.

And lastly. I nominate and appoint as executors of this my last will and testament, my wife, Victoria Elizabeth Mansfield, and my eldest son, Sidney H. Mansfield.

I further direct that my debts and necessary funeral expenses shall be paid from moneys now on deposit in the Savings Bank of Salem, the residue of such moneys to revert to my wife, Victoria Elizabeth Mansfield, for her use forever.

In witness whereof, I, Charles Mansfield, to this my last will and testament, have hereunto set my hand and seal, this fourth day of April, eighteen hundred and seventy-two.

Signed, sealed, and declared by Charles Mansfield, as and for his last will and testament, in the presence of us, who, at his request, and in his presence, and in the presence of each other, have sub- scribed our names hereunto as witnesses thereof. CODICIL.

Whereas I, Charles Mansfield, did, on the fourth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, make my last will and testament, I do now, by this writing, add this codicil to my said will, to be taken as a part thereof.

Whereas, by the dispensation of Providence, my daughter, Anna Louise, has deceased November fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, and whereas, a son has been born to me, which son is now christened Richard Albert Mansfield, I give and bequeath unto him my gold watch, and all right, interest, and title in lands and bank stock and chattels bequeathed to my deceased daughter, Anna Louise, in the body of this will.

In witness whereof, I hereunto place my hand and seal, this tenth day of March, eighteen hundred and seventy-five.

Signed, sealed, published, and declared to us by the testator, Charles Mansfield, as and for a codicil to be annexed to his last will and testament. And we, at his request, and in his presence, and in the presence of each other, have subscribed our names as witnesses thereto, at the date hereof.

CHURCH ORGANIZATIONS

May be legally made by electing or appointing, according to the usages or customs of the body of which it is a part, at any meeting held for that purpose, two or more of its members as trustees, wardens or vestrymen, and may adopt a corporate name. The chairman or secretary of such meeting shall, as soon as possible, make and file in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county, an affidavit substantially in the following form:

STATE OF ILLINOIS, }
 ——— County. } ss.

I, ———, do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be), that at a meeting of the members of the (here insert the name of the church, society or congregation as known before organization), held at (here insert place of meeting), in the County of ———, and State of Illinois, on the ——— day of ———, A.D. 18—, for that purpose, the following persons were elected (or appointed) [here insert their names] trustees, wardens, vestrymen, (or officers by whatever name they may choose to adopt, with powers similar to trustees) according to the rules and usages of such (church, society or congregation), and said ——— adopted as its corporate name (here insert name), and at said meeting this affiant acted as (chairman or secretary, as the case may be).

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this ____ day of ____, A.D. 18--.

Name of Affiant _____

which affidavit must be recorded by the recorder, and shall be, or a certified copy made by the recorder, received as evidence of such an incorporation.

No certificate of election after the first need be filed for record.

The term of office of the trustees and the general government of the society can be determined by the rules or by-laws adopted. Failure to elect trustees at the time provided does not work a dissolution, but the old trustees hold over. A trustee or trustees may be removed, in the same manner by the society as elections are held by a meeting called for that purpose. The property of the society vests in the corporation. The corporation may hold, or acquire by purchase or otherwise, land not exceeding ten acres, for the purpose of the society. The trustees have the care, custody and control of the property of the corporation, and can, when directed by the society, erect houses or improvements, and repair and alter the same, and may also when so directed by the society, mortgage, encumber, sell and convey any real or personal estate belonging to the corporation, and make all proper contracts in the name of such corporation. But they are prohibited by law from encumbering or interfering with any property so as to destroy the effect of any gift, grant, devise or bequest to the corporation; but such gifts, grants, devises or bequests, must in all cases be used so as to carry out the object intended by the persons making the same. Existing societies may organize in the manner herein set forth, and have all the advantages thereof.

SUGGESTIONS TO THOSE PURCHASING BOOKS BY SUBSCRIPTION.

The business of publishing books by subscription having so often been brought into disrepute by agents making representations and declarations not authorized by the publisher; in order to prevent that as much as possible, and that there may be more general knowledge of the relation such agents bear to their principal, and the law governing such cases, the following statement is made :

A subscription is in the nature of a contract of mutual promises, by which the subscriber agrees to pay a certain sum for the work described; the consideration is concurrent that the publisher shall publish the book named, and deliver the same, for which the subscriber is to pay the price named. The nature and character of the work is described in the prospectus and by the sample shown. These should be carefully examined before subscribing, as they are the basis and consideration of the promise to pay, and not the too often exaggerated statements of the agent, who is merely employed to solicit subscriptions, for which he is usually paid a commission for each subscriber, and has no authority to change or alter the conditions upon which the subscriptions are authorized to be made by the publisher. Should the agent assume to agree to make the subscription conditional or modify or change the agreement of the publisher, as set out by prospectus and sample, in order to bind the principal, the subscriber should see that such conditions or changes are stated over or in connection with his signature, so that the publisher may have notice of the same.

All persons making contracts in reference to matters of this kind, or any other business, should remember that the law as to written contracts is, that they can not be varied, altered or rescinded verbally, but if done at all, must be done in writing. It is therefore important that all persons contemplating subscribing should distinctly understand that all talk before or after the subscription is made, is not admissible as evidence, and is no part of the contract.

Persons employed to solicit subscriptions are known to the trade as canvassers. They are agents appointed to do a particular business in a prescribed mode, and have no authority to do it in any other way to the prejudice of their principal, nor can they bind their principal in any other matter. They can not collect money, or agree that payment may be made in anything else but money. They can not extend the time of payment beyond the time of delivery, nor bind their principal for the payment of expenses incurred in their business.

It would save a great deal of trouble, and often serious loss, if persons, before signing their names to any subscription book, or any written instrument, would examine carefully what it is; if they can not read themselves, should call on some one disinterested who can.

INTEREST TABLE.

A SIMPLE RULE FOR ACCURATELY COMPUTING INTEREST AT ANY GIVEN PER CENT. FOR ANY LENGTH OF TIME.

Multiply the principal (amount of money at interest) by the time reduced to days; then divide this product by the quotient obtained by dividing 360 (the number of days in the interest year) by the per cent. of interest, and the quotient thus obtained will be the required interest.

ILLUSTRATION.

Require the interest of $462.50 for one month and eighteen days at 6 per cent. An interest month is 30 days; one month and eighteen days equal 48 days. $462.50 multiplied by .48 gives 222,000; 360 divided by 6 (the per cent. of interest) gives 60, and $222,000 divided by 60 will give you the exact interest, which is $3.70. If the rate of interest in the above example were 12 per cent., we would divide the $222,000 by 30 (because 360 divided by 12 gives 30); if 4 per cent., we would divide by 90; if 8 per cent., by 45; and in like manner for any other per cent.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AND ITS AMENDMENTS.

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

SEC. 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each state shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any state, the Executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SEC. 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each state, chosen by the Legislature thereof for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any state, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried the Chief Justice shall preside. And no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment, in cases of impeachment, shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment according to law.

SEC. 4. The times, places and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SEC. 5. Each house shall be the judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may, in their judgment, require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SEC. 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it; but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted), after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment), shall be presented to the President of the United States, and before the same shall take effect shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be re-passed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SEC. 8. The Congress shall have power—

To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts, and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes;

To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

To establish post offices and post roads;

To promote the progress of sciences and useful arts, by securing, for limited times, to authors and inventors, the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations;

To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

To provide and maintain a navy;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the states respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of the government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the Legislature of the state in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock yards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SEC. 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the states now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to or from one state be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States: and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state.

SEC. 10. No state shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

No state shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws, and the net produce of all duties and imposts laid by any state on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty on tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another state, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The Executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the Vice-President chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of Electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the state may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

[*The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them for President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose the President. But in choosing the President, the vote shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President,

* This clause between brackets has been superseded and annulled by the Twelfth amendment.

the person having the greatest number of votes of the Electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice-President.]

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the Electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States or any of them.

Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States."

SEC. 2. The President shall be commander in chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several states, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardon for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SEC. 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may on extraordinary occasions convene both houses, or either of them. and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

SEC. 4. The President, Vice-President, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION I. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the Supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more states; between a state and citizens of another state; between citizens of different states; between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants of different states, and between a state or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens, or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, and those in which a state shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction.

In all the other cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the state where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any state, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

SEC. 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other state. And the Congress may, by general laws, prescribe the manner in which such acts, records, and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SEC. 2. The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states.

A person charged in any state with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another state, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one state, under the laws thereof escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on the claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SEC. 3. New states may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state; nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the Legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States or of any particular state.

SEC. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature can not be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress. Provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into before the adoption of this Constitution shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the Judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the Conventions of nine states shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the states so ratifying the same.

Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the states present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.

ARTICLES IN ADDITION TO AND AMENDATORY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Proposed by Congress and ratified by the Legislatures of the several states, pursuant to the fifth article of the original Constitution.

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

The enumeration, in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people.

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another state, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign state.

ARTICLE XII.

The Electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person to be voted for as president, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest number not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be the majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President ; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

SECTION 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives shall be appointed among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed ; but when the right to vote at any election for the choice of Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a state, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such state, being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crimes, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such state.

SEC. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or Elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any state, who, having previously taken an oath as a Member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any state Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any state to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each house, remove such disability.

SEC. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any state shall pay any debt or obligation incurred in the aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any loss or emancipation of any slave, but such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SEC. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this act.

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any state, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

SEC. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

HISTORY OF WARREN COUNTY.

TOPOGRAPHY AND GEOLOGY.

[From Geological Survey by A. H. Green.—1870.]

Warren county contains fifteen townships, or five hundred and forty square miles. The fourth principal meridian passes along its eastern border. It is intersected in the northern part, from east to west, by Main, Henderson and Cedar creeks. South of this there is South Henderson creek, rising in township 10 and running nearly west; while to the east Slug Run rises in the northern part of the same township and passing south empties into Cedar Fork, near the eastern part of the county. Cedar Fork rises near the western boundary of township 9 and runs a little to the south of east. South of this is Nigger Creek, of which Little Nigger and Swan Creek are branches. By these and smaller streams the county is well watered and its surface thoroughly drained.

Springs are not very abundant, but there are some which are large and valuable. Good wells may usually be obtained at depths varying from ten to thirty feet, but if at the latter depth water is not found, it is generally necessary to dig sixty feet or more, or through the blue clay of the drift.

The greater part of Warren county is prairie, but they are seldom large, being divided by the numerous streams. The soil is a dark vegetable loam, differing but little in its general character and appearance from that of the adjoining counties. Along the ridges that skirt the streams the soil is of less depth, lighter colored and less fertile. The subsoil is a yellow or brown clay.

Much of the land lying along the water courses was originally covered with timber. Large portions of this have been cut off. The varieties of timber here are nearly the same as in this part of Illinois—principally the common varieties of oak and hickory, with an undergrowth of hazel and sumach. Along the slopes of the hills and on the bottom lands of the streams, in addition to these, can be found red and white elm, white, blue and prickly ash, linden, sycamore, sugar and white maple, ash-leaved maple or box-elder, black walnut, butternut, buckeye, cottonwood, honey locust, American aspen, wild cherry, coffee tree, hackberry, mulberry, ironwood, wild plum, thorn, crab apple, dogwood and red bud.

The alluvial deposits of the county are not extensive, being confined to the borders of the streams, and are seldom over a half mile in width, while commonly they are less. The soil of these bottom lands is very fertile and consists of black loam, more or less mixed with sand and gravel.

The coal measures underlie nearly the whole of Warren county. Sumner and the northern part of Hale township probably embraces the entire district, or nearly so, where coal is not found. The coal measures comprise, in this county, various stratas of shales, sandstones, limestones, clays and coal, and attain a thickness in some parts of from one to two hundred feet. These stratas rest upon the Burlington limestone, and where this is found near the surface, or reached in shafting, no coal need be looked for in deeper explorations.

The upper seam is from three to three and a half feet in thickness, and has been found in few localities.

The next seam, No. 2 of the Illinois section, is from one foot, eight inches, to two feet thick in this county, elsewhere it attains a thickness of from three to five feet. Though thinner, this seam is more extensively worked than either of the others.

On sections 14 and 23, in township 10, are some valuable quarries. The rock is from six to seven feet thick at some of the localities and the whole of it is thickly bedded, so that blocks of any desirable size can be obtained. There are, however, large concretions of a calcareo-arenaceous rock, locally called "flint," in the sandstones. One of these was taken from the quarry of Mr. J. Worden, on section 14, that was about two and one-half feet thick, six to seven wide, and from ten to twelve feet long. This rock is very compact, hard enough to scratch glass, and in chlorohydric acid effervesces slightly. It is not considered of any value, and is so hard that when it occurs in large masses it is very expensive getting it out of the way.

In township 8 a coal seam crops out for some distance along Swan and Little Nigger creeks. At these localities mining has been carried on for years, and in places the bluffs are almost honey-combed by the entries, new and old. In some of the mines the fire-clay below the coal is varied in color, the usual tints being a light blue, though in some places it is nearly white, while in others it is yellow, or yellow and red. The coals in this county are mostly worked by drifts or tunnels driven horizontally into the hill-sides along the outcrops of the seams, and owing to the shaley character of the roof of No. 2, considerable expense is incurred in "cribbing" to sustain the roof. The thickness of the coal is usually from twenty inches to two feet, and in driving the entries it becomes necessary to remove a portion of the roof shales, or the under-clay, in order to obtain the amount of vertical space required to take out the coal. The lower seam, No. 1, of the Illinois section, varies from two to four feet in this county. It is generally overlaid by black slate, or a dark colored, and frequently shaley limestone. This forms a very good roof and makes the working of the seam less expensive than that of No. 2, as, frequently, but little or no cribbing is required.

A little east of Monmouth is one of the most extensive mining companies in the country. Coal of a superior quality was found here, about 1871, and active preparations at once commenced to mine at this point. The seam is about twenty inches in thickness, and was found at a depth of about sixty feet. A far more valuable industry, and one which occupies the almost entire attention of the company—The Monmouth Mining and Manufacturing Company—is that of tile making. About thirty feet below the coal seam a most valuable strata of tile clay was found, and in 1875, active preparations were at once made to enter immediately upon the manufacture of this article. A stock company, representing $200,000 capital, was formed, and large buildings were erected and supplied with the best of machinery. The buildings are so arranged and heated that the business can be carried on at all seasons of the year. Huge steam-pipes permeate the entire structure and every available foot of space is used. The company, of which the officers are: Daniel D. Parry, President; H. C. Beckwith, Secretary; and J. S. Spriggs, Treasurer, are now making all sizes of tile, from a small two inch pipe used in draining fields where the supply of water is small to the manufacture of large sewer pipes used in the drainage of cities. The utility and profit of this material to the farming community can hardly be estimated. Aside from the increase in health it brings by carrying off all surplus water, it yields the richest returns for the capital invested. Fields which were once considered useless and valueless are made productive through liberal drainage; and swamps, or "sloughs," as they are called in the Western vernacular, once the source of fever and ague and all their attendant evils and discomforts, are drained of their miasmatic waters, the sources of these diseases removed, and the land made to yield abundantly. Numerous instances could be given wherein one dollar invested in this article has returned to the investor many times its value; and the intelligent reader of these pages has only to turn his attention to where the practical results are seen to verify this statement.

Elias Willits,

MONMOUTH ILL.

The tile made by this company is of an unexceptional material, and is rapidly finding its way into all parts of the West.

A few feet below the strata of clay, an excellent fire-clay was discovered. Heretofore the company was compelled to bring their fire-brick, at a heavy expense, from Ohio, but now, instead of purchasing that article, they have an abundance for sale.

THE COAL INTERESTS OF THE COUNTY.

There are reported by the county surveyor, Mr. Thos. McClanahan, twenty-nine coal mines in Warren county in operation. These employ from one to twenty men each, or one hundred and twelve in all. The average thickness of the coal vein is about thirty inches; they range from eighteen to forty inches. During the year 1875, and to March, 1876, there were mined in all 384,740 bushels; the lowest product from any one mine being 170 bushels; the greatest number 96,000 bushels.

The price for coal ranged from eight to twelve and one-half cents, the total amount received being $38,374.00. The depth of the mines vary from twenty to one hundred feet below the surface. The cost of opening these mines ranges from $25.00 to $5,000. The roofs of the mines are generally covered with soapstone or slate, and the bottom is principally fire-clay. The escapes are nearly always abundantly sufficient, and air in the mines pure and wholesome.

BURLINGTON LIMESTONE.—The beds of this group immediately underlie the coal measures in this county, wherever the junction of the coal with the underlying beds can be seen.

The Burlington group in Warren county consists mainly of light gray and brown limestones, chert and calcareous clay shale, and attains a thickness of from forty to fifty feet. These beds outcrop along the small streams in the southern part of township 12. Section 31, of the same township, furnishes layers of good building material sufficiently thick for all ordinary purposes. At Rockwell's mill, on Cedar Creek, the rock is quite arenaceous.

On section 1, in township 11, there are extensive quarries of limestone. Much lime is burned here, and the rock being nearly a pure carbonate of lime affords a good article. Near the middle of section 7, on Cedar Creek, and along a branch putting off to the southeast there are extensive quarries in the bluffs which supply Monmouth and the adjoining region with large quantities of excellent building material.

The Burlington limestone furnishes a good article of building stone, and is found along the southern part of township 12, and in the northern of township 11, in range 2 and 3 (See map in front part of this work). From Rockwell's Mill for several miles up Cedar Creek the outcrops of these beds form mural, or overhanging masses.

The rock is compact and dresses well, and some of the layers afford a stone susceptible of a good polish.

In section 11 the sandstone forms immense ledges, which in some places overhang the water ten or fifteen feet. "Rock House," as it is called, is in this section, and was formed in some past time, when the bed of the stream was considerably higher than at present, by the water cutting a passage through a portion of the lower strata. In the denuding process, a large pillar of sandstone was left, and now supports the outer edge of the upper strata which forms the roof.

Nearly all the outcrops of Burlington limestone will afford abundant supplies of material for lime, and being nearly pure carbonate of lime, yields an excellent article. Lime is extensively manufactured in some localities. Better facilities are being obtained for getting fuel to the kilns and the manufactured lime to market, thereby rendering this business an important source of wealth to some portions of the county.

AGRICULTURE.—Warren county contains 335,945 acres of land, valued at $8,095,104. The whole number of town lots is 4,164; their value is $1,063,688. The average value of lands is $24.10 per acre, and the average value of the lots is $255.45 each. The total value of all property in the county, including personal property, is $12,039,637. The county contains only 20,112 acres unimproved lands, and these are valued at $181,024, showing there is no worthless land.

During the year 1875, there were sown in wheat 5,879 acres; in corn, 138,870 acres—nearly one-half the area of the county—in oats, 26,180; in meadow, 36,316, and in other field products, 5,385 acres. There are 20,338 acres in woodland, and 3,644 acres in orchards. There were also reported to the county assessors 12,370 horses, valued at $564,038; 25,154 head of cattle, valued at $389,333; 4,608 sheep, valued at $9,291; 966 mules and asses, valued at $53,448; 48,368 hogs, valued at $231,737. These figures give 91,466 head of live stock, whose entire value is $1,247,847. There were also returned for taxation 4,318 carriages and wagons, worth $133,339; 2,738 clocks and watches, worth $12,720; 1,854 sewing machines, worth $38,701; 586 pianos, organs and melodeons, worth $36,186; there are in banks credit, money, bonds and stocks, $626,475, and in addition to this there are held $228,000 in bank stock. The entire personal property in Warren county is taxed at $2,880,845. Since the opening of the C. B. & Q. R. R., in 1855, there have been shipped from the county fifteen million bushels of grain, a million head of live stock, and several million dollars worth of manufactured machinery.

Good improved farms are worth now from $60 to $100 per acre, and the constant appearance of well-tilled farms, of comfortable homes, and all the conveniences and comforts of life are assurances of the wealth and ease with which the greater portion of the people are blessed.

The population is now, counting three times the number of persons enrolled in the late school census, under twenty-one years of age, 33,876 ; 22,584 of these are over age; and assuming the $12,039,637 to be the value of the property, each one of the latter class is worth $53.31.

HISTORY.

In the winter of 1822 and 1823 the Legislature of the State of Illinois laid out the "Military Tract," situated between the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, into counties, giving to each a name, and at the same time formed several other counties. At an earlier day the "Military Tract," and, indeed, all north and west of the Illinois river, including the country about Galena, was attached to and formed a part of Madison county, for judicial purposes. At that session, however, Pike county was formed, and the records of lands, patents, &c., situated on the Military Tract, were thereafter recorded at Atlas, then the county seat.

A subsequent Legislature organized Adams, Schuyler, Fulton and Peoria counties, attaching to Schuyler county the new county of McDonough, for judicial purposes. During the session of 1824-25 the county of Warren was formed, comprising all that part of the Military Tract lying west of the fourth principal meridian, extending to the Mississippi river, and including what is now Henderson county. It was named in honor of General Joseph Warren, who so gallantly defended the country at the commencement of the Revolutionary war, and who was the first officer to shed his life's blood in that struggle which gave America her independence. He was killed by a musket ball at the battle of Bunker's Hill. As every school-boy knows, the Americans were enabled to "hold the fort" while their ammunition lasted; that giving way, they slowly retreated, Gen. Warren being the last to go. As he retired he turned to look at the foe, and just at that instant received a ball in his forehead, and sank dead to the earth. He was thirty-five years of age at the time.

The Legislature met at Vandalia, then the capital of the State, and in the Act forming the county attached it to Pike county, for judicial purposes, until a sufficient number of inhabitants were within its borders to enable it to take active existence. This did not occur until June, 1830.

Late in the spring of 1827, some pioneers made their way into the county limits, and the following year the first ground was broken by a plow.

The Talbot family were the earliest settlers in Warren county. Mrs. Talbot, mother of John B. Talbot, was some eighty years of age when she came. She was born in New England, but came to Kentucky when John was born. After the death of his mother he married and removed to Oregon.

Allen G. Andrews, a nephew of Mrs. Talbot, came about the same time. He had been several years in the West Indies, and was quite a good Spanish scholar. He died some years ago on his farm, just north of Cedar creek. James B. Atwood settled on his farm in 1828. In June of that year he claimed to have broken five acres of prairie and planted it in corn. He afterwards went to Texas. Andrew Robinson settled on the farm afterwards owned by old Mr. Terpening. He located again on a farm about seven miles north-east of Monmouth, where he, in after years, died. Adam Ritchie ("Sandy") settled near Sugar-Tree Grove in May, 1828. His son, Rev. Henderson Ritchie, born December 28, 1828, was the first white child born in Warren county. Mr. Ritchie afterwards went to Quincy, then to where Nauvoo was built, at which place he died of cholera. J. Buffum and L. P. Rockwell located where Rockwell's mill was afterwards built.

Daniel Harris, a quiet, peaceful man, erected a cabin near where the village of Ellison now stands. He was basely murdered, while eating, by a gun-shot through the window. His was the first death in the county.

It is somewhat strange that the first deaths in the region were violent. Shortly after the killing of Mr. Harris, Mr. James Moffitt went out one morning to find his cattle, which had strayed away on the unbounded prairies. Getting upon a fence surrounding some choice garden or field, he unexpectedly fell and dislocated his neck, so that death resulted soon after. Afterwards, William Martin, son of Hugh Martin, was killed by the Indians. An account of this and the trial of the murderer will be found further on in this narrative. Adam Ritchie ("Black," as he was called on account of his dark color) located here about the same date as that of his cousin Adam (called "Sandy" on account of his sandy complexion, and to distinguish him from the other), but afterwards removed to Iowa, where he was a pioneer in the organization of the first Seceder church in that State.

Dr. Isaac Galland, or Garland—the latter is probably the correct name—erected, in 1827, the first house on the site of the lower Yellow Banks, now Oquaka, Henderson county. The Dr. afterwards related that it took him nearly a week to lay up the logs of his house, eight rounds high. There were no white men to help him, save his teamster, and in the emergency he hired six or eight Indians, who were then encamped at the point of woods below. He had to pay them for each log as it was rolled to its place, and give them a drink around. As they were unused to such labor, and particularly after imbibing two or three drams of liquor, thereby becoming unsteady in their movements, they were unable to perform heavy work. Often at this stage of the labor, the logs, which were unhewn, and of the black-Jack variety, would give a lurch, and coming down on their bare arms and breasts, would tear off the skin in great flakes. They would give an ejaculatory "ouch," and at once quit for the day. Their love of the "fire-water" was so great, however, that they would always return on the following day, thereby repeating the process until the house was complete. A few other houses were probably built this year—1827. In 1828 and '29, quite a number of settlers came and located in different portions of the county. James and Rolla Simmons settled at Greenbush; John C. Bond shortly after, a little south of them; a family (name not now known) at the head of Swan creek; Field, Jarvis and Col. Redman at the head of Ellison creek; Samuel G. Morise, Thomas Pearce, Solomon Perkins and Shelden Lockwood near the present town of Berwick; Stephen S. Phelps at the Lower Yellow Banks; James Hodgens at Hodgens' Grove, just north-west of the present city of Monmouth; Samuel Jameson and sons, and James Ryerson south of the Yellow Banks.

Stephen S. Phelps purchased the improved claim of Dr. Garland, and removed his family to their new home in the summer of 1828. He was soon joined by the families of Beatty and Jeremiah Smith, in addition to several already mentioned. Mr. Smith erected a saw and grist mill on Smith creek, in 1829, and before a few summers had passed quite a settlement was established at this place.

In the Autumn of 1829 and spring of 1830, Elijah Davidson, Sr., William Whitman, Peter Butler and others located on the south side of Cedar creek. By this time the entire territory comprised in Warren, Henderson and Mercer counties contained only about thirty or forty families; but others were constantly coming, so that by the spring of the latter year it was thought proper to send to Peoria and secure an order for a county election from Hon. Richard M. Young, Judge of the Circuit Court, and so well known in after years throughout the State.

By the census of 1830, there were that year in the territory included within the three counties 360 inhabitants. Other reasons urged this step. They were compelled to go to Peoria for all legal purposes—for all marriage licenses—or publish a notice ten days before the event, and young people then, as now, did not at all times care to make the happy affair so public a matter; they were compelled to adopt the former course.

The citizens desired to assess and collect their own taxes, and to manage affairs their own way. Petitions to this effect were freely circulated and freely signed.

*Daniel McNeil, Jr., who then lived at Lower Yellow Banks, was appointed to go to Peoria to meet the Judge and present the petition. Judge Young was then holding court in a building sixteen by twenty feet in dimensions, situated upon the bank of the river, just where the latter leaves the lake.

It was then more than fifty miles from any part of Warren to Peoria by the most direct route. The Spoon and Kickapoo rivers were to be crossed between the two places, and they were often unfordable by reason of overflows. The Judge saw the necessity of the people, and being satisfied there were enough within the prescribed limits of the county, issued the following order :

STATE OF ILLINOIS, }
Fifth Judicial Circuit, } sc.

The People of the State of Illinois, To all who shall see these presents,

GREETING :

WHEREAS, By the ninth and eleventh sections of the Act entitled "An Act forming new counties out of the counties of Pike and Fulton, and the attached parts thereof," approved January 13th, 1825, it is made the duty of the presiding Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit of the State of Illinois, whenever it shall be made to appear to his satisfaction, that either of the counties of Hancock, Warren, Mercer, Henry, Putnam and Knox, contain three hundred and fifty inhabitants, to proceed to organize the same, and to grant an order for the election of county officers preparatory thereto : And whereas, it has been made appear to my satisfaction, that the county of Warren contains three hundred and fifty inhabitants and upwards; and inasmuch as the greater part of the qualified voters of the said county have requested, by petition, that the same should be organized with as little delay as possible, I do, therefore, in pursuance of the power vested in me, by virtue of the above recited Act, order and direct that an election be held in and for said county of Warren, at the house of Adam Ritchie, Jr., on Saturday, the third day of July, A. D. 1830, for the election of three county Commissioners, one Sheriff, and one Coroner, to serve, when elected and qualified, in and for the county of Warren, respectively, until they shall be superseded by persons who may be elected at the general election, to be held on the first Monday in August next; and, for the purpose of having this order carried into execution, I do hereby appoint John B. Talbot, Adam Ritchie, Jr., and Robert K. Hendricks, of said county, judges of said election, whose duty it shall be to set up written or printed advertisements or notices of said election in at least six of the most public places in said county, inclusive of the place at which the election is hereby directed to be held (having a due regard to the situation and population of the different settlements), at least ten days previous to the said election, to the end that all persons may have timely notice thereof. The election to be held viva voce, between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and seven o'clock in the afternoon of said day, and conducted, as far as may be practicable, in conformity with the Act entitled "An Act regulating Elections," approved January 10th, 1829; and, lastly, the said judges are to certify the result of the said election to the office of the Secretary of State, as soon thereafter as may be convenient, in order that the persons who may be elected, may be commissioned and qualified with as little delay as possible, and after the election of the said county officers, I do hereby declare the said county of Warren to be organized, and entitled to the same rights and privileges as the other counties in this State.

* This man was more generally known than any one of the early settlers. He held almost every office in the county at one time and another, and did more to advance its interests than any one else. He was born in Hillsborough, N. H., March 24, 1792; he emigrated to Phelps, N. Y., in 1805; to Louisiana in 1810. He returned to N. Y. again in 1814, and went to Wabash county, near Vincennes, Indiana, in 1819. In 1824 he removed to Fulton county, Illinois. In 1830 he came to Warren county, where he remained until 1852, when he went to De Witt, Iowa, where he died Feb. 28, 1859, aged seventy-six years.

Given under my hand and seal, at Peoria, this 8th day of { L. S. } June, A. D. 1830, and of the Independence of the United States, the fifty-fourth.

RICHARD M. YOUNG,

Circuit Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit of the State of Illinois.

Mr. Ritchie lived near the centre of the population, and early on the morning of the day appointed for the election the voters assembled. Thirty-seven votes were polled, three voters being absent. The persons named in the order of Judge Young declining to serve as judges of election, the people appointed Robert K. Hendricks, Sheldon Lockwood and Peter Butler in their place, and Stephen S. Phelps and Daniel McNeil clerks. On counting the votes at the close of the balloting, John Pence, John B. Talbot and Adam ("Sandy") Ritchie were found elected Commissioners; John Rust, Sheriff, and John Ritchie, Coroner. Knox county, immediately east of Warren, and McDonough county, in the south, were each organized by order of Judge Young, on the same day, and at their elections each gave about the same number of votes as Warren.

On the Monday following the election in Warren, the Commissioners met at Lower Yellow Banks, at the house of Stephen S. Phelps, and organized as a Board of County Commissioners. They appointed Daniel McNeil their clerk, divided the county into two election precincts and two Justice's districts, the divisions being marked by the range line between three and four west. The western was called Precinct No. 1, and Yellow Banks Judge's District, the place of holding elections being the temporary courthouse. The eastern was called Precinct No. 2, and the place of holding elections was appointed at the house of Isaac Hodgens, at Hodgens' Grove, one mile north-west of the present county seat. An election was ordered to be held at these places on the first Monday in August following, that being the general election day throughout the State. It was also ordered, that in addition to the State officers elected, there should be chosen three County Commissioners, one Sheriff, one Coroner, two Justices, two Constables in each precinct; and as the District Court was expected to hold a session before this election, the Commissioners selected a Grand and Petit Jury, which took every eligible man in the county.

The county being now organized, it was necessary that the laws of the State be put into force. Judge Young issued the following order :

"STATE OF ILLINOIS, }
Fifth Judicial District. } set. :

To all whom it may concern, GREETING :

"KNOW YE, That I, Richard M. Young, Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit of the State of Illinois, north of the Illinois river, and presiding Judge of the Circuit Court, in and for the county of Warren, and State aforesaid, in pursuance of the power vested in me by virtue of the 10th section of the Act entitled 'An Act supplementary to an Act regulating the Supreme and Circuit Courts,' approved January 19, 1829, approved January 28, 1829, do hereby order and appoint, that Circuit Courts be held in and for the said county of Warren, at such places as may be selected and provided by the County Commissioners' Court of said county on the fourth Mondays in June and the first Mondays in October, until I shall make another order to the contrary.

"Signed,

RICHARD M. YOUNG,

"Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit."

This order was given at Galena on July 5th, preceding the general election, and on the same day the Judge gave the order for the organization of the county; he gave to Daniel McNeil the appointment of clerk, pro tem., for the Circuit Court, dating it at Peoria, on October 1st, 1830, where he held court, at the house of John B. Gunner. At the general election in August, votes were cast for Governor, Lieut.-Governor, Representative to the General Assembly of the State, and for the county officers, as ordered by the Commissioners. Forty-seven votes were cast, forty-three being the greatest number any one candidate received, and every voter in the county was present save three. Hon. John Reynolds received thirty-four votes for Governor, and William Kinney eleven. Hon. ——— Wright was elected Representative; and for the county offices, the following persons were chosen : John B. Talbot, Peter Butler and John Pence, Commissioners ; Stephen S. Phelps, Sheriff, and John Ritchie, Coroner. At the Yellow Banks District, John Pence and Daniel McNeil, Jr., were elected Justices, and James Ryerson and William Causland, Constables. At the Hodgens' Grove District, John B. Talbot, ("Sandy") Adam Ritchie were elected Justices, and David Findley and ——— Constables. Daniel McNeil having been appointed Clerk of Circuit Court, the county was now in complete running order. For some reason no preparation was made for holding the Circuit Court, and the Judge met with the Clerk at the house of John B. Gunner, at Henderson's Grove, and after performing a little formulatory business, each returned to his home.

It was customary in these days to have something to "take" at all elections, and the "take" was pretty generally indulged in by all. At the election in August, already referred to, a bucket was filled with whiskey, and a sufficient number of tin cups placed therein, and all who desired could freely imbibe. The Indians were present at the time in a strong representation, and indulged in their favorite "fire-water" to their full. Approaching the successful candidates at the close of the election, they congratulated them in a series of grunts and approving gestures, using in many cases, their only English sentence expressive of their ideas—"You big chief, big chief, me little chief, so high," measuring a short distance from the ground. Or "Keokuk, big chief, big chief," measuring with extended arm as high as they could reach.

The county being now fully organized, it became necessary to have a seat of justice, and as the inhabitants residing therein could not decide upon the location, they petitioned the Legislature to select it. This the body did, by appointing three commissioners to perform the duty. They were Major Hazen Bedel, of Hancock county, John G. Sanburn, of Knox county, and John McNeil, of Fulton. The Act appointing these persons as Commissioners to locate the county seat passed the Legislature, and was approved January 27, 1831. The Act directed them to meet at the house of Stephen S. Phelps, on the first Monday of the following April, and being duly sworn by some judge or justice in the county, they were "faithfully to take into consideration the convenience of the people, the situation of the settlements with a view to the future population of said county and the eligibility of the situation, shall proceed to fix upon a place for the permanent seat of justice for said county, and give to it a name."

On the day appointed these persons met and were duly sworn before Daniel McNeil, Jr., a justice, and at once proceeded to select a location. Yellow Banks, Hodgen's Point, Center Grove and Ellison's Creek were all contestants for the place. In order to ascertain what the future population might be, the commissioners made a plat of the county and placed in each township the probable number of towns, varying from four to forty-two.

On April the 7th they completed the work assigned them, and sealing and directing a package containing their decision to the "County Commissioners Court of Warren County, Illinois," they departed to their homes.

At a called meeting of the latter court, on the 11th day of the same month, the package was opened and was found to locate the seat of justice on section 29, in township 11. The reader will find their decision given at the commencement of the history of Monmouth, in their own words.

In choosing the name of the new county seat, each commissioner selected the names; from these, three were drawn, which proved to be Isabella, Kosciusko and Monmouth. These were thrown together, and it was agreed that the one drawn should be the name. Kosciusko was drawn, when it was suggested by the commissioner who first selected it, that very few of the inhabitants could spell it correctly, and he moved a drawing of the other two names be made. This was done, and resulted in the name the city now bears.

The summer of 1831 was remarkably cold. Dark spots were plainly seen by the naked eye to cover the sun. The crops were almost a failure, and an early winter set in. Snow fell on the 4th day of October, but the skies clearing off, a fine spell of weather came in, which lasted a few weeks and enabled the settlers to gather their corn. The winter began again with a storm of rain which lasted until the prairies were covered with water. It then changed to snow, and became in a few hours bitterly cold. Within twelve hours after the change, the prairies were a complete glare of ice, and neither man or beast could move with safety. Men were known to go five miles or more to get horse-shoes and nails made, and returning home would set the shoes with a common drawing-knife and hammer. By such means only were they able to obtain fuel. The ice lasted six weeks, and about the 1st of February, 1832, a snow fell to the depth of nine inches. This lay on the ground nearly six weeks and furnished excellent sleighing, which was greatly improved by the residents in transporting any articles needed.

The spring of 1832 opened rather late, the weather was cold, and, like the previous spring, but little corn came up. The settlers had taken the precaution, however, to procure a species of Indian maize, known as "squaw corn," which matured much earlier than the common variety, and that season a very good crop was raised.

Their crops had hardly been planted when they were disturbed by news of an Indian war. Black Hawk and his band were becoming troublesome, and on the first of May Governor Reynolds encamped at the Yellow Banks with a large number of volunteers to aid in the subjection of this famous Indian chief. There was no one in Warren county skilled in the manual of arms, and great fears were expressed by the people least, on the Governor's absence, the savages would come from beyond the Mississippi River and destroy them. To allay these fears and give the citizens an opportunity to show their patriotism, the Governor issued the following special commission :

"CAMP AT YELLOW BANKS. }
May 4th, 1832. }

I do hereby appoint Daniel McNeil to give notice that an election for a major of militia, composing an odd battalion in Warren county, will be held at Monmouth, at some convenient time, within ten days from the date of this appointment. And I do further authorize the said McNeil to conduct said election according to law, and to give the person elected major a certificate of his election, which will authorize said major to cause elections to be held for company officers, so that said militia be organized with speed to defend their lives from Indian depredations ; and in case of necessity, the said McNeil is authorized to call on one or] more companies to range the frontier for its defense.

(Signed,) JOHN REYNOLDS.

Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Ill. Militia."

In accordance with the above order, notice was given and an election, which resulted in the choice of Peter Butler, as major of the odd battalion, who forthwith ordered elections to be held at different points, for company officers, in certain districts of the county, and the organization of the militia was complete.

Governor Reynolds passed on to Rock River with his troops, and the citizens becoming alarmed for their safety, being without a patrol, or body of rangers, for protection, petitioned McNeil to call volunteers. He complied, and on the 31st of May issued a call, to meet at Monmouth on the 4th day of June. At this latter date a company of thirty men, three commissioned, and five non-commissioned officers was formed, and reported for duty at the War Department at the City of Washington and to the Governor of the State.

For the entertainment of the readers of these pages, a copy of the muster roll of this company is herewith given:

"A copy of Captain Peter Butler's company of Mounted Volunteer Rangers in the service of the United States, ordered out by Daniel McNeil, Junior, Agent of John Reynolds, Commander-in-Chief of the Militia of the State of Illinois, from the 4th day of June, 1832, the day of its enrollment, to the 15th day of its disbandment and discharge at Fort Gumm, fifteen miles from the place of its enrollment.

“ Peter Butler, Captain; James McCallon, 1st Lieut.; Solomon Perkins, 2d Lieut.; Isaac Veetrees, 1st Sergeant; Benjamin Tucker, 2d; Matthew D. Ritchie, 3d; and Adam Ritchie, 4th. The privates: John Van Atta, James C. Caldwell, John Quimm, Thomas Ritchie, Andrew Gilson, George, Gilson, William Stark, W. H. Denison, Isaiah Osborn, John Armstrong, Danas B. Cartwright, Gersham Van Atta, Elijah Hilton, James Reason, William Laswell, Paschal Pencanean, John D. Ritchie, Samuel L. Hogue, David Russell, Charles A. Smith, John Findley, Amos Williams, Gabriel Short, John McCoy, Erastus S. Denison, John Maley, Robert S. Stice, John Hendricks, William Patton and Ezra A. Allen.”

These troops were disbanded in consequence of an order from the Governor calling upon the counties of McDonough and Warren to furnish a company to serve as mounted rangers until regularly discharged. This latter company was at once raised and Major Butler chosen captain and James McCullon 1st Lieutenant; many of the old company joining under these officers.

It was during the time this last company was stationed at a fort at Yellow Banks that the murder of William Martin, already referred to, occurred. This sad occurrence happened on the afternoon of a fine day while Mr. Martin was engaged in putting up hay. He was near Little York, and the two Misses McCoy saw five Indians come out from the woods near, run to Martin and shoot and scalp him. The news of the murder spread with great rapidity throughout the settlement and caused great alarm among the inhabitants. Nearly every family at once repaired to the fort for safety. A Methodist minister, who was preaching at Cedar Creek, some three miles distant, immediately on receipt of the news, in the midst of his sermon, abruptly closed his discourse, dismissed his congregation and fled with great haste to Canton.

The murderers of Mr. Martin must be found and brought to punishment. The war was over and people had returned to their homes. The grand jury, at their session in 1832, following the painful murder, found a true bill against certain Indians, names unknown, of Keokuk's band of the Sac and Fox, friendly Indians, for the murder of William Martin. This was forwarded to the Governor of the State, with a request that he would forward the same to the President of the United States, asking him to require, through the Indian Agent of said band of Indians, the murderers. The Agent, Col. Marmaduke Davenport, made the demand, and one of the murderers was delivered to the United States garrison at Rock Island and confined in Fort Armstrong. From this, however, he escaped and, crossing the Mississippi River, fled to the far West.

According to the Indian custom, the tribe at once delivered up the next of kin to the murderers. This latter fact was not, however, known to the authorities of Warren county. Peter Butler, sheriff of the county, was notified by Col. Davenport that he would be at the Lower Yellow Banks about the 20th of March, 1833, with the reputed murderer of Martin, and requested that he, Butler, would be prepared to receive the prisoners. On that day, Col. Davenport, accompanied by Pash-a-pa-ho, Wee-shaw and Keokuk, chiefs, together with quite a number of Indians, his guard and the interpreters, arrived at Yellow Banks, and delivered into the custody of Maj. Butler four young warriors, who were divested of their weapons and ornaments, and, as they expressed it, became squaws, were placed under guard and taken to Monmouth. Here they were put under the charge of Daniel McNeil, jailor, who kept them under guard until the jail, then in process of construction, was sufficiently strong for their safe keeping.

The names of the prisoners were J-o-nah, signifying, stay here, or be quiet, or be still; Ka-ke-mo, he that troubles, or humbleth; Wau-pe-sho-kon, the white string; and S-sa-pe-mo (the meaning of the latter name is not now known).

They brought with them a parcel of pipes, tobacco, dried corn, beans and a quantity of meat and tallow, sufficient to last them several days. The jailor had some of their provisions cooked for them in the Indian style, but regularly supplied them with wholesome food. One day they refused to eat until a speech had been delivered by J-o-nah, to which the others responded, and when ended, the speaker gave to the jailor a large green blanket, a pair of moccasins and a handkerchief. He was unable to understand the speech and judged the Indians wanted the blanket and handkerchief (though quite clean) washed,—the moccasins were for his wife, as a compensation for washing.

When the articles were washed and dried, the jailor took them back to the prisoners, when he discovered his error. Speeches were again made, in which the name of Pencenean (a French interpreter,) was often used. He was in the employ of Mr. Phelps, and a short time after, being at the jail, the Indians requested him to say to their keeper that they were shut up in prison, deprived of fishing or hunting, away from their kindred and friends and nation, and wholly dependent upon the "French man," as they called the jailor, for everything they ate and drank, and that, were it not for his kindness, they would long since have starved to death; that the blanket and other articles were of no use to them now, and that they had given them to him as a token of their gratitude, and hoped that they might be so received. "Tell him," said J-o-nah, "he is my brother, and a brother of us all; and should we ever be liberated we will return to our kindred and tell them all the 'French man' has done for us. And when he becomes old, we will fish and kill deer and buffalo, catch otter and beaver for him, and we will bring them to Wa-wash-a-ne-quah (S. S. Phillips, who traded much with the Indians), who will write to the 'French man' to come down with his one-horse wagon and bring up an abundance of provisions and furs for himself, squaw, and little ones, and all our brothers shall be his brothers."

Court convened on June 14, 1833, and under a writ of habeas corpus the prisoners were brought up for trial. Col. Davenport, the Indian Agent, Mr. Le Clair, his interpreter, Keokuk, a famous chief, always friendly to the whites, Pow-a-sheite, and some fifty other chiefs and braves came up from Yellow Banks, headed by the United States flag, and encamped near the place of trial. The Indians—probably through the agent—had employed able counsel. They were Mr. Field, of Vandalia, Mr. Galewood, of Shawneetown and Mr. Hempstead, of Galena. They paid these lawyers about $500 each to defend them.

After a patient examination by the grand jury, of Keokuk and other chiefs, to identify these persons as the murderers, that body reported that "The person confined in the fort at Rock Island was the only person ever taken who was the real murderer, and that he had escaped to parts unknown." The prisoners were at once discharged, though not before Judge Young had (through the interpreter) severely reprimanded Keokuk and the other chiefs for delivering innocent persons in the room of the guilty. Keokuk replied that one guilty of the crime had been delivered up to the United States and that he had escaped, and with the four other murderers had gone beyond the Rocky Mountains. That these four prisoners were next in kin to the guilty ones, and according to their custom were given to be punished. They were all very grateful for the deliverance of their braves, and at once returned to their hunting grounds. While in the jail, the keeper had tried to learn from them where lead could be found in Iowa. They assured him there was none to be found in that State worth working, except about Dubuque. They often drew maps for him, starting at the lakes, drawing the Illinois River and its tributaries, Wisconsin, Mississippi and Missouri, embracing Turkey River, Maquoketa, Waubesa, Winnebago, Iowa and its branches and the Des Moines; and it was often spoken of by the jailor, who has transmitted these items to posterity, that it was doubtful whether anyone could, with a piece of chalk, draw on a rough board floor so good a map of these rivers and the country they traversed. A few other Indians were tried in Warren county for various crimes, one of whom, Wa-gra-sho-kon, married a daughter of the celebrated Black Hawk.

Troubles with the Indians soon, most happily, ceased. The famous Black Hawk war was closed, and emigrants came rapidly into the county. Religion and education at once took firm hold here, so that now the county contains fully as many churches and schools, according to its population, as any county in the United States.

The first sermon preached in the limits of Warren county was by Rev. Mr. Finch, a Methodist minister. The people comprising this denomination were few in number then, and lived far apart. Their first regular missionary was Rev. Barton Randall. A class was formed first at Thomas Pierce's house, and here Benton H. Cartwright, the first exhorter and licensed preacher among them, held services.

A Cumberland Presbyterian minister preached the first sermon in Monmouth, at Joel Hargrove's house. As early as 1830 or 1831, the Associate Reformed sent a missionary here, and their church formed at Henderson's Grove is the oldest religious organization in the county. The Disciples located about the same time east of Monmouth, their center being Coldbrook. The first Sunday-school in Warren was opened at Yellow Bank, in 1830, and two years after, a second school was opened in Monmouth. The first public school—supported by subscription—was opened in Monmouth by Robert Black, in 1831, and shortly after, another was started by Alpheus Russell.

Aside from Dr. Garland, the earliest physician to locate here was Dr. Ethan Cabanis. Dr. Alpheus Russell came in 1831. Both these physicians located at Monmouth.

John Wilton, the first lawyer in Warren county, located on his farm, in what is now Kelley township. He was soon followed by John H. Mitchell and Ivory Quinby.

The first recorded marriage was that of Samuel L. White to Huldah Jennings, on May 10, 1831, the ceremony being performed by John B. Talbott, Justice of the Peace.

On Saturday, June 11, 1831, the County Commissioners divided the county into three election districts, or precincts. The first of these had for its voting place the Court House, Monmouth; the second was called Yellow Banks district, and the place of voting was at the house of William Cousland; and the third was known as Ellison district, where the voters met at the house of Paris Smith. At this same time, a license was granted to William Cousland to keep an inn—the first one in Warren county—at Yellow Banks. He paid two and one-half dollars for the license, which, as in all such instruments, specified his rates for entertainment.

Stephen Phelps was also granted leave, on payment of $10, to sell merchandise at the same place. He was also collector of the taxes, and having about this time collected the sum of $208, he sent the same to Springfield by the hand of John B. Talbott, who received $5 for his services.

The county was beginning to rapidly fill with settlers, and at every meeting of the Commissioners, several petitions would be presented to grant the opening of roads throughout the county. By March, 1832, eight road districts were established, and to aid in county affairs, a tax of one-half per cent. was levied on all personal property, which at that time included several negro slaves.

It will be borne in mind by all, that at one time human slavery was allowed in Illinois, and was the cause of considerable discussion and no little trouble before it was banished from the State. There is on record in the county offices the wise and humane action of Mr. Joseph Murphy, who came into court October 2, 1834, and stated that he desired to liberate a negro man he owned, who wished to go to Liberia. He gave bonds in the sum of one thousand dollars to secure the county against any loss sustained in keeping the slave should he fail to go to Liberia or to provide for himself. Mr. Murphy allowed the man to take the name of Richard Murphy, and set him at liberty. Richard remained in Warren county, became quite wealthy, and is now one of the best citizens therein. This curse to humanity was never allowed to any extent here, and only in its mildest forms, and in many instances the slave was as well or better treated than the average hired man at the present time. The majority of persons thus held were brought here by their owners as servants from the South, and were generally considered as such.

In the autumn of 1832, Daniel McNeil was re-appointed County Clerk, and Elijah Davidson continued as County Treasurer. In order to secure warmth during the coming winter, to the county officers, a stone chimney was ordered to be built to the court-house. It might be interesting to pause here and notice the jail, which had been by this time completed. It was built of hewed logs, each one foot square, the lower story having double walls. An excavation was made in the ground two feet deep and the floor laid at the bottom of this. It was composed of two layers of oak logs hewed one foot square, the upper layer crossing the lower, thereby making a floor two feet of solid oak. The walls for seven rounds high were the same in strength and thickness, the ends of the logs being dove-tailed into each other. On the upper surface of the seventh round the upper floor was laid. This was of the same material and size as the floor beneath, save it was one thickness closely joined. In the centre a heavy trap door was made, securely fastened by a strong pad-lock. The roof was of the firmest material and well covered with good shingles. In the lower story a window or "air-hole" six by twelve inches was made, and between the logs composing the wall, iron bars one inch in thickness, were securely fastened crossing this window up and down and crossways. At the centre of one end of the upper story, a double oak plank door was placed, and a stairway leading from it to the ground built. The prisoners were conducted up these stairs into the upper story, when the trap door was raised, and they descended by a movable stairway or ladder to the cell beneath. Here they were secure. This jail was probably one of the best of the kind ever built in the west, and was the work of Jacob Rust, the lowest bidder for the contract. It was completed and accepted May 4th, 1833.

On June 29, 1840, this jail was sold to L. C. Woodworth for \$62.50, he with C. L. Merrill, having secured the contract to erect the present structure for \$2,831.66 $\frac{2}{3}$. It was accepted the following year, and has since undergone considerable repair, and will, in all probability, soon be replaced by one fully equal to any emergency.

The old log court-house was occupied about seven years. In 1835, at the March meeting of the County Commissioners, James McCallon, Elijah Davidson, and Daniel McNeil, Jr., were appointed a committee to prepare a plan for a new one. These submitted a plan for a frame structure thirty feet long, twenty feet wide, and one and a half story high. June 1st the contract for its construction was let, and Daniel McNeil appointed superintendent. The cost was to be $773.00. The old court-house was sold to James Hodgen for twenty-one dollars. The new court-house was never finished, and was used in the incomplete condition one or two years. On December 8, 1836, the county Board ordered advertisements to be inserted in the Peoria Champion, Quincy Ayrus, Bounty Law Register, Sangamon Journal, and the Illinois Patriot, for the best plans for a court-house, to be built of brick and stone. The present court-house was the result. It is forty by fifty feet in dimensions, two stories high, and, when constructed, had an east and south front. The latter is now closed. The contract for its construction was let to Cornelius Tunnickliff for $8,998. He commenced the work, drew the first installment of pay—$1,000—and left. His securities at once entered upon the work and completed the building. It, as well as the jail, standing immediately west, is becoming inadequate to the wants of the county, and a commodious structure will, ere long, occupy its place.

The territory now comprising Henderson county was, prior to 1841, included in Warren county. The residents of that section, especially those in the western parts, complained of the long distance to the seat of justice, and made some efforts to have it removed to a more central locality. Many of them desired it should be placed at Oquawka, on the Mississippi river, the old county seat. This would not do. To settle all matters, the western part of the county, including 164,608 acres of land, was set off into another county, and called Henderson. The county seat was located at Oquawka. Until late years this place was generally known as Yellow Banks, and as such is often spoken of in these pages. It is well to state that the latter name is simply the English translation of the Indian name the town still bears.

In 1849 the first vote on a township organization was held. It was decided in the affirmative, and the County Commissioners appointed Joseph Paddox, John C. Bond and Ira F. M. Butler a committee to divide the county into townships. This committee performed this duty, and for one or two years the county was governed accordingly. A decision of the Supreme Court, however, decided the act illegal, on account of the insufficient number of votes, and the organization was abandoned. In 1850, Mr. C. K. Smith presented a petition signed by many citizens, asking for a vote to be held at the November election. At the election the organization was defeated. Another petition was presented in 1852 by Mr. Robert Gilmore, and again defeated at the polls. On September 12, 1853, Mr. James McCoy presented a petition signed by more than fifty voters, asking that at the coming general election, in November, the vote be once more taken. This election was held on November 8th, and thirteen hundred and ninety-six votes were cast; seven hundred and sixty-eight were in favor, and the county commissioners soon after appointed John C. Bond, Samuel Hallam and Robert Gilmore a committee to divide the county into townships. This committee formed them as they now exist, save that a few of the names have since been changed.

The most prominent roads were laid out in the early settlement of the county.

These wagon roads have, in a great measure, lost their usefulness, being superseded by railroads, but are yet used as thoroughfares. In December, 1834, a road was laid out, or "viewed," as it is termed in all the records, from Monmouth to Macomb. The following year, from Monmouth to Knoxville. This same year the law requiring all able-bodied men over twenty-one years of age to work two days on the roads was put in force, and had a salutary effect on the travelling facilities. Also, during the summer, the State road from Knoxville through Warren county to New Boston was viewed by Erastus Denison and Ephriam Gilmore. A route had been for some time established to Rock Island, and to other points, and after the location of the State road, the improvements in this regard were generally local.

The first railroad in the county was built in 1854, and finished to Monmouth on January 1st, 1855. The charter was obtained for a road under the title of the "Peoria and Oquawka Rail Road, but upon the refusal on the part of Oquawka to give aid to the road, Burlington raised the sum required, and in consequence the route was changed, and Burlington became what Oquawka might have been, a city of great commercial importance, and a railroad centre for all roads through Iowa. The Chicago and Quincy Rail Road was completed to Galesburg at that time, and that company leased or obtained the privilege of running their trains over the Peoria & Oquawka line to Burlington, and in a short time after purchased the entire line, when the name was changed to the Chicago & Burlington Rail Road. As soon as the Quincy branch was completed to Galesburg, 110 miles, it assumed the present title, by which it is known all over the world.

This county, when it was asked for $50,000 to aid in its construction, gave it, but the measure was strongly opposed on the ground that such a road would never pay, as the road could, it was said, take off in one day all Warren county could produce for shipment in a year. This was an argument that it would not benefit the county for the sum required, and as for the passenger traffic, it was said that a stage passed through Monmouth from Peoria three times a week, and that they were never half full. Where would the railroad get its support?

When the road was finished, there was more freight at Monmouth waiting shipment than the most sanguine had dreamed, and the result was, the county began increasing rapidly in population and improvement, until it ranks as one of the greatest shipping counties on the line of road.

In the summer of 1870, the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis railroad was completed through the county, giving direct communication with St. Louis on the south and Rock Island on the north. The county gave largely to assist in the construction of this road, and has derived good benefits from it. It has lately come under the control of the C. B. & Q.

The railroad company intend soon to erect a fine depot at the crossing, to take the place of the one lately destroyed by fire. This is much needed, as the travel to this point is very large.

A narrow gauge railroad is now projected from a point in Illinois, opposite Burlington, thence through Henderson, Warren, Fulton and Peoria counties, via Monmouth and Canton, to Pekin and Peoria. At Pekin connection will be made with the Rantoul and Eastern for Toledo, Ohio.

A company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, is already formed, and received their charter on November 20, 1875. It is largely composed of the best business men of the county, and when completed will be a source of great benefit to the people along the line.

OLD SETTLERS' ORGANIZATION.

Pursuant to a call published in the Warren and Henderson county papers, many of the old settlers in the two counties met at Young America, on Saturday afternoon, January 27, 1872. The meeting was called to order by Col. S. Hutchinson, who stated the object to be the forming of a permanent organization of the old settlers of the two counties, and to make arrangements for a social re-union, to be held on the 22d day of February.

All persons who had settled in the two counties previous to the formation of Henderson county, were admitted to membership, save the editors of the papers in each of the counties, who were admitted to honorary membership. It was also decided that the officers should be a president, vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer. At the meeting held February 22d, committees were appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws and to select officers for the ensuing year. The time for the annual re-union was fixed to be on the first Wednesday in June, of each year.

On this day the first re-union was held, at which time the constitution and by-laws were approved. The re-union was held at Young America, and a most enjoyable spirit prevailed. The old settlers gave many interesting accounts of their early life, and privations endured in the settling of the counties. It was ordered to change the time of meeting until the first Wednesday in September, hereafter, which is the annual day for the re-unions.

These re-unions have been regularly held since. Nearly all the old settlers in the two counties are now members, and take an active part in sustaining the organization. The constitution is now so amended that all persons in the counties are eligible for membership who have resided therein thirty years.

The present officers are : President, Col. Samuel Hutchinson; Vice-President, James Tucker; Secretary, W. A. Grant; Corresponding Secretary, J. B. Patterson; Treasurer, Wm. Hanna.

The following is a list of the members of this association, and their date of settlements, as shown by the records of the society:

THE OLDEST CHURCH IN WARREN COUNTY.

The first organized church in this county was near what is called "Sugar-Tree Grove," in Hale township. It was called the "Associate Presbyterian Church of Henderson;" the latter name from its supposed proximity to the Henderson river, seven miles distant. Some persons of this denomination, it seems, had settled in this vicinity as early as 1828, from Ohio. Earlier still, persons of the same church connection had settled in the southern part of this State, and in Missouri. From some of those in the latter State, a petition for supply of gospel ordinances was sent to the Associate Synod at its meeting in May, 1825. The result was, that the Synod resolved to occupy the States of Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. From this time forward, missionaries were appointed to labor a part of each year in each of these States. In 1830, Rev. James McCarrel was appointed to what was then called the Western Mission, and in November of that year he organized Henderson congregation. This took place at the house of John Caldwell. The names of twenty-five persons are recorded, who were received as members at the organization, and are as follows: Adam Ritchie, John Ritchie, Elizabeth Ritchie, Abigail Ritchie, Martha Ritchie, Jane Campbell, John Maley, John Kendall, Elizabeth Kendall, Samuel Gibson, Elizabeth Gibson, James Junkin, Sarah Junkin, Martha Junkin, Ann Junkin, William Gibson, Matthew Ritchie, Caroline Ritchie, Adam Ritchie, Sen., John Ritchie, Jr., Sarah Junkin, David Findley, Jane Findley, Margaret Temple and John W. Caldwell. Not one of these is now a member of this church—only five are living—and these at, or near, Monmouth. The first elders were: Adam Ritchie and John Caldwell. The first pastor was Rev. James C. Bruce, from Ohio, who first began to receive support from the congregation Oct. 15, 1832, though he had preached here for some time previous as a missionary. He was installed pastor May 11, 1833, by Rev. Samuel Ingalls and Adam Ritchie, elder, who were appointed for that purpose by the Presbytery of Miami, Ohio, to which this church then belonged. This pastorate continued until Oct. 25, 1847, after which the church was without a pastor for two years. On the 25th of Oct., 1849, Rev. John Scott, D. D., was installed pastor, and continued until 1868. The leading public event which occurred during this long pastorate, was the union of the Associate Reformed and Associate churches of the United States, forming the United Presbyterian Church. The union was consummated by the synods representing these churches at Pittsburgh, Pa., May 26, 1858, and afterward unanimously approved by this congregation.

Sometime in the autumn of 1868, a call was made out for T. G. Morrow, then a licentiate, and his ordination and installation as pastor took place in April, 1869. This pastorate continued for three years. In the fall of 1873, Rev. David A. Wallace, D. D., president of Monmouth College, became pastor, and continued until failing health from many laborious duties compelled him to resign in January, 1876. The present pastor is Rev. David McDill, D. D., professor in Monmouth College.

The first house of worship in this county was built by this congregation in 1832. It was made of logs, and was 24 by 30 feet. It was used for worship until 1839, when it was far too small to accommodate the congregation. Some persons often came as far as twenty miles to attend church.

In 1837 a move was made to build a large brick church, near the first. The brick were made upon the ground near by, and heavy foundation walls of stone, three feet thick, were laid, upon which arose the spacious edifice 50 by 64 feet—a wonder for those days—which cost over $4,000. This house, too, was often filled to overflowing in those early days. It was used for worship for thirty-five years—from 1839 to 1874. The present neat and elegant structure, 40 by 60 feet, built in 1874, stands near a beautiful grove, and is hardly surpassed in its attractiveness by any edifice in the county. It cost, including fixtures and furnace, $4,252, and is all paid.

The present membership of this church is 120, and the congregation is in a prosperous condition. This church has received, since its organization, about 700 members. Many have taken certificates to aid in the formation of other churches. As an outgrowth from this “oldest church in the county,” and from Cedar Creek church, there are at the present time nine United Presbyterian churches, with about 2,000 members.

The Cedar Creek church, in Summer township, was organized July 4, 1835, as Associate Reformed, by Rev. Dr. Blakie, now of Boston, Mass. It was first called by the very appropriate name, “Sharon Church,” and was the first of this denomination in this county, and probably for many contiguous counties in this region.

The following names are found upon the oldest record as the persons constituting the church at the time organized: John Giles, ruling elder; James Giles, John P. Giles, Hugh Martin, Prudence Giles, Nancy Giles, Susannah Giles, Margaret Giles, Mary L. Giles, Susan Giles, Jane Giles, John Williamson, James Campbell, Mary Findley, James Findley, Nancy Robinson, George Jay and Mary A. Jay—eighteen in all. Dr. Blakie had been sent out as a missionary of the church into the new settlements of the West, and when he found a few who had been members of churches where they had previously lived, he gathered them into a church.

Prior to his coming, Rev. John Wallace, also a missionary, from Monroe county, Va., had preached several times at the houses of some of the settlers, and was employed by the congregation, after the organization, as stated supply for a portion of his time from 1835 to 1840. The first elders were J. C. McCreary, Wm. Walker and Maj. John Brown. Rev. James C. Porter came here in 1840, and was the first pastor—installed in 1841, and continued until near the time of his death, which occurred Nov. 15, 1863. It was during this pastorate that the membership largely increased. Also, in 1858, this church joined in the union and thus became United Presbyterian.

Rev. John A. Reynolds began his work in this church in August, 1863, and remained pastor until July, 1872, nine years.

The present pastor is Rev. J. M. Atchison, who commenced his labors here Dec. 1, 1872.

This congregation has built three houses of worship. The first was of logs, built in 1836, and stood about two miles northeast from Little York. This was occupied until 1845, when a larger and better edifice was needed, and a frame structure was erected near the first, and was occupied as a house of worship over twenty years. The present commodious house was built in 1866, cost about $4,000, and stands in a beautiful grove, three miles northeast from Little York. This congregation also own a pleasant parsonage, situated one mile north of the church. Not one of the original members is now connected with this congregation; only two are known to be living—

Mrs. Wallace, widow of Rev. John Wallace, and Mrs. Jamison, now in Florida. The present membership is 140. The total contributions for last year, as reported, for all church purposes were about $2,500, averaging nearly twenty dollars per member, showing a very generous liberality. This congregation is in a growing and prosperous condition, has a flourishing Sabbath-school, averaging 110, Superintendent Zenas Hogue, and a large weekly district prayer meeting, well attended by old and young.

THE COUNTY FARM.

Until the year 1857, the poor in the county were kept by the townships. They were generally given to the "lowest bidder," as it was termed, to the one who would maintain them at the least expense to the county. In almost all cases these were the relatives of the person so kept. This method was unsatisfactory. In June of that year the county, through Porter Phelps and Hiram Norcross as its agents, purchased one hundred and twenty acres of Luther Dickson for $3,360, and on this tract a house was erected at an expense of $2,000, for this class of persons.

Soon after Albert Mitchell, Esq., was appointed Superintendent, and in 1859 the rules regulating this institution were adopted.

The institution is now in a good condition, occupying a commodious frame house. The farm is about five miles southwest of Monmouth, and at present sustains quite a number of inmates.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS, SCHOOL LANDS, TRUSTEES AND COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS.

The initiatory steps in the Educational development of Warren County consisted in the election of the proper officers for disposing of school lands, the custodians of the funds raised, and the organization of districts. The first event in this direction occurred at a regular meeting of the County Commissioners' Court, held in Monmouth, Sept. 5th, 1831. This court consisted of Peter Butler and John B. Talbot, County Commissioners; Daniel McNeil, County Clerk; and James Ryerson, Sheriff. Alexis Phelps was appointed School Commissioner, and executed his bond for $12,000, with Peter Butler, John B. Talbot and Sheldon Lockwood sureties, which was approved and filed Sept. 7, 1831. At the same term of this court, Robert Kendall, James Murphy and Daniel McNeil were appointed Trustees.

These officers proceeded at once to sub-divide the school section into lots from 1 to 25 inclusive, and pursuant to public notice, said lands and lots were offered at public sale Oct. 27, 1831. The aggregate amount of lands and lots sold at auction on that day was 200 acres, ranging in price from $1.25 to $1.62½ per acre. The remainder of the section was sold at private sale, and the first annual report of the Commissioner shows, total amount received, $1,754.46; deducting expenses, net proceeds, $1,398.38.

In the spring of 1832 the following persons were appointed Trustees of Sumner Township: Hugh Martin, Anthony Cannon and James Barton. Lands were offered for sale Sept. 8, 1834. Eighty acres were sold to John G. Barton at $1.25 per acre.

In Floyd Township Trustees were appointed Dec. 2, 1833, as follows: Wm. Whitman, John G. Haley and Joseph Murphy. Land was sold Sept. 8, 1834, to Alexander Davidson, Elijah Davidson, Carter Davidson and Josiah Whitman, 80 acres each, at $1.25 per acre.

Trustees for Hale Township were appointed March 6, 1834: Wm. Nash, Adam Ritchie and James Findley. Lands sold Sept. 8, 1834, to William Nash 200 acres, David Turnbull 80 acres, each at $1.25 per acre.

Coldbrook Township Trustees, appointed June 2, 1834. Lands first offered for sale May 1, 1835.

Greenbush Trustees appointed April 21, 1834. Lands sold March 7, 1836 Berwick lands sold Dec. 7, 1835.

Tompkins sales were made March 19, 1836.

Ellison lands sold March 31, 1836, and here terminates the official records of Alexis Phelps, the first school commissioner of this county. He was succeeded by Wyat S. Berry, who sold the school lands of Swan Township for $4,070.90, Jan. 15, 1838.

The next sale of lands was the 16th Sec. of Roseville Township, July 29, 1839, for $1,029.60. Then lands of Kelly Township, Sept. 28, 1840, for $1,433.10. Samuel Wood was next appointed School Commissioner, and he sold a part of the lands of Spring Grove Township, Dec. 14, 1843. This officer was succeeded by James G. Madden, during whose term of office, by act of the Legislature, the School Commissioner became ex-officio Superintendent of schools.

The following comprises a list of school commissioners and ex-officio superintendents: W. B. Jenks, Wm. F. Smith, A. H. Tracy, V. S. Harbaugh, Willis B. Greer, F. B. Bond, Wm. H. Pierce, A. B. Cox and Ira B. Harsh, whose term of office expired in Dec. 1865. By act of the Legislature of 1865, Sec. 11 of the school law was so amended that the office of school commissioner terminated, and created the office of County Superintendent. G. I. Willson was the first elected to this office, and continued the allotted time, four years. In 1870 J. B. Donnell, the present incumbent, succeeded to this office.

SCHOOLS.

The low rate at which the school lands were sold—being in most cases not more than six per cent. of what was their real value a few years later—failed to create an endowment sufficient to establish and maintain a system of public schools. Hence schools were not “free,” and while we had all the machinery of a public school system, a small per cent. only of the expense was paid from the public funds. In order, then, to maintain schools, rate-bills were established.

The first school-house built in this county was at Sugar-Tree Grove, in Hale Township, in 1832. It was made of logs, and was 14x16 ft. For windows there was one log sawed out, and small panes of glass placed in around the room. The floor was puncheon, as also were the seats and desks. This house was used for school for about eight years, when it was burned. The first teacher in the county taught this school, Miss Martha Junkin, from Ohio. People came from the distance of four and five miles, showing much interest under the difficulties experienced in early education, as in other matters.

On March 6, 1834, School District No. 1, Monmouth Township was organized, consisting of twelve sections in said township, and four sections in Hale Township. We give below a verbatim copy of the first annual reports of Trustees of Monmouth District No. 1, filed in October, 1834.

"There are in this district fifty children over five and under twenty-one years of age. There has been a school kept three months since the organization of this district. Twenty-five children have received tuition. The probable expense will be forty-five dollars.

GILBERT TURNBULL, }
JAMES MCCALLON, } Trustees."

This school was "kept" in a log house with a dirt floor, and used for the common purpose of church, court house and school. It was situated on the southeast corner of Main and North streets, and afterwards used for a blacksmith shop. In 1835 a small frame school house was built on the present site of the M. E. Church, but by no means were all the educational advantages afforded the youth in those days, to be found in the public schools. In fact, they were not provided till about twenty years later. It was at best but little cheaper nor more efficient than the private or select schools. Good and efficient teachers were sometimes employed, but after serving one or two terms, it was common for them to throw off the restraints of a School Board, and set up independently. Among the earlier teachers whose names are remembered, are Messrs. McElray, Crandall, Weltman, Kellum, Randall and Gilbert Turnbull. The first female teacher was Mrs. Montgomery, who taught in her own room in a house on the present site of B. Parkes dwelling. This room was afterwards rented to Miss Paine, now Mrs. Gibson, who taught successfully for a number of terms.

Mr. Wellman, who seems to be most distinctly remembered as a pedagogue, taught in a log house, on the northeast corner of Broadway and West Avenue. Other rooms were occupied, from time to time R. D. Hammond was the last teacher to occupy the old pioneer school house. Robert Gibson taught at the same time, on the north side of the square, where now stands J. B. Martin's market house. In 1848, the pioneer house was removed, and a more pretending edifice erected on the same ground. It had now become the duty of teachers to obtain certificates of qualification from the Commissioner, who was by law also Superintendent of Schools. In 1854, a Mr. Gray, teacher in the public school, abandoned it, "because," to use his own words, "it didn't pay." At the same time, W. B. Jenks was teaching a flourishing private school in the Presbyterian church, and Miss Julia Madden another in the Christian church. The public school was revived again by Mr. A. H. Tracy, who opened his first term with nineteen pupils, and closed with ninety-one. Mr. Tracy, assisted by his wife, taught with success for several terms. In October, 1855, all public schools were made free, by virtue of the two mill tax.

And here dates a new era in the history of schools of the county and state. The first effect of this change was to kill out the private or select schools, which had been so largely relied upon, and to more than double the number of pupils seeking instruction. Public attention was at once directed to the necessity of providing more ample accommodations; and new school houses became the order of the day. Something more than ample funds and good houses was required to meet the growing responsibilities, resulting from the new order of things, and what was true of Warren county, was equally so of the state at large. At a state convention of education, held in Chicago, in December, 1856, much interest and new life was given to the system of public instruction, resulting from its deliberations. Among those who took active part in discussions, were Newton Bateman, Wm. Bross, Simeon Wright, Supt. Wells, and Prof. Turner. At this convention it was determined to employ a state agent, for one year, to labor throughout the state in the interest of the public schools; whose salary was $1,800, to be paid by contributions. Warren county was represented in the convention by John A. Gordon, A. H. Tracy, and D. R. Stevens. Prof. Simeon Wright was selected for the work of state agent, and Warren county enjoyed his services for a number of days. The result proved all the most sanguine had hoped. Graded schools sprang up as by magic, all over the state, and public opinion took a long stride in the direction of progress and reform, and from these labors and efforts are due the present type of public instruction.

WARREN COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Warren County Agricultural Society was organized August 7, 1852, at a public meeting held at the court house in Monmouth. The following temporary officers were then selected: Samuel Hallam, President; J. G. Madden, Secretary; G. W. Palmer, Vice President; F. B. Weakley, Treasurer. The first annual election was held September 4, 1852, resulting as follows: Samuel Hallam, President; Robt. Gibson, Vice President; J. G. Madden, Secretary; Wm. Billings, Treasurer.

The first annual Fair was held in the court house on Friday, Oct. 15, 1852. One thousand people were in attendance. The premiums consisted of certificates, no cash prizes being offered. From this small beginning the Society's annual exhibition has advanced to a position as one of the best County Fairs in the state. Over $3,000 are annually offered in premiums; the Fair is continued four days, and the total yearly attendance is about twenty-five thousand. Fair week is observed as a general holiday, and entire families flock in from all parts of Warren and adjacent counties. The Society owns extensive grounds, and suitable and commodious buildings, valued at about $12,000.

The present officers of the association are: President, John B. McGinnis; Vice President, A. H. Swain; Secretary, Geo. C. Rankin; Treasurer, Robt. M. Stevenson. Executive Committee: R. S. Patton, C. L. Buck, C. Hardin, L. D. Robinson, J. T. Richards, H. D. Harding, J. E. Alexander, E. R. Houlton, L. H. Gilmore.

The twenty-sixth annual Fair will occur September 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1877.

WARREN COUNTY LIBRARY AND READING ROOM ASSOCIATION.

This Library has resulted from a number of movements in the direction of a Public Library. The matter was considered and discussed in a variety of forms, for years before it reached a successful organization.

In 1867 the attempt was made to start a Library as a joint stock association; but the subscriptions were insufficient. The same year, the Evangelical Union of Monmouth, composed of representatives of the churches in Monmouth, took the subject under consideration, and gave it a new impulse. After consultation with many citizens, who were willing to assist, it was determined to form a corporation independent of the Evangelical Union.

It was evident that a Public Library, such as was demanded to meet the wants, common and special, of this intelligent community, would need a large amount of money given for this purpose. Accordingly, a Trust Corporation was organized, after the manner of many of the oldest and most successful institutions of the East, for benevolent and educational purposes. The Constitution and Rules were drafted by Hon. Ivory Quimby, whose sound judgment and deep interest in the project assured a good beginning in this important respect. He also provided a room, free of expense, until his death.

Twenty-five persons became responsible for the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars, for the purpose of sustaining a Reading Room during two years. These original Incorporators and Directors were the following: J. E. Alexander, F. E. Armsby, Draper Babcock, F. M. Bruner, W. G. Bone, J. S. Clark, J. L. Dryden, Chaney Hardin, Robert Holloway, A. H. Holt, J. M. Jameison, Wm. Laferty, James Long, R. C. Matthews, W. P. Pressly, D. P. Phelps, Ivory Quimby, N. A. Rankin, J. K. Ripley, T. H. Rogers, E. R. Smith, A. H. Swain, Wm. Smiley, D. A. Wallace, J. R. Webster.

A Reading Room, well supplied with papers and periodicals was opened June 1st, 1868, under the name of the Monmouth Reading Room and Library. This was sustained for two years. No books were bought, as there were no funds for that purpose.

During all this time, unknown to any one, these small beginnings were closely considered by a friend, who was only waiting to see the evidences of permanent success and usefulness. Early in the year 1870, Mr. W. P. Pressly made an offer of the gift of a Library Building, which he erected the same year. This building was given with the condition, that the net rents of the two storerooms on the first floor should be used to buy books, and the second story should be used as a Library Hall and Reading Room. He expressed the desire that the plan of the Library should be enlarged, so as to benefit the country as well as the city. The following are his published words: "Inasmuch as under God we are principally indebted to the citizens of the country for the means to be used in its construction, if for no higher motive, gratitude towards them bids us now remember them as a party to be benefited, and thus made a party interested in patronizing and sustaining their own Institution." It was therefore legally incorporated as "The Warren County Library and Reading Room Association," and special provisions were made for the benefit of readers in the country.

The same year the Board of County Supervisors united in the permanent founding of the Library, by making a grant thereto "Of all rents, profits and issues hereafter accruing from the Seminary Block," and receiving the right in the Constitution of the Association to appoint one of the Trustees. Dr. Henry Tubbs has held that position ever since, by repeated appointments from the Board of Supervisors. Under his judicious supervision, the Constitution was amended, making equitable provision for the entire county.

The income from the County Grant is required to be devoted to the purchase of books, most of which must be in the Department of Agriculture and the Practical Arts. In this way, according to the Charter, any Department can be founded, bearing the name of the founder, and restricted to any special class of books.

The plan of extending the use of the Library to the country, has been eminently a success. It is used in every township in the county; and it has brought within its sphere a population sufficiently large to support and use a strong and well equipped library. For this purpose the population of the city alone is not sufficient, as the general experience of libraries has shown. The hand that gave to the Library this opportunity for extended usefulness has continued to strengthen and cherish it. It has received from him, again and again, for the purpose of printing a catalogue, for the enlargement of the lot, and for the increase of the endowment fund. This community has never received from any other citizen as large a public gift as it has from Mr. Pressly.

As the Library was founded for the benefit of all, it has been sustained and favored by all classes of citizens in town and country. The young and the old are constantly to be seen at its tables. The ladies, by various efforts, furnished the room, and none frequent it more than they. Farmers for ten or fifteen miles around use the books and magazines in their homes. Professional men and business men have given freely to its support in money, and what is equally important, in careful attention to its interests. Foremost among such should be named the late and lamented Wm. Laferty, who was for eight years its treasurer. Each year he gave it a generous gift, and he gave to it much time and affectionate attention. His practical business ability and excellent judgment have been of untold value to it during these years when its character was forming.

Much of the work which has made the Library successful has been gratuitously done by the officers, trustees, directors and various committees. The business matters have always been in the hands of careful business men in the Committees on the Building and on Finance, and on the Auditing Committee. The selection of reading matter is done by a committee representing both town and county. A committee on Book Notices calls attention through the press to the best reading. A committee of Reference give their aid in the room to readers desiring information or guidance. A cataloguing committee does the current cataloguing and prepares the bulletins.

The most approved methods of library management are in use. A printed catalogue was issued in 1874, and monthly bulletins have been printed since, showing what accessions have been made. An indicator shows what volumes or magazines are on the shelves, and what are in use. A card catalogue has just been constructed, from the bulletins, to supplement the catalogue of 1874. Special manuscript bulletins are posted up in the room from time to time, giving lists of works on subjects of present interest. Readers are urged to recommend books for purchase, with the assurance that such will be bought unless good reason exists to the contrary. New books are bought each month. The reading is fresh, popular and wholesome. The selections are made with careful fairness toward all classes of readers, and careful regard for the good of the community. That which is worthless or immoral is not bought, or is withdrawn if accidentally obtained.

The proportion of books bought in different departments is determined mainly by the reading and requests of adult readers, except where special funds are provided for some department, as is the case for works on agriculture and the useful arts. According to this rule the selections are about one-third in science, arts, philosophy and general literature; one-third in history, biography and travels; one-third in fiction and poetry.

The number of volumes in the library (April 2, 1877,) is 4,850. Of these 600 have been donated by citizens, and 4,250 purchased. For this purpose the Pressly rents produce one thousand dollars per year, and the county grant about three hundred dollars per year. About 800 volumes are added each year. One hundred and twenty magazines and papers are regularly received. Many of these are gifts from friends. The last year's circulation of books was 16,564. The daily attendance in the reading room averages about 120. About 1,000 persons use the library. The permanent funds have increased each year by donations and sale of perpetual tickets. That which is received by gift goes to the permanent upbuilding of the institution. The small charge made for the use of the library is only intended to cover current expenses, as salaries, fuel, etc. The building and books are provided without expense to readers. Many of the citizens of the county have obtained perpetual tickets, giving to their families the continual use of the library. About one-half the settled ministers of the county now have free use of the library by the kindness of friends who have purchased this right for them. This privilege is gladly extended in this way to any person or class for whom tickets are provided, either annual or perpetual. The library has one price and one rule for all. The charge is as low as it can safely be made. But there is no limit to the extent to which perpetual free tickets can be endowed by those who wish to benefit others, or their own families, in this way.

It is needful to remember that only six years have elapsed since the library was first opened for loan of books. Its plan includes many important features not yet attempted for want of sufficient means, such as a free reading room, branch libraries at other points, special departments of books not in general demand, full and frequent catalogues, endowed free tickets, and methods of extending the usefulness of the institution.

In all that has been done, this rule has been constantly followed: "Pay as you go." This principle has been impressed upon the enterprise by the prudent business men who have founded and prohibited the incurring of debts and the attempting of more than the means warrant. Thus a foundation has been laid, broad and deep, on which the future will build. Already, as a county library it has no superior, and it has obtained a high name and position among the public libraries of the West.

CIRCUIT CLERK
MONMOUTH ILLS.

THE WARREN COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Warren County Sunday Schools are sixty-five in number at date of last annual report of the County S. S. Association, October, 26-7, 1876; have an attendance of seven thousand persons, about one-third of whom are adults and two-thirds children. These are not quite half the children of school age in the county. The Sunday schools are nearly all connected with the churches, and nearly every church organization has its Sunday school. The International Series of Uniform Lessons is in use by most of the schools.

The Sunday schools are located in the several townships as follows: Kelly, 4; Sumner, 2; Monmouth, 9; Floyd, 4; Tompkins, 5; Roseville, 5; Greenbush, 4; Point Pleasant, 1; Spring Grove, 6; Hale, 3; Coldbrook, 3; Lenox, 5; Ellison, 6; Berwick, 4; Swan, 4.

The religious denominations are represented as follows: Methodist Episcopal, 17; Baptist, (one colored), 11; United Presbyterian, (one colored), 11; "Union," 8; Christian, 7; Presbyterian, 3; United Brethren, 2; Church of God, 2; Advent Christian, 1; Methodist, 1; Congregational, 1; Evangelical Lutheran (Swede), 1.

Officers of County Sunday School Association are J. L. Dryden, Monmouth, President; C. W. Boydston, Cameron, Vice President; John A. Gordon, Roseville, Secretary; Dr. N. M. Brown, Monmouth, Treasurer.

MONMOUTH.

On the 27th day of January, 1831, the Legislature appointed John G. Sanborn, Hazen Bedell, and John McNeil, commissioners, to locate the permanent seat of justice, and on the 7th of April following they, in a sealed package, directed to the county commissioners:

"Respectfully report that we have located the seat of justice for said county, on the south-west quarter of Section twenty-nine, in township Eleven North, and range Two west of the Fourth principal meridian, which said quarter section is reported and believed to be Congress land, and they have given the said seat of justice the name of MONMOUTH."

At the court, held June 12, 1831, orders for proposals to erect a court-house were issued as follows: * * * "That said proposals be received, and contracts entered into for the purpose of building a court-house of twenty by twenty-two feet on the ground, nine feet between the sleepers and joists, to be built of logs hewn down inside and out, and finished as the county commissioners shall direct, at the time and place aforesaid, and in such lot as they shall designate."

The contract for building the court-house, after the usual manner of crying it, was let to Francis Kendall for the sum of fifty-seven dollars. To this he was allowed three dollars for additional expense incurred. The Commissioners' Court had met just six days previous to this, and ordered a sale of lots in the town of Monmouth. The site had been surveyed by the surveyor, Peter Butler, for which he received twenty-one cents per lot, three hundred and twenty stakes being required. The order for sale read as follows: "The highest and best bidder to be the purchaser, provided the large or out lots be not sold, unless the bid offered shall amount to at least two dollars per acre.

"The bid on the in lots be not less than four dollars per lot, and those adjoining the public square not to be sold unless the bid offered be at least ten dollars per lot.

"The lots will be offered, with a few exceptions, alternately, and the purchaser or purchasers will receive a certificate of purchase, and required to give three separate notes of equal payments with approved security, payable in twelve, eighteen and twenty-four months, subject to a discount of twelve and a half per cent. on all moneys paid for said lots before due, calculating from the time paid; also subject to a discount of twelve and a half per cent. on the amount or price of each lot, on which a comfortable cabin or dwelling-house, store, grocery, or mechanic's shop shall be erected and finished suitable to live in, within one year from the sale of said lot."

At this sale, held on June 6th, forty-six purchases were made and recorded, aggregating in value \$965.62 $\frac{3}{4}$.

At the Special Term of the Commissioners' Court, held July 9, 1830, it was "On motion, ordered, That the temporary county seat of justice, or place of holding County Commissioners courts and Circuit courts, for the county of Warren, be held (until the permanent seat be located) at the upper house of Mr. Alexis Phelps, at the Yellow Banks, now Oquawka, Henderson county, on fractional section Fifteen, in town Eleven north of Range Five West."

The court-house was ready for occupancy early in the summer, and the records (what few there were) were at once taken there. During the summer and autumn but six buildings were erected, beside the court-house and jail. The former occupied the lot afterwards purchased by Capt. D. T. Denman, and on which his residence stood, while the latter was situated on the lot afterwards occupied by the wagon shop of William T. Henry.

The first settlers were Daniel McNeil, Joel Hargrove, and Elijah Davidson, of whom one, the latter, is now living.

The first mentioned of these persons opened the pioneer store of Monmouth; Daniel McNeil, the second; Stapp and Berry, the third, and the fourth by McCallon and Gibson.

To open a grocery at that time, it was necessary to obtain a town license, in which generally was specified the prices to be charged for articles used in the keeping of customers. It appears that these trades people were accustomed to often combine the privilege of entertaining travelers with the grocery business, as there is on record in the county office many items like the following:

"For each meal victuals,	-	-	-	-	25 cents.
"For each night's lodging,	-	-	-	-	6 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents.
"For horse kept over night,	-	-	-	-	25 cents.
"For horse feed,	-	-	-	-	12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.
"For $\frac{1}{2}$ pint whiskey, gin, rum, wine or cordial,	-	-	-	-	12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.
"For $\frac{1}{2}$ pint peach, French or apple brandy,	-	-	-	-	25 cents."

The above "scale of prices" was granted on November 25, 1835, when Warren county contained, according to a census taken then, 2,623 inhabitants, and was twenty-six miles broad and thirty-six miles long; and when Monmouth contained but seven houses, according to some authorities, and about eighty inhabitants, although, by the close of the year 1837, there were eighty houses and 400 inhabitants.

At the December term of the County Commissioners Court, in 1834, the first license to keep a tavern in Monmouth was granted to James M. Garrison, who gave a bond of $200, and paid for this license $5.00. The following were the rates fixed in the license:

"Each meal of victuals,	-	-	-	-	25 cents.
"Lodging per night,	-	-	-	-	12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.
"Or if single bed be demanded,	-	-	-	-	6 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents.
"Keeping horse per night,	-	-	-	-	25 cents.

"Single feed for horse, - - - - -	12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.
"Each half pint of wine, rum, gin or brandy of any kind, 25	cents.
"(Less quantity in same proportion.)
"Each half pint of whiskey, - - - - -	12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.
"Each gill of whiskey, - - - - -	6 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents."

The licenses for opening stores were generally from seven to ten dollars, and were renewable each year. S. Phelps & Co. were granted one at the June term, 1835, for $8.00. Elijah Davidson, the first grocery man, was given his license December 5, 1831, for $2.50. He was appointed county treasurer in the spring of 1832, and held the office several years. Martin McCowen was granted license to open a grocery in 1834, and, as in all grocery licenses, the rates of charges were also given. W. B. Stapp and W. S. Berry were granted license to "vend merchandise" in the summer of 1835, and paid $11 license fee. At the same time Ferdinand Vandyke and William Tracy received their permits for the same purpose. James P. Hogue, James McCallon and W. F. Smith's permits were given at the same time, and from that time, names of the old merchants often appear on the old records, showing that Monmouth was increasing rapidly in business and population. During these five years it had only been a village, but the citizens were actively discussing the feasibility of forming a town government, and enjoying a town's privileges. James McCallon, Daniel McNeil, Jr., and others, were the most energetic in this move, and finally in compliance with the general demand, posted notices in the most conspicuous places in town, said notices informing the "legally qualified voters of the town of Monmouth" that a meeting to determine this question would be held at the school house on November 29, 1836. The proceedings to incorporate Monmouth as a town, as recorded, were commenced at this date. These proceedings were under the general law of the State in force at that time, being the act approved February 12, 1831, entitled "an act to incorporate the inhabitants of such towns as may wish to be incorporated." Ten days prior to November 29th, a notice had been publicly posted up in compliance to law, and in pursuance of this call "the male citizens of the town of Monmouth" met at the school house at this date, and having organized by calling Elijah Davidson to be chair, and Harry Jennings as clerk, "the object of the meeting was fully set forth" and voting for and against the incorporation of the town commenced. Twenty-three votes were cast in favor of the incorporation and none against.

The voters were: Wm. F. Smith, Daniel McNeil, Jr., R. W. McMillen, Mordecai McBride, B. F. Berry, Yost Huffman, J. J. Caldwell, G. W. Vangan, J. P. Hogue, Samuel Brazelton, Geo. H. Wright, Alex. Hogue, F. Vandyke, James McCallon, S. T. McBride, Thos. Butler, Andrew Robinson, Frank Kendell, Peter I. Dodge, Thos. G. Hogue, Elijah Davidson, Harry Jennings and Alex. Ritchie.

It was at once ordered that an election be held on December 5th following, for five trustees to serve twelve months, or until their successors were qualified. At this time Elijah Davidson, Daniel McNeil, Jr., James McCallon, Alex. Ritchie and George H. Wright were duly elected, and at once qualified.

Daniel McNeil, Jr., was chosen President of this Board of Trustees and Harry Jennings, Clerk and Treasurer. The first official act of this Board was the passing of the following ordinance, at their meeting held on December 26, at the house of James McCallon :

"ORDINANCE 1ST.—Be it ordained by the President and Trustees of the Town of Monmouth, in council convened, that the corporation and jurisdiction of the officers of the Town of Monmouth be one-half mile east, one-half mile west, one-half mile south and one-half mile north from the center of the Public Square, containing one mile square."

Other ordinances were also passed for the government of the town, for the regulation of public houses and groceries, the punishment of offenders, regulating the running at large of stock and any and all affairs pertaining to the welfare of a town.

Under this form of government the town was controlled, with several changes in the rulers, until 1852, when the General Assembly passed the following Act, approved June 21st, of that year :

"SECTION 1.—Be it enacted by the people of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly, That the inhabitants of the Town of Monmouth, in the county of Warren and State of Illinois, be, and are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate, by the name and style of 'The City of Monmouth,' and by that name shall have perpetual succession, and may have and use a common seal, which they may change and alter at pleasure."

Section second fixes the boundaries at one mile from the center of the Public Square, each way, and section third provides for the division of the city into two wards.

From that time forward the government has remained unchanged, save that the increase in population has made more wards and an increased number of councilmen, there being two from each ward. The first election for mayor and other officers, under this act, was held on Saturday, October 23, 1852. Samuel Wood was elected to that office, and four aldermen, from the two wards, who convened for the transaction of business on November 3d, and fairly launched the city under the new government.

Until the advent of the C., B. & Q. Railroad, in 1854, the growth of Monmouth was slow. That year, however, the town sprang into active life, and improvements of every kind began to be made. The next year the college, whose history appears elsewhere, was located, and gave an additional impetus to persons looking for an intellectual home. A few years after, the library was founded, and made another prominent attraction. Good hotels were built, fine stores appeared, and the Union Hall, one of the largest in this part of the State, was erected.

A fire company is now sustained, and but little danger is apprehended from that dread element.

There are three good banks, two excellent weekly papers, and a monthly, issued in the interests of the college.

Eleven churches are sustained, whose membership will aggregate over two thousand.

The city is divided into four wards, in each of which a good school is maintained.

THE POST-OFFICE.—Daniel McNeil was the earliest postmaster appointed in the county. On September 10, 1830, he, acting as county clerk, advised the Postmaster General at Washington City, that the county of Warren was now established according to law, and that the county seat was established at Lower Yellow Banks, on the Mississippi River, on the 9th of July, preceding. This place being about half way between Des Moines River and Rock River rapids, did "request the Postmaster General to establish the post-office, to be called the 'Warren Court House Post-Office,' and further request him to forward the mail immediately to said office from Fulton county, Schuyler county, or from Venus, Hancock county." This request was complied with, and Mr. McNeil appointed to the office. As soon as the Indian hostilities commenced, he was compelled to remove from Yellow Banks to a place of safety. He came to Monmouth, but there being no house there, he repaired to an old camp, about a mile northeast. This he repaired and occupied some time, and here, during the first week, his wife killed two large rattlesnakes in the house. He carried the letters generally in his hat, and when meeting any one for whom he had mail, would hail them, take off his hat and deliver them their letters. On one occasion, on removing his portable post-office, the mail was blown away by a fierce wind prevailing at the time. It occasioned him no little trouble to find it.

The postage at that time was from ten to twenty five cents on each letter, and money being scarce, the recipient of the letter would often be compelled to forego the pleasure of reading it for several days until he could get the money to pay the postage. Then, letters were carried without being prepaid, but could remain but a few weeks in the office, when they were forwarded to the Dead-Letter Office. As soon as the town of Monmouth was established an office was made there. It now does a large business, ranking as a second-class office. Its report for 1876 shows that there were sold, 352,127 stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards. For these $7,611.36 were received. There were 2,626 money orders issued, which amounted to $31,055.41 in value; 1,920 orders were paid, amounting to $33,354.82; 608 letters were registered, and 756 of this kind were received; 999 letters were sent to the Dead-Letter Office. This report shows that the office handled $72,021.59 during the year.

The first bank established in the county was by Ivory Quinby. His was a private institution, and in it he was soon succeeded by the firm of Gregg & Hubbard.

Afterwards a bank was opened by E. L. Chapman, which in the early part of 1862 was merged into the present First National Bank. This latter institution is one of the oldest in the United States, being the eighty-fifth established. In 1872 a private bank was opened by C. Jones & Co., which was also, on November 1, 1870, merged into a National bank, being the present Monmouth National.

The Second National Bank was established in the early part of 1875.

All these banks are in excellent condition and stand high in the mercantile world.

MANUFACTORIES.

The first two-horse cultivator for corn and the first two-horse planter were invented and made in this county. These enable one man to do the work of nearly six, and have been a saving of many millions of dollars heretofore paid for labor. These agricultural implements are now largely used in the Southern States in the cultivation of cotton.

In 1859, W. S. Weir began experimenting with a corn plow, as the old methods of cultivating corn required so much labor, resulting in a plow for which a patent was first issued in December, 1862.

In 1863, after thoroughly trying the invention, arrangements were made for manufacturing on a larger scale. The first shop was built in the northwest part of the city, 24x36 feet, joined by a blacksmith shop 24x30 feet. During the year, with the assistance of nine men, 400 plows were made. In the winter of 1864-5, 500 were manufactured and found a ready sale.

The demand for these cultivators, at this time, necessitated a still further enlargement. A location was selected on Wood street, near the C., B. & Q. Railroad, where buildings were erected for wood work and foundry, the dimensions of which were 100x36 feet. A capital stock of $35,000 was represented, and the force of men increased to twenty-five.

For the season of 1866, 800 cultivators were made. Arrangements for the completion of a larger number were made, the following season, and the work was carried on with vigor. On the morning of January 20, 1867, by some unexplained accident, the entire works, with contiguous buildings, were destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $35,000, including 1,200 cultivators stored in the building. Of this amount, $10,000 was covered by insurance.

By the first of March, a main building 34x36 feet, two stories high, was ready for business, together with a blacksmith shop 24x70, and a foundry 40x70 feet. Fifty men were employed, and 1,500 cultivators were in readiness for the spring trade.

In the fall of 1867, the Weir Plow Company was organized with a capital of $50,000.

Three thousand cultivators were made in 1868; 4,000 in 1869; 6,500 in 1870. In the fall of this year the working force was increased to sixty men, and 10,000 cultivators were placed upon the market.

The company has again increased the number of its employes, until they now give employment to over 300.

In 1871 they erected their present shops, whose combined floors cover more than three acres. The capital invested is over $600,000, and about $5,000 worth of agricultural implements are made daily.

The Pattee brothers, manufacturers of the "New Departure," tongueless cultivator, obtained their patent in 1872, and commenced to manufacture at Buda, Bureau county. Two years after they erected shops here and commenced at once the manufacture. They have a large foundry, machine and blacksmith shops, and make the cultivator from the crude material. They are daily in receipt of sufficient orders to exhaust all their manufactured stock. During 1876, 4,000 cultivators were sold in addition to those sold from Buda and Roseville. They are also made at this latter place.

Mr. W. S. Hopper is also engaged extensively in the manufacture of a cultivator which finds a ready sale, more than 3,000 being now in use. His establishment is directly north of the C., B. & Q. depot. He purchased the buildings in 1869, and in company with Mr. Palmer, began the making of his plows. His trade has grown steadily and is chiefly in the western and southwestern states.

Aside from the principal shops of the city, Monmouth contains one or two flouring mills, a good carriage and wagon factory, and a large number of shops of various kinds.

The city enjoys a large trade with the surrounding country. As fine stores can be seen here as in any city west of Chicago, and many persons come from the farthest parts of the county to trade here.

It has been shown elsewhere in these pages that the greater part of the business of the residents of Warren county were engaged in agriculture and in stock raising, As an evidence of this and the amount of business done at Monmouth station, the following is given :

"During the year ending with December, the shipments on the C., B. & Q. from Monmouth, included 215 cars of hogs, 12,160 head ; eight cars of sheep, 682 head ; 208 cars of cattle, 3,366 head ; 105 cars of corn, 42,000 bushels ; 33 cars of oats, 16,300 bushels ; 18 cars of rye, 7,200 bushels ; 3 cars of barley, 1,200 bushels."

THE SCHOOLS.

The educational advantages of Monmouth have always maintained a high standard. In 1831 a private school was opened by Robert Black. He was shortly followed by Alpheus Russell, both finding their support in subscriptions. No public provision was made until 1834, when at the meeting of the County Commissioners, on May 6th, the petition of Jacob Rust and others to establish the boundaries of school district No. 1 was granted. This included Monmouth, and on the site of the present Methodist Episcopal Church a frame school house, about eighteen feet square, was erected. This was a very comfortable structure, and was often used for other purposes, such as town meetings, religious services, or any public gathering. It was here, on the 29th of November, 1836, the election for the town organization was held. On October 2d, 1834 the trustees of the Monmouth district made their first report to the County Commissioners. It reads as follows :

"There are in this district fifty children between the ages of five and twenty-one years. There has been a school kept three months since the organization of the district. There have twenty-five children received tuition. The probable expense will be $45."

This report is signed by Gilbert Turnbull and James McCallon, and appears to record the first public school in Monmouth.

This small building was occupied several years. About the year 1840 it was sold and converted into a dwelling. On its site a much larger structure was erected to accommodate the increasing school population. Ere long it was found to be insufficient, and several private schools were opened. The basement of the Presbyterian Church and the Christian Church were rented and occupied. This occurred about the year 1852 or '3. The schools were under the control of the town and city councils, but no active part seems to have been taken by either board until the year 1855, when at a meeting of the city council, in June, it was ordered that the sum of $2,500 be appropriated to erect the East Ward school house. This same autumn school was opened in the school house already in use, in the Christian Church, and in the basement of the Presbyterian Church. The council employed Mr. W. B. Jenks to occupy the school house, who was to receive as compensation for his services three dollars per scholar in all common branches, and four dollars from each of those who pursued the higher studies. They employed Mr. A. H. Tracy for the Christian Church at the same terms.

The East Ward house was completed and occupied during the years 1855-6, and gave ample room until 1858-9, when the school population had so increased that the West Ward school house was erected to accommodate them. It was found that the city council could not give the necessary attention to the schools they demanded, and the city charter was amended February 21, 1863, placing the care of the schools under a board of three directors. These were elected March 3d. They were John S. Spriggs, A. Young Graham and Nathaniel A. Rankin. For the years 1863-4 S. A. Hammer was by them elected principal, and also eleven teachers, six in the East Ward and five in the West. For the next year two principals were chosen, and the school term extended to six months. The same year the contract for the South school house was let. In 1867 the North Ward house was built, and the school year made nine months. The following year the South school house was enlarged. In 1869 the board of directors was increased to five, and each principal of a ward was made superintendent of that building, and under this plan the city schools are still conducted. The secretary of the board acts as city superintendent, though he takes no part in the instruction. The schools are in an excellent condition, and give employment to twenty-two teachers, whose aggregate monthly salaries are over $1,200.

CHURCHES.

The First United Presbyterian Church. This congregation was organized by Rev. Robert Ross, May 9, 1853, more than twenty-three years ago, as an Associate Reformed church.

Nineteen persons united, whose names were as follows: John, Ann, Isabella and James S. Gowdy, Isabella Young, James G. and Martha E. Madden, T. W. Smiley, John and Mary J. Saville, John E. Clark, Mrs. Clark, Robert A. Kendall, James E. McNair, Edward Kirk, Isabella Wallace, Julia A., Maria S. and Susan Madden. The first communion service was held June 11th, following, when thirty-four persons sat down to the communion table, ten of whom now remain in the congregation. This church has received into her fellowship over fourteen hundred persons, and now has a membership of four hundred.

The congregation worshipped in the court-house from the organization until the close of 1856, when the old college chapel was finished and services were conducted there. The chapel becoming too small for the increasing congregation, it was decided to erect a church edifice. During the last week of June, 1857, $6,000 were subscribed for that purpose, and building at once commenced. This structure (the present building) was completed in the early part of the summer of 1848, and the first services held therein on July 4th of that year.

From an anniversary sermon preached in May, 1876, by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Barnes, the following extracts relating to history of this denomination in Monmouth are taken: "The first Associate Reformed minister who preached in Monmouth was Rev. J. C. Porter, in the winter of 1847-'48. After the death of Rev. Willson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, he preached for them at the request of the session, until they could obtain supplies of their own. He and other supplies preached in the court-house, generally to small audiences, until November, 1854, when a call was extended to Rev. S. F. Vaumate, who afterwards lost his life by a shell on board a vessel on the Mississippi river, during the late war. An academy having been established here by the Second Associate Presbytery of Illinois, it was thought best to find some one to take charge of both church and school. Dr. David A. Wallace, of East Boston, Mass., was called, who came, and on the second Sabbath of February, 1856, preached twice in the Baptist and once in the Presbyterian church. On the first Sabbath of October, 1856, he entered upon his duties, and remained in charge of both church and school till August, 1860, when he resigned his care of the former to give his entire attention to the latter. In the fall of 1858, the Theological Seminary of this denomination was removed from Oxford, Ohio, to Monmouth, and Dr. Young acted as pastor of the congregation until December 31, 1862. In 1863, in April, a call was sent to Rev. David G. Bradford, now pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Princeton, Bureau county, which he accepted and remained in this relation until August, 1867. Rev. R. B. Ewing was the next pastor, coming in the spring of 1868, and remaining until January 1, 1870. In May, of that year, the present pastor, Rev. Barnes, was called."

The first officers of this church were James Gowdy and T. W. Smiley, elders, (still living), James C. Crawford, John P. Giles and Robert B. Davidson. The first Sabbath-school superintendent was Nathan Brown, Sr. There were five teachers and twenty-five scholars. There are now nearly two hundred scholars.

On November 20, 1862, twenty-one members withdrew to form the Second United Presbyterian Church of Monmouth. The third church and the one at Kirkwood were also formerly part of this church.

The Second United Presbyterian Church was organized at the house of Mr. A. Y. Graham, in Monmouth, October 25, 1862. The members were, prior to this time, communicants in the First United Presbyterian Church; but that becoming large and the membership somewhat scattered, it was desirous to form another congregation. The constituent members were: M. A. Campbell, Catharine Graham, Mary C. Wolf, Esther J. Campbell, W. C. Brown, A. Y. Graham, M. D. Campbell, J. D. Wolf, James Findley, Lizzie Campbell, Prof. J. C. Willson, Prof. J. C. Hutchinson, R. M. Campbell, Lizzie W. Willson, Lizzie Hutchinson, J. F. McCreary, James Strain, Elizabeth McCreary, and Nancy Strain—19. Until the year 1866, they worshipped in the college chapel, when by this time they had so increased in numbers that a church edifice was deemed necessary. This was erected a little south of the college buildings, and cost the congregation about $10,000. When the church was organized the Revs. A. Young and Dr. D. A. Wallace were called as associate pastors, also being connected with the college. December 31, 1868, Dr. Wallace resigned to devote his entire time to the latter institution, and Dr. Young assumed the entire duties of pastor, continuing until June 11, 1871. On August 11, 1872, Rev. D. M. Ure was called. He continued to fill the pulpit till August 4, 1874, when he resigned. The present pastor, Rev. W. T. Campbell, was installed February 25, 1875.

From a membership of nineteen, the church has grown to three hundred and seventy-five, and sustain a Sabbath-school of nearly or quite two hundred scholars.

The Third U. P. Church was organized in January, 1867, in the South Ward school house, with forty members. A convenient house of worship was built soon after, and Rev. J. M. Henderson was the first pastor, from 1868 to 1873. Rev. D. R. Inches then succeeded to the pastorate, and continued until the fall of 1876. Present number of members about forty. In Sabbath school seventy. No pastor at present.

Swedish Lutheran Church. Was organized in March, 1868, with twenty-five members. The meetings for divine worship were held in a building owned by Mr. John Beek, one of the principal constituent members. The presiding minister was Rev. — Dalstien, of Galesburg, who labored here as his time and circumstances would allow, for some time. They met in this room and in the court-house until the year 1870, when they erected their present house of worship, costing about $1,400. They now number one hundred and twenty-five members, and control a Sunday-school of fifty scholars. The pastor is Rev. E. Peterson.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized over Daniel McNeil's store in 1840. The trustees elected at the organization were: L. C. Woodworth, Charles Cummings, Asa D. West, Alford Allen and Daniel McNeil. Two years before this time the persons professing this belief had met for divine worship in the same place, and as a result had gathered enough adherents to form the society. Rev. N. G. Bergman was presiding elder at the organization, and occasionally preached for them afterwards. In 1840, they erected a house of worship. This was used until about the year 1857. It was always known as the "Monmouth Chapel," being used for many public meetings of various kinds. About this time, becoming too small for the increasing congregation, it was removed and the present commodious edifice erected upon its site. The following is a partial list of the ministers of this church: Revs. C. Rowley, A. C. Price, J. P. Brooks, C. Springer, J. S. Cummings, E. Wasmuth, A. Magee, P. Warner, J. G. Evans, Wm. Underwood, L. Janes, and the present pastor, J. D. Smith. The membership is now 275, and the attendance at Sunday-school 200.

The Baptist Church. This congregation occupy a very comfortable house of worship, heated by furnaces and supplied with stained glass windows. Several other churches in Monmouth have introduced these improvements, which aid much in the convenience and appearance of the buildings.

This congregation was organized in 1844 at the house of Benj. C. Ward, with the following constituent members: Wm. F. Smith, Mrs. Geo. C. Lamphere, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. C. Ward, and Mrs. Fry.

Their earliest meetings were held in the present court house, under the ministry of Elder Bartlett, of Knoxville. For some time the services were held in private houses, principally in a room over the store of Deacon E. C. Babcock and in a room belonging to Wm. F. Smith, on the southeast corner of the Square. In 1848 the first house of worship was built upon the present site, under the supervision of Elder Joseph Elliott and John Babcock, at a cost of $3,300. In 1863 it was remodeled and improved, at an expense of $3,000, making the aggregate cost of the present structure $6,300. The present membership of the society is 175. The church maintains a Sabbath school of 150 members and a Sunday school library of 250 volumes. The following are the names of the various pastors who have served this church, in the order of their pastorates: Eld. Bartlett, Eld. Wilbur, Eld. Hovey, Eld. Monroe, Eld. Levissee, Eld. Western, Eld. Joseph Elliott, Eld. Brimhall, Eld. Erastus Minor, Eld. Newton, Eld. Anson Tucker, Eld. Northrop, Eld. Tolman, Eld. J. C. Miller, Eld. Wm. Bolton, Eld. H. B. Foskett, and then the present incumbent Eld. Harry Taylor.

The First Presbyterian church of Warren county was organized in 1836, by Rev. Cyrus Riggs, and reported to the presbytery of Schnyler, in session at Macomb, in that year. This was the church that afterwards took the name of "Fall Creek," and was dissolved by the presbytery and with their own consent, August 26, 1873. Its membership had run down to seven or eight, and it was impossible to revive it.

The Presbyterian church of Monmouth was organized by Rev. L. G. Bell, September 2d, 1837. At its organization there were sixteen members, all of whom being members of the First Church of Warren county, were dismissed to enter the new church. The new church had only occasional supplies of preaching until September, 1839, when its first pastor was settled. In the meantime services were held by Revs. L. G. Bell, Michael Hamer, James Stafford, Joseph J. Craig and W. K. Stewart, all of whom are dead except Mr. Hammer and Mr. Craig. Rev. Bell moved to Iowa, and in that new territory spent his time in organizing and fostering new churches, until his death, some years ago. His remains were brought to Monmouth for interment. Rev. Stewart, another pioneer of the church, died in Macomb, where he had been pastor for many years.

In October, 1839, Rev. Samuel Wilson, then laboring at Rushville, was called to become pastor of the united churches of Monmouth and Fall Creek, and he was installed by the presbytery then in session in this place. This relation continued till August 15, 1847, when it was closed by his death. At that time the church numbered sixty-seven members.

Until 1842 or 1843 the church had no house, but worshipped in various places; sometimes in a store-room on the corner of Broadway and the Square, now occupied by the Monmouth National Bank building; sometimes in a room in the old American House, that stood where Claycomb's brick block now stands. J. P. Hogue, one of the elders of the church, was proprietor of the hotel. Sometimes the meetings were held in the court house, and it was at one of the meetings in the court house that Rev. Wilson was installed pastor.

On the 17th of April, 1842, Theodore Coburn and his wife deeded to the church the lot on which the present building stands. On the lot a small brick building was erected soon after the deed was given, and, becoming insecure, was taken down in 1851.

In 1852 the present church building was erected, and some years ago was enlarged to accommodate the growing congregation.

In the fall of 1851 Rev. R. C. Matthews, having left the theological seminary, prepared to preach, visited Burlington, Iowa, where he chanced to become acquainted with a member of the church in Monmouth, and was invited to come over the river and preach, the church having no minister at that time. He came, and on the 20th of December, of that year, he preached his first sermon in the court house. The old brick church had been taken down and the new one was not finished, which was the reason for the meeting being held in the court house of Monmouth. The next day a congregational meeting was held, and the Doctor was invited to stay and preach three months, which he accepted, and divided his time between Monmouth, Fall Creek and North Henderson. On the 20th of March, 1852, he was called to become pastor of the church, by the acting elders, Robert Grant, James Dickson, Porter Phelps, A. C. Gregg and Hiram Norcross. In December, 1852, he was regularly installed pastor, and continued as such, respected and beloved by his congregation and the entire community.

During his ministry he has welcomed into the church seven hundred and eighteen members.

The Sunday school. In the fall of 1838 the pastor organized the Sunday school and remained superintendent until 1840, when he was succeeded by Rev. Sam'l. Wilson, who occupied both positions until about 1846. The number of scholars was from fifteen to twenty, requiring the services of four or five teachers. One of these latter, Mr. John Leeper, remained as teacher about twenty-five years.

In the autumn of 1861 the board of instruction organized under the constitution of the First Presbyterian church, and elected their officers. That year 95 scholars attended one day during the last quarter of the year, being the greatest number of any one day. Twenty teachers were present. During 1862-3 and '4,—especially during 1863,—the school and church enjoyed a great season of revival and largely increased; 214 scholars and 29 teachers are reported. On August 2d the school assembled for the first time in the basement of the church. For the year ending January 21st, 1866, 375 were reported enrolled. The lessons were prepared by Dr. Matthews.

This school has steadily maintained a good growth. It has largely contributed of its members to the church, 225 of the scholars uniting therewith since 1852. It has helped sustain a mission school, given freely to other causes, and now is large and very prosperous. Four of its members have gone out as ministers, two as elders, six as superintendents and forty as teachers in the Sunday schools.

The Christian Church. The earliest meetings of this congregation were held in the school house and in various halls in the (then) village.

On March 31st, 1839, they were organized into a church by Elders Pliny Hatchett, Levi Hatchett and James R. Ross. Elijah Davidson was chosen clerk of this meeting and the following persons united: Elijah and Nancy Davidson, Hezekiah and Eleanor Davidson, Alex. and Rachel Davidson, Wm. C. and Mrs. M. Hall, Wm. C. Butler and his wife Rebecca, James Hodgson, Jacob L. and Nancy Buzan, Amelia Ann Davidson, Solomon S. Davidson, Wm. B. Davidson, Elizabeth Davidson and Thos. H. Davidson, eighteen in all, of whom none are now members; nearly all have died or removed. In 1840 they built their first house of worship, which occupied a lot immediately north of the present Baldwin House. This church was taken away after doing good service as a house of worship and as school house, and, in the spring of 1861, the present building erected. It is a very comfortable structure and cost $5,000. The number of members is now 125, and the Sunday school approaching the same number.

Resident ministers engaged in Christian Church since the organization in 1839: Alexander Davidson, James E. Gaston, T. J. Mattock, J. W. Butler, L. S. Wallace, John Errett, A. P. Aten, F. M. Bruner, T. V. Berry, John Lagrange, J. M. Williams, Alex. Davidson, A. J. Cane, J. W. Errett, S. S. Wallace and J. W. Butler are some of the pastors who have labored here. The present occupant of the pulpit is Rev. F. M. Bruner.

African M. E. Church. Was organized in a hall on Main street about ten years ago. There were twelve members, of whom Charles Knight, Frances Price, Zachariah Price, Harriet Lee and A. H. Knight, who acted as class leaders, were the principal ones. In 1870 they erected a church costing about $800, which they yet occupy. There are now twenty-two members and an attendance of fifteen scholars at the Sunday school.

African Baptist Church. Was organized at the residence of Mrs. Miller, September 10th, 1866. There were but few members, the principal ones being Henry McCord and wife, and B. Granger and wife.

A church was erected at the corner of East and Cherry streets, at an expense of $1,500. It is still used. Their first pastor was Rev. J. C. Graves. Since then they have been ministered to by Rev. J. H. Bandy and others.

They have at present thirty-one members and a Sunday school of forty scholars.

THE PRESS.

The Monmouth Atlas is the oldest newspaper published in this section of the country. It was started in the year 1845 by C. K. Smith. E. S. Byron and F. K. Smith were for a short time associated with him in its management, but through his labor and perseverance the paper became a valuable contributor to the development of the country and its steady and prosperous growth. The present senior proprietor, Jno. S. Clark, purchased the establishment of Mr. Smith in 1857. In the fall of 1865 he sold an interest to J. H. Reed, who assisted in its management until May, 1869, when Mr. R. was succeeded by Samuel S. Clark, and with an unimportant exception, the business has since been conducted by Jno. S. Clark & Son. In their hands the establishment has increased to several times its dimensions when purchased by Mr. Clark, more than twenty years ago, and the circulation of the paper has kept pace with the increase of population. Mr. Geo. Rankin is now connected with the paper. The Atlas is recognized as one of the leading and most prosperous Republican newspapers of the State.

The Review was established in 1855 by the present editor and proprietor, Mr. A. H. Swain, who has been a practical printer since 1845, learning his trade in Pennsylvania. He commenced the publication of the Review, bringing his material with him, in an old brick building on Main street, where he remained one year. At the expiration of that time he removed his presses to Patterson's block on East street, where he published the paper four years. He then returned to Main street to a room in Carr's block, where he published the paper until 1876, when he removed the office to its present location in Kingsbury's block on Broadway. Mr. Swain publishes the official Democratic paper of the county, and since its commencement has never missed a number.

THE MONMOUTH COLLEGE,

Originated with the members of the Second Associate Reformed Presbytery of Illinois, in a desire to provide means for affording a Christian education to the youth of the church in the West, and to raise up properly qualified candidates for the ministry. Hence this Presbytery organized an academy at Monmouth. In 1855, it determined to raise it to the rank of a college, and appointed a board of trustees, who elected a president and two professors, and arranged for the opening of the college in September, 1856. In this movement Rev. J. C. Porter and Rev. R. Ross were among the most active. At the date fixed for opening, the building then in process of erection not being ready, the college was opened in the public school house, which is now occupied as a residence by Mr. Cowen, and stands on West avenue, east side, the third house from Broadway.

At a meeting of the Associate Reformed Synod of Illinois, held in Keokuk, Iowa, October, 1856, the college was transferred to that Synod by the Presbytery. The Synod, in a series of resolutions, affirmed the principles according to which it intended the college to be conducted, and appointed trustees. After the consummation of the union constituting the United Presbyterian Church, the care and supervision of the college passed to the Synod of Illinois of that body. In 1868, the Synod of Iowa united with the Synod of Illinois in the maintenance and control of the college. When the Synod of Kansas was organized out of the Synod of Illinois, it continued to share with the Synod of Illinois its responsibilities to the college. In 1874 a plan of union was agreed upon by the synods above named with the Second Synod of the West, in accordance with which it also became a part of the constituency of the college. The synods now comprised in this union are the Second Synod of the West, and the Synods of Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. These synods contain 244 ministers, 317 churches, and over 20,000 communicants.

The original act of incorporation was approved Feb. 16, 1857. It created the board of trustees, a body corporate and politic by the name and style of "The Monmouth College," and gave them customary powers. It vested in the Associate Reformed Synod of Illinois the power of appointing three-fourths of the trustees, and in the trustees themselves one-fourth. An act was signed Feb. 18, 1859, so amending the original act as to give to the "United" Presbyterian Synod of Illinois the powers before vested in the Associate Reformed Synod. The charter was further amended in 1869, after the union of the Synod of Iowa with the Synod of Illinois in the management of the college. The charter, as amended, adjusted the government of the college to its new relations, and provided for the admission of other bodies to its constituency.

The first college building was erected on the block of land donated by Hon. A. C. Harding, located in the northwest section of the city of Monmouth. It was about 40x60 feet, two stories, and contained a chapel and eight rooms. In 1860, Messrs. A. Y. and D. Graham donated to the college ten acres situated on Broadway, in the eastern part of the city, together with one-sixth of the remainder of the quarter of which it was a part. The board immediately took measures to erect on the proffered site a new building suited to the growing wants of the college. The work commenced in 1861, and on the 12th day of May, 1863, the professors and students took possession of the building. It is 50x80 feet, three stories high above the basement, and contains eighteen rooms. It cost, including furniture and fences, about $20,000. In 1875 it was found that this building was too small for the wants of the college, and steps were taken for the erection of an addition, 50x60, on the north side of the old building, at a cost of about $14,000. It is now finished. It is three stories high above the basement, of the same style of architecture as the old, and will contain a chapel and eight other rooms in addition to those in the basement. The enlarged structure will furnish ample accommodations for the wants of the college.

The preparatory classes below the sub-Freshman are heard in the original college building known as the academy.

The first attempt to endow the college was made on the Scholarship system. The original scholarship entitled the purchaser to the perpetual tuition of one student. It cost $100. The purchaser could pay cash for it or give his note bearing 6 per cent. interest per annum. Afterwards the sale of this class of scholarships was stopped, and a new one offered, entitling to 20 years tuition, for $100 in cash, or for a note bearing interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum. Subsequently it was determined to sell no more scholarships at this rate. In lieu thereof, for every one hundred dollars, scrip was issued entitling to tuition, at current rates, to the amount of $200, payable one-tenth annually. Again this plan was modified by giving scrip for the sum donated, dollar for dollar, entitling to tuition to the amount of the face of it, at the rates current at the time of the sale. Many thousands of dollars were thus secured. Finally, however, all these schemes were abandoned, because the education promised by the college cost it more than the principal and interest of the money paid for the scholarship amounted to. Endowment on this principle was found to be impossible. In 1871, it was determined to solicit donations, without any tuition in turn, for the Endowment fund. On this plan over $75,000 have been secured, which is being collected and invested in bonds secured by mortgage or real estate, and bearing interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum. A few thousand dollars have also been secured by the sale of a perpetual scholarship for $1,000.

The first President of the College was Rev. David A. Wallace, who still holds the place. The following have been connected with it as Professors and Instructors :

ROSEVILLE.

Truman Eldridge, who now occupies one of the most inviting farms and homes within the Corporation, came, in 1836, from Hancock, Mass., and took 240 acres, a part of which is embraced in the northwest portion of the village. Shortly after he returned to his home and spent two years, and in 1838 returned, and in 1839 built a home and commenced the improvement of his land. In 1848 he took up, at the government price, 80 acres more, directly north, and in 1850 bought 160 acres more, embracing the northeast portion of the Corporation. The southeast quarter section was bought thirty-four years ago by Solomon Sovereign, and thirty years ago the southwest by John Reeves. The Corporation, one mile square, laid out in streets at right angles, embraces equal portions of these four quarter sections.

The first store was opened on a small scale by John Adams, in 1856, a little south of where it now stands, on the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Main street. The brick building owned by E. Pierce occupies its original site. Soon N. W. Baker succeeded John Adams, and not long after, Dally and Arter, and these were succeeded by E. P. Enans, who now owns and occupies a two story frame on the northwest corner.

The first township meeting was held in the old Union Church, on April 4, 1854. Truman Eldridge presided at the meeting, and at its close the first township officers were chosen.

Until the advent of the C. B. & Q. Railroad, almost all the produce was taken to Oquawka there to be shipped to St. Louis by the Mississippi River. When the railroad was completed trade was changed to Monmouth, and a local trade was started in Roseville.

New Lancaster and Elliston, a few miles west, were enjoying quite a local trade, which continued until 1870. During the summer of this year, the Rockford, Rock Island & St. Louis Railroad was completed through the county. This was the beginning of the prosperity of Roseville. It was now properly platted and the plat recorded by John A. Gordon, in the name of Mr. Eldridge and others of the most active residents, and an active trade at once opened.

The stores and shops at New Lancaster were moved here, and the town from being a "corners," as it was commonly called, rapidly arose to a "town," with its attendant privileges. Mr. John A. Gordon opened the depot and held the position several years.

Mr. Eldridge gave several lots to those who would erect shops or stores thereon, not a few of which liberal offers were accepted.

On May 8, 1874, the town had attained a population of 514 inhabitants, and was incorporated. Since then the population has increased to nearly 900. In 1856, Mr. James G. Reed located at the school house, about a mile east of the village. Here he commenced work as a blacksmith. Shortly after, he removed his shop to Roseville, where he added to his small shop a room about sixteen by twenty-four feet.

He soon purchased an engine to aid him in his rapidly growing trade, and increased the number of his employes. About a year ago the present firm was organized, and a still further increase in the buildings and machinery made. Their speciality is windmills, plows and tongueless cultivators. Quite a number of shops are maintained, good stores, one bank and an excellent flouring mill.

THE SCHOOLS.

The earliest attempts to educate the youth of this community was made in a small log school house, about one mile south of the site of the village. The frame school house east of town was next built. At its location there was a shop and small store, and the residents entertained some hopes of securing a town here. School was maintained here until a few years ago, when it was removed to town and the present edifice constructed. It is a two story building, capable of accommodating two hundred scholars; 156 are now in attendance. Three teachers are employed.

THE CHURCHES.

The Congregationalist Church was organized November 15, 1851, by President Blanchard, then of Galesburg, and consisted of eleven members, whose names were Stephen and Phœbe Delley, William and Mary Delley, David and Elizabeth Tuttle, Mrs. Elizabeth Axtell, and Miss Eunice Robinson. Four years after the organization they erected the present church building, at an expense of $3,000 dollars. The lumber was brought from Oquawka. Some time after, they erected the parsonage, worth $2,000. Rev. Asa Martin commenced his labors here, at a salary of $120 per year, in 1851, and remained one year. He was succeeded by Rev. J. A. Rodgers, the first installed pastor, who remained until 1858. He is now president of Berean College, Kentucky. Rev. A. R. Mitchell was called to succeed him, and occupied the pulpit until 1861. He was followed by Rev. Alfred Morse, who remained three years and was succeeded by Rev. Cyrus H. Eaton, from 1864 to 1867. Then Rev. Arthur E. Arnold filled the pulpit until 1868. From that date until the early part of 1877 the pulpit was occupied by Rev. J. D. Wykoff. The present pastor, Rev. R. A. Wood, has just lately been installed.

The membership is now 100, the attendance at Sunday-school 75.

The Baptist Church was organized in 1852 by Rev. S. G. Miner. It now numbers 175 members and 100 Sunday-school scholars. The organization was perfected in a school house, about one mile east of the present site of the town, with about 25 members. When the school house was erected in town, they used it for divine worship until they erected their present church. It cost about $2,000 dollars.

The following have been some of the pastors of this church: Elders Joseph Elliott, ——— Morse and J. D. Kent. The present pastor is E. C. Cady.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is the outgrowth of a class of some half dozen members organized in 1839, who were Solomon Sovereign and wife, John Jared, Sr. and wife, Mrs. Sisson, Mrs. Welty, Mrs. Kirkpatrick. They held their first meetings in Jared's school house, about three miles southeast of Roseville. In the fall of 1841, and until the spring of 1842, the meetings were held in Josiah Kirkpatrick's house, about two and a half miles south of Roseville. They were then held at Solomon Sovereign's house, now used for a hotel by Eli Gilbert, opposite the depot. The meetings were held in this house until the first school house was built. This served as a sanctuary until the present church and parsonage were built in 1867, at a cost of $5,500. This class, in its infancy, formed one of the appointments on the Aquawka circuit, which included all of what is now Henderson and Warren counties. Monmouth, Kirkwood and other places of importance now were appointed on the circuit. Among the first ministers who broke the bread of life were the venerable Henry Sumners, W. M. Clark, Richard Haney, William Haney and Benjamin Applebee. These men are all yet living and are members of the Central Illinois Conference. Though all are on the superannuated list except R. Haney and B. Applebee. J. Kern was appointed pastor in 1856, W. J. Beck in 1857, A. C. Higgins in 1858, W. B. Morse in 1859, R. Morey in 1860 and '1, B. C. Swarts in 1862 and '3, J. A. Windsor in 1864, G. C. Woodruff in 1865, W. B. Carithers in 1866, Thomas Watson in 1867 and '8, J. W. Coe in 1869 and '70, R. Beeler in 1871, C. B. Conch in 1872 and '73, J. W. Coe in 1874 and '5. J. S. Cummings is the present very efficient presiding elder on the district, and N. T. Allen the present energetic pastor under whose labors the past winter seventy-five members have been added to the church, making the present membership one hundred and seventy-seven, with a Sabbath school of one hundred scholars.

The Christian Church was organized in 1859, or 1860, with about 25 members. There are now more than double that number, and a Sunday-school of nearly 50 scholars. In 1871 they erected a comfortable church, costing about $1,500. Their parsonage is worth about $800. The Rev. George L. Brackan is the present pastor.

The Lutheran Church, composed mostly of Swedes, comprises a membership of 35. They were organized into a body ecclesiastic February 26, 1876, with 26 members, and on October 29, following, dedicated their present house of worship. Rev. G. Wiberg occupies the pulpit, ministering part of his time in other places. The Sunday-school numbers about 25 scholars.

The Union Baptist Church was organized in 1844 or '5 in an old school house. It was used for some time for both purposes, and in it the first township meetings were held.

The members had belonged to the Berwick Church and organized here, this being a more central location.

They have now a very comfortable church and sustain a regular meeting.

Talbott's Creek Christian Church was organized about 1838-9, and for some time included the Cameron and Alexis members.

Joseph Murphy and L. S. Wallace were among the first elders. John E. Murphy, Thos. Wallace, Wm. Wallace, Wm. Murphy and Wm. Hopper, with their families, were among the constituent members. John E. Murphy was the pioneer preacher among them. Thos. Griffith and Henry Bruner, father of the present pastor of Monmouth Church, were also early members. Their present church was erected near David Warren, an old member, and one who helped the church in its early trials. They occupied this building until 1855 or '6, when a house of worship was erected at an expense of $2,000, which they still occupy. They have a membership of about one hundred, and sustain a Sunday school of about the same number. Rev. D. D. Miller, pastor at Cameron, preaches here. This congregation has sent out several colonies, which are now large and growing churches.

THE PRESS.—Two weekly papers are sustained here. Wilson's Weekly, the younger, was started about eight months since by the Wilson brothers, two quite young men, and is already enjoying a good circulation. It is a good local paper, and a very creditable enterprise.

The Roseville Gazette, an independent family newspaper, by G. G. McCosh. Terms, $1.50 per annum in advance. It is published every Wednesday, and each issue contains twenty-eight columns of matter. It has a large and rapidly increasing circulation, chiefly in Warren and Henderson counties. Advertisements inserted at reasonable rates. Terms made known on application. A branch office is located at Monmouth, Ill., cor. Main street and Public Square, fitted up with the most modern and improved styles of type and machinery, is capable of turning out first-class job printing at lowest living rates. All orders for printing and all communications, to receive prompt attention, should be addressed to the publisher at Monmouth, Ill.

KIRKWOOD

Is pleasantly located on the C., B. & Q. R. R. twenty-one miles east from Burlington, Ia. In the year 1836 five families had located in this township, as follows : Samuel Hanna, Z. M. Davis, James Gibson, R. Tinkham, Benjamin Tompkins, after whom the township was named. Prior to the building of the railroad through this county, settlement was slowly made in this region, but on the completion of the road, in 1855, new life was infused and business sprang up as if by magic. In the year 1854 David Irvine laid out the original village of Kirkwood to which two additions have been made, called Quinby's additions.

For many years a brisk trade has been carried on here, especially in grain, which has hardly been surpassed by any town on any railroad leading to Chicago. The village was incorporated in 1865, and the following were the first Trustees : O. Lanphere, J. L. Batcheler, J. K. Cummings, A. Carmichael and J. B. Sofield. The present board is, T. F. Lowther, Geo. Kellogg, A. C. Van Riper, L. Rapalee, Wm. McCoy, W. K. and J. H. Gilmore, Clerk.

BUSINESS INTERESTS.

The first store here was opened by Knowles, Ray & Chapin in 1855. The First National Bank is one of the solid institutions of this county, and is ably managed by Dr. Henry Tubbs, President, and Willard C. Tubbs, Cashier. Chapin, Houlton & Davis have a large private banking business; also an extensive mercantile trade. There are at the present time five general stores, four grocery houses, four drug stores, two hardware stores and agricultural implements, two boot and shoe stores, two bakeries, one book-store and news room, one jeweler, two blacksmith shops, two shoe shops, two wagon shops, one lumber yard and two elevators.

THEO. BRADLEY M. D.
ROSEVILLE

SCHOOLS.

The graded schools of this village are the just pride of all her people. There are two neat and commodious school houses—six rooms—in which schools are maintained nine months of the year. The number of children enumerated by the census of 1876 is 482 in the village and in the township 975.

CHURCHES.

The Presbyterian Church of Kirkwood was organized in 1856, and was first called South Henderson Church. Meetings were first held in a school house about two miles southwest of town. A committee had been appointed by Schuyler Presbytery to assist in the formation of the church. This committee was Rev. J. H. Nevins, R. C. Matthews, D. D., and Elders Hiram Norcross and James Boggs. At the organization there were twenty-six members, "of whom many have fallen to sleep, but a few remain unto this day." The first elders were Jacob Ackerman, Alex. M. Hervey and Nathan Carr. Of these, Fathers Carr and Ackerman yet live, having more than fulfilled their four score years. The first stated preaching was by Rev. J. H. Nevins for one year. Then Rev. W. L. Lyons for three and a half years. From July, 1863, to April, 1865, was a vacancy, with occasional preaching by Dr. J. M. Jamison and others. At this latter date Rev. J. W. Ash began his labors here, and was the regular supply for two years. Then Rev. J. W. Allen was here for two years, and during his administration a new and commodious church was built, 40 by 65 feet, and cost $11,000. In 1870 Rev. G. N. Johnson supplied for six months. Then Rev. J. H. Marshall was stated supply for two and a half years. The present minister, Rev. E. W. Thompson, is the only installed pastor the church has ever had. He began his labors here in 1874. The first house of worship built by this Church was a small frame structure, 20 by 30 feet, in the south part of town, in 1858. For two or three years it was occupied by the M. E. congregation on alternate Sabbaths. This was afterwards sold to the Roman Catholics and moved off the lot. In 1868 the present church was erected, and is an elegant gothic structure. It was thoroughly refitted in 1875. The present membership is 125. An interesting Sabbath school is maintained throughout the year, with an attendance of 125. E. P. Clau-son is superintendent. The church is in a prosperous condition.

The United Presbyterian Church of Kirkwood, Ill., was organized in 1858 at Center Grove school house with about eighteen members, among whom were David Irvine and wife, Dr. J. Biddle and wife, John Woods and wife and I. H. Martin and wife. The meetings were first held at the above named school house, also at Mr. Edward Wray's hall. Their church was built in 1863 at a cost of $2,800. The pastors who have served at this church are Rev. I. B. Foster three years, Rev. W. J. McSurely two years,

Rev. I. B. Waddle seven years. The present membership is one hundred and fifty-seven. Average Sabbath school attendance eighty.

The Young America Church was organized August 12th, 1855, with ten members. Their present house of worship was built in 1858 at a cost of $877.50. Rev. I. B. Fuller presides. There are at present seventy members and forty Sabbath school scholars.

The Universalist Church was organized in 1860 at Rap's Hall. Thirteen members were received, among whom were N. A. Chapin and Geo. Williams. For some time services were held at Rap's Hall, where they remained until the completion of their church, which was dedicated in 1866, its cost being $4,000. The church was rebuilt in 1869 at an additional cost of $3,000. Rev. C. L. Walsh preached two years, Rev. A. Clayton one year, Rev. A. Tibbitts two years, Rev. Hibbard eighteen months, L. H. Tabor three years. The present number of members thirty, with the same number of Sabbath school scholars.

The M. E. Church was organized in 1856 at the Young America Hotel. The first sermon was preached by Rev. O. Swartz January 5th, 1856, in hotel. Afterward meetings were held at the Presbyterian church on alternate Sabbaths. The members of the first class were John Ramsdell, leader, Elizabeth Ramsdell, Mary E. Youmans, Daniel and Matilda Tinker, Oliver and Rachel Hall, William L. and Margaret Roberts. The pastors in charge have been as follows: Rev. James Tubbs, three years; Rev. C. Springer, two years; Rev. B. C. Couch, two years; Rev. M. Spurlock, one year; Rev. J. J. Fleharty, two years; Rev. Samuel Fisher two years; Rev. Jesse Smith, two years, and the present pastor, Rev. C. H. Brace, who began his work in September, 1876. The first trustee election was held in the old Presbyterian house, March 20th, 1865, and the following were elected: Henry Tubbs, Alex. Youmans, B. Logan, E. H. Randall and T. W. Beers. The house of worship was built in 1865 at a cost, including grounds and parsonage, of $8,300. Dedication services were conducted by Dr. Eddy, from Chicago. Preacher in charge, Rev. James Tubbs, to whose labors may be largely attributed the origin and completion of the work free of debt.

The present pastor is Rev. Charles H. Brace. The present membership about 250. The Sabbath School numbers 125. Superintendent, Rev. C. H. Brace. This charge is in a prosperous condition.

VILLAGE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

A. C. Van Riper, W. K. Gamble, L. Rapalee, J. B. Gregory, H. W. Allen, R. R. Davison. J. H. Gilmore, Clerk.

DENNY.

This is one of the earliest settled locations in this county. L. P. Rockwell and Jonathan Buffum came here on a prospecting tour in 1830 from Ashtabula county, Ohio, and found Adam Ritchie located in a small block house on the hill. This had been built by Ritchie in the previous year.

Rockwell and Buffun bought his claim of 160 acres, having upon it a mill site on Cedar Creek. They remained here during the winter of 1830 and '31, and engaged in building a saw-mill, the first in the county.

They returned in the fall to Ohio, and in April, 1832, they set sail with their families and some others on a raft down the Ohio river. They started from Warren county, Pa., and were four weeks on the raft in reaching Cincinnati. Here, after much delay, they took passage on a steamboat for St. Louis, and on arriving there found the same boat was going to Beards-town, and so continued their journey to this point. From this latter place they went by ox teams to Canton, and then to their new homes on Cedar Creek. They added another block house near the first and built a stockade for fort. The nearest mill or postoffice was about seventy miles distant. Soon, however, the postoffice was established at this point and was first called Cedar Creek Postoffice, and in 1851 the name was changed to Denny at Washington. In the spring of 1832 Rockwell and Buffun rented their saw-mill to Chester Potter, who was also from Ashtabula county, Ohio. He added a small pair of burrs for grinding wheat and corn. These mill-stones were only twelve and a half inches in diameter, but did the grinding for a large scope of country. They were made by Potter from a Granite Boulder or "Nigger-head" found on the prairie in this county. Potter, however, continued here only one year, when he moved to Kelly Tp. and set up a mill for himself on Henderson Creek. Buffun sold out his interest to Rockwell September 21st, 1832, and went to Fulton county, afterwards to Rock Island. On the 8th of August, 1835, L. P. Rockwell and D. G. Baldwin entered into agreement to build a large flouring mill, which resulted in the erection of the present Rockwell Mills. The first P. M. here was J. Buffun, one year; then L. P. Rockwell for about twenty years. He died in 1860. The first school was in 1834—teacher, Miss Betsy Hopper. There is not a more pleasant location in this county than Denny.

LITTLE YORK.

This vicinity was first settled in 1829, and was among the earliest in this county.

Among those who first came here were: Matthew D. Ritchie, Otho W. Craig, William McCoy, Hugh Martin, Sr., and others. Much fear and some trouble was experienced from the Indians by the early settlers. A roving band of those desperadoes were skulking along the timber on Cedar Creek, on the 9th day of August, 1832, when five of their number rushed out, shot and scalped William Martin, who was at work alone putting up hay. A block house had been built as a kind of fort, where persons and families resorted in time of supposed danger. Several women and children were at the fort at this time, and heard the shots, saw Martin fall, and the Indians run to him, shoot again, and scalp him. The news spread rapidly, and caused great alarm among the inhabitants. Martin had been at the fort but a short time previous, was cautioned by the women about working alone, though it was not known that any Indians were in the vicinity. He returned to his work singing a favorite tune.

The block house stood a few rods east from where now stands the pleasant residence of Hugh Martin, brother of William, and he was killed about eighty miles north. His body was not recovered until the next morning, and when examined, it was found that the last shot was made so near as to burn his clothing.

A company of Rangers followed the trail of the Indians as far as New Boston, where they were just in time to see them in their canoes, nearly across the Mississippi river. They fired upon them, but did not avail to stop them.

An account of the trial of these murderers is given in another part of this work.

The village of Little Rock was laid out in 1835 by William McCoy and M. D. Ritchie. James Kendall opened the first store in this vicinity, at the block house in 1833, and after his death, in the next year, his widow moved the goods to a building on the site of the village, and continued in the trade. This she sold to Arthur McFarland, who soon sold to J. F. Pollock, and he had a prosperous trade there for many years. He was the first P. M. for nearly twenty years. The first school was in 1837, taught by Peter Turpening. At the present time there is a good school house and a good bell, with pleasant grounds ornamented with trees.

The principal merchants are Messrs. Wallace & Morrison, general merchandise. There are two harness shops, three blacksmith shops, one wagon shop, and a boot and shoe shop.

This village is located in a thriving and industrious farming community, and is in Sumner Township, twelve miles northwest from Monmouth.

The U. P. Church of Little York was organized April 19th, 1863, by Rev. John Scott, D. D., of the Presbytery of Monmouth. At the formation of this church there were forty-one members from the U. P. churches of Cedar Creek and Henderson. The first pastor was Rev. Wm. H. McMillan, ordained and installed Oct. 4, 1864, who continued his labors for six years. The next pastor was Rev. W. T. Campbell, ordained and installed June 13, 1871, and continued four years. The present pastor is Rev. David Anderson, who began his work here in October, 1875. This congregation own a pleasant and commodious house of worship, which cost $4,000, and a convenient parsonage, recently built at a cost of $2,000. The present number of members is 130.

ALEXIS

This village, though bearing the same name as the royal prince, is not a Russian Town. It was first called Alexandria and recently abbreviated to its present name for convenience. It is situated twelve miles north and east from Monmouth, and was laid out in Nov., 1870, by Robert Holloway and J. E. Alexander upon land owned by them. The first house was moved to the Town site Nov. 20, 1870, and upon the first train North on the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis R. R., J. E. Alexander moved his goods, and established the station. He has held the office of Station and Express Agent since the opening of the Railroad. The books of the Co. show that from this point there has been shipped 500 cars of stock in a year, and, sometimes 140 cars of grain per month. The growth of the town has been rapid, and although a sweeping fire in Jan., 1877, destroyed nine business houses, new buildings are rising to take their place, showing the confidence there is in the stability of the town.

There are four general stores, five groceries, two drug stores, two hardware and agricultural implements, one book and stationery store, two blacksmith shops, one flouring mill, one machine shop, two lumber yards and two hotels.

A fine two story school house was built in 1874, cost $2,600, and the schools are well graded, Superintendent, C. Galloway. The number of children by examination of Sept., 1876, was 384.

The first village Trustees came into office July 28, 1873, and their names are as follows: John C. Blaney, Prest.; A. G. Talbot, O. E. Bugbee, O. G. Chapinan, James Loveridge, Daniel Churchill; John Douglas, Clerk, Chas. E. Johnson, Treasurer.—The present Board is Peter Bogue, Prest.; Daniel Churchill, Hiram Ingersoll, James H. Shaw, Robert Knox, W. W. Graham; Thos. B. Patterson, Clerk; Chas. E. Johnson Treas., and W. H. Brown Police Magistrate. The total population is about 700.

PRESS.

Mr. James Everett started the Alexis Journal at this place in 1874. He had originally intended to make it an eight column, four page paper: but from some cause cut it down to seven columns, four pages, in which form the first number appeared, on February 13, 1874, and was continued until the close of volume three, in 1877. Mr. Everett retired from its management in August, 1876, having sold the office to Dr. Chaffee. At the close of volume three, the prospect of its future seemed very gloomy, and it was decided to discontinue its publication. A few weeks later, having received sufficient encouragement, the Dr. concluded to resume, but decided to make a change in the name and style of the paper: accordingly the name was changed to The Alexis Index, and the size of the sheet enlarged to a five column, eight pages, a change which the proprietor feels assured was fully warranted, and is duly appreciated by the people. Its circulation and influence is steadily increasing, although its local advertising patronage has been materially cut down by the recent fire, and stringency of the times; still, the office is doing a fair business, remunerative to its owner, and much of its loss of local advertising is compensated for by its Monmouth patronage.

CHURCHES.

The United Presbyterian church was organized April 4, 1871, by Rev. J. M. Henderson. Meetings were first held at a school house some two miles distant. At the time of the organization there were thirty-one members, among whom are the following: Wm. A. Elder, Mrs. Jennie Elder, R. J. Lawhead and wife, Samuel Lawhead and wife, C. C. Graham and wife, Dr. J. F. McCutcheon and wife, J. C. Graham and wife and others.

The stated supplies for this congregation have been, Rev. J. M. Henderson, A. M. Black, D. D., and James I. Doig, D. D. This church has now its first regular pastor, Rev. M. F. McKirchan, who was ordained and installed May 30, 1876. The present number of members is fifty-three. Attendance at Sabbath school, seventy-six, J. C. Graham, Supt. A pleasant house of worship was built in 1873, at a cost of $3,100.

The United Brethren in Christ. The first meetings of this church were held in the Mohler school house, four miles S. W. of the town. At this place, the church was organized in the winter of 1859, with forty members. The following are a few of the names first received: A. J. Ritchey, Mary Ritchey, David Swiler, Catherine Swiler, John Line, Mary Line, and others.

The first pastor was Rev. D. F. Bair. Then followed Rev. J. R. Hommond, Rev. Ezra Hall, Rev. Daniel Ross, Rev. J. Slutts, Rev. St. Clair Ross, Rev. A. Norman, Rev. O. F. Smith, Rev. A. Worman, Rev. P. R. Adams, Rev. J. P. Worman, and the present pastor, Rev. G. H. Varce.

A church edifice was built in 1872, cost $2,250. The present membership is 36. Sabbath school averages 50 pupils.

The Baptist church was organized July 4, 1868, at Spring Grove school house, afterwards moved to Alexis. Among those who were first members, are the names of Thomas Dunn, Mrs. Hannah Dunn, Miss Jennie A. Dunn, Miss Josephine E. Dunn, L. A. Palmer and others. The ministers who have supplied this church are as follows: Rev.—Welcher, Rev. E. L. Moore, Rev. O. Tompkins, Rev.—Lewis, Rev.—Shirley. A neat church was built in 1875 at a cost of $3,000. The present number of members is twenty-six. Attendance at Sabbath school averages twenty-five, M. M. Palmer, Superintendent.

M. E. Church. The first meetings were held in a grove in 1871. Afterward met in a hall. Among the pastors who have labored here are Revs. C. Atherton, P. A. Cool, A. Keller and C. E. Rowe, present pastor. Services are held on alternate Sabbaths in the Baptist Church. Present membership ninety-five. Attendance at Sabbath school eighty. Supt., Thomas Anderson.

Catholic. This organization is just completing a commodious structure, which will cost with improvements in contemplation about $3,000.

SPRING GROVE CHURCH.

The United Presbyterian Church of Spring Grove was organized June 22, 1855, by Rev. Matthew Bigger of the Presbytery of Monmouth, with fifty-one members. The first pastor was Rev. James C. McKnight, who was ordained June 11, 1856, and remained over four years. Rev. Wm. Graham was next pastor and continued this relation until his death, in the Fall of 1863. Rev. Thomas P. Patterson was ordained Oct. 27, 1864, and was pastor until April, 1868. Rev. David Inches began his labors with this church in June, 1869, and continued his work for five years. The present pastor is the Rev. Rufus Johnson, who began June 15, 1876. The present number of members is about seventy. This congregation own a large house of worship costing about $4,000 and a good parsonage with three acres of ground.

The Church of God is located in southeast quarter of Sec. 10, Spring Grove township. It was organized in 1865 by Rev. Rudolph White, and the earliest meetings were held in the school house in district No. 4. Among the original members were Jehu Bailey and wife, D. C. Swiller, wife and three children, John Cannon and wife, and others. The church was built in 1867 and cost $1,600. The present pastor is Rev. Thos. De-Shiria. Membership about twenty-five and Sabbath school the same; John Simcox, Superintendent.

LENOX

Was laid out by C. C. Dixon in 1872, who owned the farm on which the village is platted. He had settled here in 1834, at a time when there was but one house between his and Monmouth, then containing but four or five houses.

No village was thought of until the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis railroad was contemplated. The company guaranteed the location of a depot to some ten or twelve residents who were active in securing the right of way through the township. Foremost among them was C. C. Dixon and J. W. Bridenthal. These located the station on the present site and Mr. Dixon at once took steps to lay out the town. The village plat and farm were afterwards purchased by Mr. Bridenthal, the present owner. Mr. T. H. Norwood opened the first store and the post office in the dwelling of Henry Redout. Shortly after John Hodgen and John Young erected the present store room occupied by Mr. Young and Graham. One or two additional stores have been opened and a good carriage and wagon shop is now in operation.

A large quantity of grain is shipped from this point. For the year 1876 331 car loads of grain were shipped. In addition to this, 70 car loads of live stock were sent to market.

The town and post office were given the name of Lenox. As there was a Station North of Monmouth by that name. Until it was discontinued, the village and office was called Lenox Station.

SCHOOLS.

One of the oldest district schools in the township is located here. As soon as the school population of the community warranted the erection of a house, a small structure was built. This was used with an occasional enlargement and repair, until 1876, when the present structure, one of the best in the township, was erected.

The attendance is now about forty scholars, which require the services of one teacher.

CHURCHES.

For several years past a Presbyterian church was maintained. About twelve years since through the effort of Mr. Dixon, who donated a lot, a comfortable house of worship was erected, and at one time quite a congregation had grown up, and regular preaching was sustained. Owing to removals and other causes has so diminished the church that the organization was disbanded, the remaining members going to Monmouth or to other churches. The Methodists now occupy the church but as yet have no organization.

GERLAW.

This village has a pleasant location. It was laid out as a town site May 2, 1871, on land owned by R. W. Gerlaw, after whom it bears its name. It is situated in the N. W. quarter of Section 34, Spring Grove township, and is on the Rockford, Rock Island R. R. six miles north from Monmouth.

A. A. Elder opened the first store in Sept., 1871. James Webster sometime after, built a large store, with a fine hall in second story. A brisk trade has been carried on here, considering its nearness to the county seat. The books of the R. R. Co. show that the shipment of stock has reached more than 200 cars in a single year. Very little grain is shipped from this point, as all is needed by feeders of stock.

The Christian church was organized in 1858, by Rev. L. S. Wallace, and a house of worship was built about about two miles north east from the town at a cost of $950. This building was moved to the town site in 1874, and was thoroughly repaired. Among the first members were J. T. Gilmore and wife, R. W. Lair and wife, B. F. Gardner and wife and others. The present membership is about forty. No pastor.

CAMERON

Was laid out by Robert Cameron, Feb. 22, 1854, and was for some time known as Cameronville. His plat included the south west part of the town lying south of the railroad. Charles Waste laid out a portion directly east of this, and north and west of this, across the railroad in Coldbrook township. Quinby's addition was soon after made.

A. B. Hawkins was the first merchant in town. His store stood directly east of Isaac Wilson's shop in a now vacant lot.

Owen C. Waste and Smith & Skinner of Galesburg opened stores soon after, and for some time a fine trade was engaged. Mr. Hawkins had previously kept a store in Coldbrook, but as soon as the C. B. & Q. R. R. was completed and Cameron platted he removed his store and goods to that place. Nearly all the business of Cold Brook was brought to Cameron at this and latter dates.

The town has always been small, but a good trade is steadily maintained. A good number of stores and shops are now in successful operation, and enjoying a good patronage.

SCHOOLS.

The first district school house was built south of the railroad, and was the first house erected on the village plat. There being two districts, (the railroad being the dividing line between the township of Cold Brook and Floyd,) in 1871, these were consolidated into one, and the present two story building erected.

It will accommodate 100 pupils, the attendance being now eighty-five.

James H. Hordman

COUNTY TREASURER

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

This is the oldest congregation of this denomination. It was organized in 1831. Their earliest meetings were held in private houses and in the school house. At this time they were at Cold Brook.

Some of their Elders were John G. Haley, Elijah Davidson and Wm. Whitman. Levi Hatchett, John E. Murphy and L. S. Wallace were some of the earliest ministers.

A house of worship was built in Cold Brook in 1839. The congregation continued to meet here until 1854 or '5 when they removed to Cameron and there erected their present church, costing about $3,000. A portion of the congregation went near the present town of Alexis, where they have now a strong church. About 1851 or '2 Elder R. R. Haley and Deacon John E. Murphey, with some thirty members went to Monmouth, Oregon, where they formed the nucleus of a large and flourishing congregation. Josiah Whitman, S. T. Sheton and Henry E. Haley were chosen to fill the offices made vacant by those removing to Oregon.

The Cameron congregation have now about 125 members and sustain a Sunday school of 70 scholars. Rev. D. D. Miller is the present pastor.

THE M. E. CHURCH.

In the fall of 1856, ministers of this denomination commenced services in the school house, and soon thereafter organized the church.

Some twelve or fifteen persons united. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. Porterfield, Frank Morey, Benj. Tinkham, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Gay and Mary Gay. Rev. Fisher presided at the organization.

In 1857, they erected their present church edifice, which is now inadequate to the wants of the congregation and will soon be replaced by a commodious house.

The growth of the congregation has been slow, and at no time has the membership been large. The number now is about forty.

The First Baptist Church at this place was organized June 30th, 1866, and its first meetings were held in the district school house with an original membership of nine persons, which has increased to sixty-five, and a Sunday school of sixty.

The present church was built in 1869 at a cost of $3,200. The pastors have been the Revs. Wm. Whitehead, Jno. Bolton, W. R. Welch, E. L. Corfield and J. R. Pennington. Their present pastor is Rev G. D. Kent.

SWAN CREEK.

The settlement in this locality dates back to about 1837. A post-office has been maintained here since that date.

As soon as the railroad was completed, steps were taken to establish a depot here, but although the company would stop their trains, they would not build a switch or erect the necessary buildings until the residents had raised $1,000. This was secured mainly through the efforts of Mr. George Worden, one of the earliest residents and who had kept a store since December, 1856, in a building opposite his dwelling. It is now used as a dwelling and harness shop. Mr. Worden laid out the town April 15, 1871, and soon after Rev. W. C. Romine opened a store. He is now in Roseville. B. Ragin and Aaron Burr, opened stores about this time and have steadily upheld their trade. There are now three or four good stores, the same number of shops, a good mill and elevator.

A large amount of shipping is done from this point. Before the completion of the railroad in 1870, this was taken to Oquawka and to Prairie City, where nearly all trading at this time was done.

Now the produce is shipped to Chicago and St. Louis.

SCHOOLS.

A good school has always been held here. In 1876, a large comfortable house was erected, which is a credit to the town. About fifty scholars are daily in attendance.

CHURCHES.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in 1872 and '3. The earliest meetings were held in the school house, a little north of the village. Those who took part in these meetings were Austin A. Cornell, Andrew J. Sisson, Nancy J. Sisson, Rufus K. Sisson, Mary E. Sisson, Burwell Booth, Anna M. Phillips. These had been members of the M. E. Church at Pleasant Mound, six miles southeast of Swan Creek, except Burwell Booth who had been a member of the M. E. Church at Point Pleasant. In 1873 a church was built at a cost of $2,000. Rev. C. B. Conch served from 1872 till September, 1874. He was followed by Rev. J. W. Coe, who served till September, 1876. Their present pastor, Rev. N. T. Allen, was appointed September, 1876. Twenty-six members have been added to the church the past winter, the result of a revival under the leadership of the present pastor and the earnest efforts of the members. There are now sixty-one members and a thriving Sabbath school of eighty scholars.

YOUNGSTOWN

Was laid out by the Kidder family and others in the spring of 1872.

The first store was opened by H. V. Simmons in a building erected by C. W. Mapes. The building is now occupied by Wm. Miner. One or two other stores have since been erected. One or two shops are now in operation.

The town plat was, until 1872, the farm of the Kidder family, and when the plat was surveyed and a station established, before one was allowed at Swan Creek, as the railroad company objected to two depots so closely together. This latter objection was, however, overruled by the energy of the citizens along the line.

Youngstown supports a good local trade, and is the shipping point for all farm produce from this locality.

SCHOOLS.

Schools has been held in the district school house many years. An effort is now being made to add an additional room and grade the school. This will promptly be carried out in a year or so.

CHURCHES.

About 1870, the members of the Baptist denomination met in the school house for divine worship and in 1873, were organized into a church. It is known at the Swan Creek Baptist church. Soon after the name was changed to correspond with the town and as such is now known.

The membership at first was small but now is largely increased, and sustain a minister one half the time, he devoting the other Sabbath to the Pleasant Baptist church.

Rev. Joel Pennington now occupies the pulpit.

Youngstown Lodge, No. 387, A. F. and A. M.—Officers: W. W. Shoop, W. M.; R. B. Predmore, S. W.; H. H. Kidder, J. W.; H. V. Simmons, Secy.; P. P. Smith, Treas. Meets at Youngstown on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month.

KELLY TOWNSHIP.

CHURCHES.

The M. E. Church was organized in 1837, its first meetings being held in private houses and school houses. In 1872 their present church building was erected, on Sec. 34, at a cost of $2,300.

The pastors and their respective terms of service have been as follows : Rev. Mr. Atherton, 1870 and 1871 ; Rev. Henry Brink, Jr., 1871 to 1873 ; Rev. C. W. Swartz, 1873 to 1874 ; Rev. A. Keller, 1874 to 1876. M. W. Smith assisted Mr. Keller one year, and the present pastor is Rev. C. E. Rowe.

SHANGHAI.

The "Second Advent Church" was organized about 1857, the principal original members being Samuel Black and wife, A. N. Yarde and wife, H. Richardson and wife, Spencer Ryner and wife, J. Pine and wife, B. Watson and wife.

The earliest meetings were held in the school house. Their present church, at Ionia, was built in 1867 at a cost of about $2,700. The first minister was Guy Rathbone, who preached three years, from 1856 to 1859. From this time until the church was built the pulpit was filled by "supplies" when Wm. McCulloch and H. McCulloch took charge from 1867 to 1869. Geo. Hurd followed until 1871, then Wm. McCulloch in 1872, after him Marshall McCulloch from 1872 to 1875, when the present incumbent, Geo. Hurd, took charge.

The Sunday school, in summer, numbers about forty-five scholars, with a church membership of about one hundred.

The great tornado in May, 1868, completely destroyed their church, but was immediately rebuilt at an additional cost of over $1,400.

POINT PLEASANT TOWNSHIP.

CHURCHES.

The Cumberland Presbyterian Church was organized at Boothe school house September, 1863, with about seventeen members, viz: Josiah Kirkpatrick, Lucinda Hindman, Mary Hughes, Eliza Hindman, Amanda Johnson, W. R. Hindman, John B. O'Neal, Mary E. Dixon, Mary Dixon, Mary E. Boyd, Elizabeth Hughens, Susan F. Dean, Esther Hughens, J. M. O'Neal, Malony O'Neal, Elizabeth O'Neal, Elizabeth Curtis, Mary Lester, Emma J. Boyd. The church was bought from the M. E. society for $500. Their first pastor, John Crawford, served ten years. Rev. J. D. Foster is the present pastor. The membership is fifteen. No Sabbath school at present.

COLFAX.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized at Center school house in the spring of 1875. The first meetings were held at this place. The members were David Vangilder, Jennie Vangilder, E. F. Dehart, L. A. Dehart, J. A. Williams, J. Chapman, M. Chapman, C. Gunn, Cath. Gunn, M. B. Torrance, Mary Conklin, Rhoda Chapman, Eliza J. Altman, W. H. Dehart, John R. Conklin, C. B. Torrance, Sarah J. Morey. Their church was built in the spring of 1875, at a cost of $1,700. Rev. J. W. Coe served six months. He was followed by Rev. P. S. Garrettson, who took charge September, '75, and is the present pastor. There are at present thirty-five members and a Sabbath school of thirty-five scholars.

NEW HOPE.

The Predestinarian Baptist Church was organized in 1836, at the house of Caleb Hedges. The earliest meetings were held at this house, also the Downie School-house. Among the original members were Joseph Rogers and wife, John Murphy, B. Lewis, and John Riggs. All the original members are supposed to be dead, except John Riggs.

This Church has had three pastors, namely, Rev. Charles Vandiveer, who served several years, Rev. George Tracy, and Rev. I. N. Vanneter, their present pastor. The clerks were Wm. Gunter, R. M. Simmons, and Alfred W. Simmons. The present deacons are John Vandiveer, and Andrew W. Simmons. Elder, R. W. Simmons. There are now thirty-nine members.

Berwick Lodge, No. 619, A. F. & A. M.—Officers: R. H. Shelton W. M.; J. M. Norris, S. W.; Leander Giddings, J. W.; E. A. Hearnkess, Secy.; Geo. Berrington, Tres. Meets at Cameron every second and fourth Thursday evenings.

EIGHTY-THIRD INFANTRY.

The Eighty-Third Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Monmouth, Ills., in August, 1862, by Col. A. C. Harding, and mustered in August 21. Moved from camp August 25, via Burlington and St. Louis to Cairo, arriving 29th, and reporting to Brigadier General Tuttle, commanding post. Sept. 3d moved to Fort Henry and on the 5th, leaving two companies at Fort Heiman and three at Fort Henry, moved to Fort Donelson, where the headquarters of the regiment remained during the year; Colonel W. W. Lowe, 5th Iowa Cavalry, commanding Brigade.

The companies from Forts Henry and Heiman subsequently rejoined the regiment, and it remained at Fort Donelson until Sept. 20, 1863, when the right wing moved to Clarksville. The regiment had heavy guard duty to perform, and as the whole country, especially the banks of the Tennessee and Cumberland Rivers, were infested with guerrillas, had daily skirmishes with the enemy, some of them quite severe as at Waverly (Tennessee) and at Garrettsburg (Kentucky) where the lamented General Ransom, then colonel of the Eleventh Illinois, had command.

On the 3d Feb. 1863, at Fort Donelson, nine companies of the Eighty-third with Company C, Second Illinois Light Artillery, successfully resisted the attack of Forrest and Wheeler, with eight thousand men, the battle lasted from 1:30 p. m. until 8:30 p. m. when the enemy were compelled to retire with a loss of eight hundred killed and wounded. The loss of the Regiment was 13 killed and 51 wounded. Colonel Harding was promoted to Brigadier General for gallant conduct on this occasion and Lieutenant Colonel A. A. Smith to Colonel. While at Clarksville, the Regiment was engaged in several expeditions under Major General L. H. Rosseau, in pursuit of Forrest and Wheeler who were attempting the destruction of General Sherman's communications.

During the year 1864, the Regiment had some two hundred miles of communications to guard, and much heavy patrol duty. During the winter of 1864-5 the Eighty-third was on provost duty at Nashville, Tennessee.

On the 26th June, 1865, was mustered out at Nashville and moved for Chicago, Ills., Brevet Brigadier General Arthur A. Smith commanding, where it received final pay and discharge.
